(d) If the attention of the Government has not been drawn to this judgment, will the Government be pleased to refer to it and take early steps to remedy the evil?

The Hon'ble MR. A. M. BOSE asked—

With reference to the following summing up as to the effects of the change to the Madras system in connection with the manufacture of indigenous salt in Orissa, which occurs in paragraph 97 of the Administration Report of the Commissioner of that Division (vide Calcutta Gazette of 23rd October last), viz. :—

"That the system has injured Orissa by destroying a local industry.

"That the system does not lend itself to work harmoniously with the Bengal system of civil administration.

"That much petty harassment has been perpetrated in pursuit of a chimerical object.

"That the main object of the change has not been attained after nine years of trial, in that the consumption is actually less than it was before the new system was introduced.

"That financially it involves a loss of revenue."

and to the Commissioner's recommendation for return to the old system of salt administration, will the Government be pleased to state if any inquiry has been instituted or other action taken in connection with the subject ?

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY replied :—

"(a) The question of transferring the administration of the Salt Department in Orissa from Madras to Bengal is now under consideration in communication with the Government of India.

"(b) The Hon'ble Member is understood to refer to the gradual withdrawal of licenses for the manufacture of panga salt in Orissa. This policy was deliberately adopted in 1884, with the concurrence of the Government of India, experience having shown that panga manufacture is difficult of supervision and dangerous to the revenue, while the salt which it produces cannot compete on even terms with other kinds of salt.

"(c) and (d) The attention of the Government had not been drawn to the judgment quoted, but in connection with somewhat similar cases, the question of amending the salt law for the whole of Bengal, including Orissa, is now under consideration in communication with the Government of India."

LICENSE AND DISTILLERY FEES.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

(a) The revenue derived from license and distillery fees and duties for the sale of liquors and drugs shows a steady tendency to increase. The actuals for 1894-95 under this head were Rs. 96,21,000 ; the revised estimates for 1895-96 bring the figure up to Rs. 1,03,03,000. The budget estimates for 1896-97 have been fixed at the same figure. Will the Government be pleased to state how much of this revenue was derived from outstills in 1894-95 and in 1895-96 ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to give the number of outstills in 1893-94, 1894-95, and 1895-96 ?

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY replied :—

"The receipts from outstills in 1894-95 were Rs. 29,92,913, but the figures for 1895-96 cannot be given, as the accounts of the year have not been closed. In framing revised estimates, separate estimates are not prepared of receipts under the different heads, so that it is impossible now to give details of the estimated total of Rs. 1,03,03,000 in 1895-96.

"The number of outstills in 1893-94 was 2,009, and in 1894-95, 2,038, but the former figure does not include 34 branch shops for which separate licenses were not issued in that year. If these be added, the net result is a reduction of 5 outstills in 1894-95. The returns for 1895-96 have not been received by Government."

MIDNAPORE CANAL.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

The receipts from the Midnapore Canal show a steady tendency to increase, while the working charges have risen from Rs. 2,16,000 (the actuals for 1894-95) to Rs. 3,04,000, the budget estimates for 1896-97, the revised figures for 1895-96 not being given. The actuals under the head of receipts for 1894-95 were Rs. 2,95,000, the revised estimates for 1895-96 were Rs. 2,77,000, the receipts for 1896-97 have been estimated for Rs. 2,40,000. Explanation is solicited as to the reason of this steady decrease in the receipts, and of the increase in the working charges?

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY replied:—

"The decrease in the receipts from the Midnapore Canal is caused by the falling off in water-rates owing to seasons of favourable rainfall and consequent reduction in the leased area, and also to a number of long leases having expired in the years 1893-94 and 1894-95 and not having been renewed. The receipts under Navigation in 1894-95 showed a marked increase over previous years. It is expected that the actuals for 1895-96 will exceed the revised estimate, and the budget estimate for 1896-97 anticipates receipts from Navigation equal to those of 1894-95.

"During the last two years heavy expenditure has been incurred under the heads of maintenance and tools and plant owing to extensive repairs required for the distributaries, renewal of lock-gates, and thorough repairs to dredging plant.

"An increase of some Rs. 30,000 under the head of establishment is mainly apparent, and is due to the distribution of the whole Irrigation Establishment under various heads of account."

NUMBER OF MUNSIFS IN BENGAL.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

(a) From a statement submitted to this Council on the 23rd March, 1895, it will be seen that the number of Munsifs has been increased from 262 in 1890 to 289 in 1893, and that the number of cases, contested and uncontested, has risen from 407,809 in 1890 to 523,825 in 1893, the contested cases under the Small Cause Court procedure showing an increase of nearly 50 per cent., being 11,168 in 1890 and 21,610 in 1893. The number of Munsifs was increased from 1890 to 1893 by about 10 per cent., but the number of cases increased by nearly 25 per cent. Having regard to the frequent postponements which take place in connection with cases tried by Munsifs for the delay and inconveniences to which the public are thereby subjected, will the Government be pleased to add to the number of Munsifs, corresponding to the increase which has taken place in the number of cases, so that they may be able to cope with the work.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of Munsifs employed in 1894-95 and 1895-96, and the number of cases disposed of by them, showing the number of contested and uncontested cases in each year and the average number of cases disposed of per Munsif?

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON replied:—

"(a) The figures quoted by the Hon'ble Member lead to misconception unless the details of which they are made up are also considered. Comparing the figures of 1890 with those of 1894, the last year for which figures are available, the details are as follows:—

Year.	Number of Munsifs	Original disputes disposed of under ordinary procedure.		Original suits disposed of under Small Cause Court Procedure.		Total
		Contested.	Uncontested.	Contested.	Uncontested
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1894	292	87,883	270,340	24,382	159,281	541,886

"The average total number of cases disposed of by a Munsif was 1,556 in 1890 and 1,855 in 1894. This appears to be a large increase, but if details are examined it will be found that the average number of contested cases under the ordinary procedure has increased from 294 to 301 only, and the average number of contested cases of all classes from 336 to 384. The increase in the work done by Munsifs is principally in cases under the Small Cause Court Procedure and is due to the change of policy under which Munsifs are now generally vested with powers under the Small Cause Courts Act. But these cases are generally uncontested, and, when contested, are tried by a summary procedure. The increase of work per Munsif in contested cases under the ordinary procedure is very slight and is certainly not greater than has devolved upon officers in all branches of the service. To increase the number of Munsifs on the principle proposed by the Hon'ble Member would impose a unnecessary additional expenditure on the public revenues, and the Government is not prepared to comply with the suggestion.

"(b) The statistics for judicial work are furnished by the High Court for the calendar year, and figures of the year 1895 are not yet available. The figures for 1894 have already been stated in the answer."

LAND REVENUE CHARGES.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

The actuals for charges of district administration under the heading of "Land Revenue" show a steady increase. They were Rs. 31,11,000 for 1894-95, the revised estimate for 1895-96 came up to Rs. 31,60,000, the budget estimates for 1896-97 have been fixed at Rs. 32,28,000. In the explanation it is stated that the increase is mainly due to a special provision of Rs. 50,000 for the purchase of a sea-going vessel for the Commissioner of the Sunderbans. If this sum be deducted from the budget estimates, they would still show an increase of Rs. 18,000 over the revised estimate for 1895-96. An explanation is solicited as to this increase of expenditure, and also why it should now be deemed necessary to provide the Commissioner of the Sunderbans with a sea-going vessel?

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY replied:—

"The increase of Rs. 18,000 referred to is spread over the following items:—Annual increments to the salaries of ministerial officers, travelling allowance, municipal rates and taxes on Government buildings, feed and keep of elephants, and purchase of tents.

"The steamer for which a special provision of Rs. 50,000 has been made in the budget is required for the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, who spends from six to eight months of every year on tour in the large rivers and on the sea-face of the Sundarbans, and has to take with him, for the purpose of surveying waste land grants, some eighty or ninety persons with supplies of food and water and valuable maps and instruments belonging to Government. Under existing arrangements, much time and money is wasted by employing country-boats which at certain seasons are unsafe in the large rivers, and it is believed that the provision of a steamer will materially facilitate the opening up of the Sundarbans."

PREVENTIVE ESTABLISHMENT IN SALT TRACTS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

Under the head of "Salt" (page 20, Appendix B), the budget estimates for 1896-97 provide an expenditure of Rs. 1,03,000 for salaries, establishment and contingencies. This represents an increase of Rs. 51,000 over the revised estimate for 1895-96. In the explanation which is given it is stated that the estimate includes a provision of Rs. 50,000 for a preventive establishment in the salt tracts. Will the Government be pleased to state whether this is to be a yearly charge upon a permanent establishment, and why it has now been found necessary to entertain this preventive establishment?

The Hon'ble Mr. Risley replied:—

"Reports have been received alleging that illicit salt is manufactured on a large scale in certain coast districts, and it may be necessary to strengthen the existing preventive establishment either permanently or experimentally for a term of years.

"The matter is under consideration in communication with the Government of India."

INCOME-TAX COLLECTION.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked—

The charges for the collection of income-tax show a steady increase. The actuals for 1894-95 were Rs. 1,81,000, the revised estimates for 1895-96 were Rs. 1,84,000, and the budget estimates for 1896-97 have been fixed at Rs. 1,91,000. An explanation is solicited as to the cause of this increase?

The Hon'ble Mr. Risley replied:—

"The increase is due partly to the natural growth of the tax, involving the employment of a larger establishment and higher charges for travelling allowance, partly to the adjustment under this head of the salaries of occasional and temporary poons which were formerly charged against Land Revenue, and partly to the progressive increase of the salary of the Collector of Calcutta and the employment of two additional clerks under him."

REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked—

Under "Registration" the budget estimates for 1896-97 provide an expenditure of Rs 58,000 for superintendence, which represents an increase of Rs. 7,000 over the revised estimate for 1895-96 and the actuals for 1894-95. In the explanation it is stated that provision is made for the salaries and allowances of higher paid officers as Inspectors. Will the Government be pleased to state the number of Inspectors and the salaries and average allowances now drawn by each, together with the salaries and average allowances proposed to be paid to each? Will the increased salaries and allowances be given to the existing staff of Inspectors, or is it proposed to employ a new staff?

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton replied:—

"The increase in the Budget estimate for 1896-97 is principally on account of the salaries of the Inspector-General and Inspectors of Registration offices. In 1895-96 a smaller provision was made, as the appointment of the Inspector-General was held by a Statutory Civilian who was entitled to draw only Rs. 960 a month: the present incumbent, who is a member of the Provincial Service, draws Rs. 1,200 a month. In regard to the Inspectors, the smaller expenditure in 1894-95 and 1895-96 was due to the appointment of junior officers to act during the absence of Mr. Beames on deputation and of Babu Hari Chaitanya Ghose on leave. The estimate for 1896-97 provides for full salaries of permanent incumbents; there is, however, likely to be a saving on this head, as Mr. Beames has again been placed on deputation.

"There are two Inspectors of Registration whose salaries amount to Rs. 800 and Rs. 600 a month respectively, and it is not proposed to increase the sanctioned charges on this account."

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE POLICE COMMISSION.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked—

Will the Government be pleased to state what further action has been taken by the Government in the course of the current year 1895-96, over and above what was stated by the Government in this Council on the 30th March, 1895, in reply to a question asked in this connection, to give effect to the recommendations of the Police Commission?

The Hon'ble Mr. COTTON replied:—

"In the statement made in Council on the 30th March, 1895, it was observed that the Government had already sanctioned the expenditure of Rs. 4,29,147 per annum to give effect to the recommendations of the Police Commission, and that a further sum of Rs. 80,168 would be expended in 1895-96, making a total additional expenditure in that year of Rs. 5,09,315. All the proposals of the Commission which were accepted by Government have now been carried out, and nothing remains to be done but the gradual substitution of Sub-Inspectors for Head Constables. This important change is being introduced at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, and the recurring additional charge on this account every year is estimated at Rs. 28,206."

	Rs.
Increase of 463 constables ...	45,427
Ditto of 22 Reserve Sub-Inspectors	6,535
One-tenth cost of substituting Sub-Inspectors for Head Constables	28,206

VETERINARY SCHOOL AT BELGATCHIA.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

Under the head of "Veterinary School Charges," the actuals for 1894-95 were Rs. 14,000, the revised estimates for 1895-96 have been fixed at Rs. 18,000. Has the Government received any petition from the students of the Veterinary School at Belgatchia? What action has the Government taken in connection with this petition? Does the Government propose to raise the school to the position of the Veterinary School at Bombay, or even to that of Lahore?

The Hon'ble MR. BOLTON replied:—

"The petition referred to has been received by the Government, and it is under consideration, together with the question of raising the status of the Veterinary School, in connection with proposals for the organization of a Civil Veterinary Department in Bengal."

QUARTERS FOR MILITARY ASSISTANT SURGEONS, Etc.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

(a) Under "Civil Works in charge of Public Works Department" a sum of Rs. 90,000 has been devoted for the construction of quarters for Military Assistant Surgeons. Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons why it has now been found necessary to build quarters for the Military Assistant Surgeons?

(b) Will the Government, in view of periodical outbreaks of small-pox and cholera in Calcutta, take into its consideration the propriety of providing hospitals for cholera and small-pox patients?

"By the terms of their service, Military Assistant Surgeons are entitled to be provided with quarters. The existing quarters at the General Hospital were condemned many years ago as unfit for their purpose, and their reconstruction has been deferred hitherto merely on financial grounds.

"In Calcutta small-pox cases are treated in a special ward attached to the Campbell Hospital, where the accommodation comprises 77 beds, and can be extended indefinitely. Cholera cases are dealt with in the contagious wards of the Medical College and Presidency General Hospitals. Most of the larger hospitals and dispensaries in the mufassal have separate buildings for infectious or contagious cases. On the whole the provision for the treatment of diseases of this kind is believed to be sufficient. Temporary accommodation can easily be run up to meet exceptionally severe epidemics. By section 37(5) (h) of the Calcutta Municipal Act, the Commissioners are required to make adequate and suitable provision for preventing or checking the spread of dangerous diseases."

BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1896-97.

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY moved for the discussion of the Bengal Financial Statement for 1896-97.

The Hon'ble BABU GURU PROSHAD SEN said:—"The discussion on the budget, as probably in other matters in this Council, has only, in my humble opinion, an academic interest. However strong we may feel in our views on the financial statement, it is not for us to move the slightest amendments in the most trifling items. Then there is a limitation, under which the discussion in this Council is to go on, and which, I respectfully submit, render a free and full discussion impossible. Under the rule it is not permissible to a member of this Council to enter upon a criticism of Imperial finances, even when the Imperial and Provincial finances are so closely connected and are so interdependent, that to trace out the effect in the one you have to go for the cause in the other. Again, we are privileged to discuss on those branches of revenue and expenditure which are under the control of the Local Government. Some of the budget heads of Revenue are one and the same, and this very limited discussion must be taken in hand with a trembling heart, for there would be no knowing when one would not render himself liable to be called to order for trenching on forbidden grounds. Again, those who claim themselves to be experts in our financial matters, and who certainly have all those informations before them which are not available to the public, are likely to consider such discussion as crude, even if not impertinent. Yet, Sir, I feel it my duty to avail myself of the privilege and to make a few observations on the financial statement, if for nothing else but to respectfully draw the attention of your Honour's Government to certain figures and facts.

"Turning to the receipt side, it is clear that there has been such a great expansion of our Revenue on Excise and Stamps, as to give rise to a suspicion that this expansion is not quite normal.

"The Excise Revenue under all heads in the year 1894-95 was 1,25,59,064; it was 133 lakhs in 1895-96 as against a total of Excise Revenue of Rs 97,75,519 of the year 1882-83. Out of the Excise Revenue of 125½ lakhs of the year 1894-95, Rs. 55½ lakhs were contributed by the outstill and distillery spirits. In 1882 83 the outstill and the distilleries contributed 48 lakhs. I take the year 1882-83 as our excise system came under review because of the results of that year. I shall subsequently show that both the consumption and revenue since the last five years are increasing by leaps and bounds, as it did for some years up to 1884-85. In December 1883 a Commission was appointed to examine the question of our excise system, with regard to the country-manufactured spirits. This was the Excise Commission of 1883-84. The Resolution of the Government of Bengal in appointing the Commission, states:—"It is unnecessary here to recapitulate all that has been said against and in favour of the outstill system, which is in force over practically the whole area of the Province outside Calcutta and its environs. One thing is clear that there has been a serious increase in drinking among the people. That increase is not confined to the area under the outstill system; but that it has has taken place throughout a great part of that area is not open to question. Whether the causes in operation are the same as those which have caused the increase in the smaller area under the Sadar distillery, or whether there are special causes, either inherent in the system or brought into force by the present application, it is impossible for Government to allow this increase in drinking to continue without making every effort to ascertain their causes, and, if possible, to remove them. No considerations of Revenue can be allowed to outweigh the paramount duty of Government to prevent the spread of intemperance, so far as it may be possible to do so." These were words dictated by the highest considerations for the welfare of a subject people by a paternal Government, and in pursuance thereof, a searching enquiry, lasting for the best portion of a year, was made by a body of competent officials, who were generally credited as being experts on the subject. They found that there was an increase in the consumption of every excisable article, with the exception of rum to a greater or less extent throughout Bengal. They found that in almost all the tracts to which the outstill system was extended, this increase was very largely due to faults in the working of the system, chief among which was the suspension in 1878 of the long-established rule limiting the capacity of stills. They found it clearly established that this led to a great and undue cheapening of distilled liquor. They were of opinion that there are two diametrically opposite principles underlying all systems of excise, one of which was irredeemably bad and the other sound. The former they described as forming the right to manufacture liquor without any practical restriction, and the latter is the limitation by various means of the the quantity manufactured, and in some way adjusting the amount of revenue realized to the quantity. They therefore recommended, firstly, that whenever there is a large population of drinkers in a comparatively small and easily-defined area, with a trustworthy supervision agency available, the best system is undoubtedly to tax every gallon manufactured, according to the alcoholic strength; secondly, they recommended the following modified system for a number of municipal towns, where they were unable to recommend the re-establishment of central distilleries. All the stills required for such town they suggested should be grouped within one enclosure, the property of Government, for which rent should be charged. The enclosures should be situated outside the inhabited parts of the town, where it would not likely cause nuisance; no retail sale should be allowed at the place of manufacture. Much care should be exercised in the selection of sites for retail shops, both in cities and other municipal towns, and the wishes of the municipal Commissioners on the subject should invariably receive full consideration; thirdly, they recommended that there should be fixed for each district a maximum capacity for all outstills in that district to be fixed in the first instance by the Board of Revenue, and not increased afterwards without the permission of the Board. The local authorities should fix the number of outstills and the size of each still, subject to the approval of the Board, and to the limit as to the aggregate capacity of their districts. The upset price of each still should be proportionate to its working capacity, and should be calculated on the basis of the duty which could be levied on its outturn at a given strength, the rate of such being fixed by Government for each district; fourthly, that the aggregate capacity of the fermenting vats allowed to each still should be also fixed and should in no case be more than ten times the estimated quantity required for one day's distilation; fifthly, a majority of the Commission (Mr. Reiley dissenting) recommended that a minimum price should be fixed for the cheapest sort of liquor, and that this price should vary according to the circumstances of different districts and the prices now prevailing in them. As a rule the price should nowhere be less than 2 annas for a quart bottle; but in some tracts, when the cheapest price is now very low, the increase should be gradual, and should be less than 2 annas at first. It should be nowhere fixed lower than the rate prevailing at present at the place.

"Then followed several minor recommendations. The revenue came down or rather remained stationary for three or four years, on account of the establishment of distilleries, and the imposition of restriction on outstills. While the excise revenue in 1882-83 was 99½ lakhs and in 1883-84 104 lakhs, the average from 1883—88 was less than 99 lakhs (Rs. 98,94,803). The revenue from country spirits fell off from 52 lakhs of 1883-84 to an average of 49 lakhs. There were not many established cases of smuggling or illicit distillation; not more than in the period when the system of outstills was the only system current. At this point, the wisdom of the suggestion of Excise Commission came to be doubted, and the salutary restrictions imposed on the recommendations of the Excise Commission—at least the principal ones amongst these—have been one by one removed. Thus the principal recommendation was the re-establishment of the distillery system, in cases where there was a large population of drinkers in a comparatively small and easily-defined area; but the change did not find favour with the department. Referring to the merits of outstills and central distilleries, the Commissioner of Excise, in his report of the year 1890-91, observes:—'The change has, in my opinion, been introduced too hastily, and in some tracts should not have been made at all.' Again, in 1893-94, he observes—'The question of the heavy decline of the distillery revenue in Bihar has for sometime been receiving very careful attention. It was treated at some length in paragraphs 88 and 89 of the last Annual Report, and shortly after formed the subject of a special report to the Board in September 1893. The distillery system has raised the price of country spirits, and thereby diminished consumption, and the receipt from duty; but the cause of sobriety has not been served, for there is too much reason to believe that there is increased consumption of contraband liquor besides tari.' In the next sentence it is stated in the report that the cases of illicit distillation, or of smuggling outstill liquor, is not large, but this statement is tried to be softened down by the further statement that such cases are most difficult of detection. Then the conclusion stated is that the right policy in dealing with the case of Bihar is not to bring on compulsory abstention, but to afford people reasonable facilities for obtaining their favourite drink legitimately and at a moderate price.

"These reasonable facilities, under an assumption of increased illicit distillation for which, as is seen above, there is not the slightest proof, are proposed to be given to an urban population, amongst whom only the distillery system prevails, and where, if such cases of illicit distillation were to exist, every such case could be detected by the strong supervising agency and the police force there existing, and already the facilities for obtaining the favourite drink by the process of cheapening is being tried even in distilleries by the reduction of duty, by the reduction of distillery fee, by the reduction even of the license fee; for we learn from the report that from 1st April 1892 the duty has been reduced from Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 2 in all the districts of the Patna Division, and in Monghyr and Bhagulpur from Rs. 3 to Rs. 2; the burden of distillery fee has also been lightened since the 1st November 1893. The report says:—'It is not easy to regulate license fees, as they are subjected to auction; yet they were reduced or kept down in 1893-94.' A like reduction has also been made in some parts of the Burdwan Division.

"But even this apparently is not held to be satisfactory. From the report of 1893-94 I find that the number of distilleries has been in that year reduced from 34 to 32 and from the report of 1894-95, that it has gone down to 30. While the distilleries are being abolished, the number of outstills is steadily rising. It was 1,719 in 1890-91, it is 2,038 in 1894-95. It appears from the report of 1890-91 that outstills were abolished in the Burdwan Division; but from the report of 1894-95, I find 42 outstills established in 1891-92, and in 1894-95 there were 44. In the Patna Division, including Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Hazaribagh, the outstills in 1891-92 were 855; the number has in 1894-95 risen to 1072, besides 150 shops supplied by the distilleries; and if we proceed at this rate, the number will, in the course of a year or so, outstrip the figure of liquor shops we had at the date when the Excise Commissioners made their report.

"A salutary recommendation of the Excise Commission, with respect to outstills, was to group together all the outstills for each town within an enclosure outside the inhabited parts. No attempt seems to have been made to put this suggestion into effect. Not only does this abate nuisances in several parts of a municipal town, but it adds to the other expenses, the cost of carriage, and serves to keep up the price of outstill liquor; and, what is more to the purpose, does not supply the customers a warm drink, which, according to popular impression, is the chief attraction of outstills.

"The Commissioners considered that in almost all the tracts to which the outstill system has been extended, the increase has been very largely due to faults in the working of the system—chief among which has been the suspension in 1878 of the long-established rule limiting the capacity of stills. They considered it clearly established that this had led to a great and undue cheapening of distilled liquor. They condemned the system as irredeemably bad, under which the right to manufacture is farmed without any practical restrictions on the amount which the farmer is entitled to make, and therefore one of their chief recommendations was the limiting of the capacity of the outstills. In 1890-91, the limitation of the capacity of stills and fermenting vessels was receiving close attention. It is said in that year's report 'When fees were reduced, capacities were reduced also, and the outcry raised by the abkars show that the restriction was really felt.' The revenue, however, fell off, though, of course, there were not a greater number of cases of illicit distillation, and the restrictions on the number and capacity of vats, and the maximum capacity of vats were removed in 1893-94.

"The further recommendation of the Excise Commission was with regard to the fixing of a minimum retail price for outstill liquor. The recommendation of the Commission having been tried as an experimental measure in some specified localities, was found to be a success, and was generally adopted. The effect was to keep up the price of country liquor to some extent, and to check the amount of drunkenness, as it was intended to do, but it was found to affect the revenue from outstills, and we find, from the report of 1894-95, that the rule prescribing a minimum price has been done away with everywhere.

"Another recommendation of the Excise Commission was with regard to sites, but though it is said to be receiving attention, the department has views of its own, which are calculated, at no distant date, to remove all the restrictions under this head. Thus, in the excise report of 1890-91, we find the Excise Commissioner remarking:—'I think that in many cases there has been too much yielding to objections: deference to local option must be consistent with law and order, and local option is not always sufficiently enlightened to command respect': this, in reference to Calcutta and its neighbourhood. The report proceeds:—'We cannot allow a few temperance fanatics to cut off the supply of drink from a population of several thousands, among whom there is a strong demand for spirits.' Their extreme number, according to the report of the Excise Commissioner, taking every man in certain castes addicted to drink to be a drinker, and reckoning also a certain portion of women in the caste, cannot exceed, so far as the consumers of country spirits is concerned, a million and-a-half out of a population of 70 millions. As for temperance fanatics, we have in the report:—'In obedience to orders, I have forbidden the continuance of the liquor shops within half a-mile of the Hooghly Railway Station, because the railway authorities objected to it.' But it is added:—'I did not recommend the measure.'

"Then there were certain other recommendations of the Excise Commission regarding the hours at which shops are to remain open, the strict prohibition regarding the supply of liquor to any person under 12 years of age, with reference to which no light is thrown by the reports. It is to be hoped that at least these salutary restrictions are being enforced.

"What have we got. Simultaneously with the withdrawal of the restrictions and limitations recommended by the Excise Commission and partially adopted, an expansion of the excise revenue thus:—

1890-91	...	One hundred and four lakhs and-a-half (104½ lakhs);
1891-92	...	Ditto and eleven lakhs and a quarter (111¼ lakhs);
1892-93	...	Ditto and about sixteen lakhs (115,92,467);
1893-94	...	Ditto and twenty-one lakhs and a quarter;
1894-95	...	Ditto and twenty-five lakhs and-a-half (125½ lakhs);

and the contribution from the country spirits has been—

1890-91	...	...	...	45¼ lakhs;
1891-92	...	...	...	48 „
1892-93	...	...	...	50¼ „
1893-94	...	...	...	52½ „
1894-95	...		...	55½ „

and of this the contributions from outstills have been—

1890-91	...	...	...	21 lakhs.
1892-93	...	...	...	26¼ lakhs.
1893-94	...	...	...	28 „
1894-95	..	...	...	30 „ (29,92 thousands)

"There, again, has been an absolute increase of consumption, as the following figures will show. Average of consumption in gallons of London-proof outstill spirits:—

From 1888-93	...	...	...	981,407 L.P.
In 1894-95	...	...	...	1,308,523 „
Increase	...	...	...	327,036 „

Distillery—

From 1888-93	...	...	...	404,892 L.P.
In 1894-95	...	...	...	455,595 „
Increase	...	...	...	50,703 „

"These figures also show that while the increase in distillery spirits, notwithstanding the reduction of fixed duty, the distillery fees and license fees, have been at the rate of 1 to 9; the increase in the consumption of outstill spirits is at the rate of 1 to 4.

"Another source of our revenue which is receiving an extraordinary development, is the revenue on stamps. From the average of three years ending in 1890, Rs. 137 lakhs, it had risen to 147 lakhs on the average of the three years ending in 1893, and in the following year, 1893-94, it had risen to 160 lakhs. The present figure is 167 lakhs. The greatest part of this revenue is contributed under the Court Fees Act, not, as is ordinarily supposed, by our well-to-do people, who can afford for the luxury of litigation, but by the poorer classes of our community, who cannot do so. In 1894, when the total number of suits exceeded the number of suits instituted in 1890 by 22·3 per cent. out of a total number of 558,593 suits, 235 thousands were suits between landlords and tenants, and 210 thousands were suits for money of a Small Cause Court nature. A considerable portion of the remainder—title and other suits—must also have been those in which our poor men were interested. More than half of these are shown from the figures to have been raiyats, and outside Calcutta (figures which I have taken from the report of the administration of Civil Justice, Head 11, refer to the mufassal only), those of our poor people who go to law, or are forced to law, are almost all agriculturists. The interest of the poor and agricultural portion of our community, whom the costliness of litigation is impoverishing, demands that the extraordinary expansion of our stamp revenues for the Administration of Civil Justice should receive a check. Out of the number of 574,225 suits instituted in 1894, 199,625 were withdrawn, compromised or confessed, 254,334 were decreed ex-parte, and only 120,167 were contested; but the court-fees were paid and were retained by Government, as in hardly contested suits. Again, in petty suits court-fees on plaints form the smallest portion of our stamp-fees realised in courts, for out of the total court-fees revenue realised in our mufassal courts, 87 lakhs, the process-fees in suits amounted to 22 lakhs, and the process-fees in suits, whether of small or large value, are the same. This figure represents the process-fees of the civil courts alone. I have not by me the figure of the process-fees realised in the Revenue Courts and offices, but I was told the other day it was 4 lakhs. So out of the revenue of one hundred and odd lakhs realised under the Court Fees Act, more than a fourth part is realised as process-fees, the rates of which are not fixed by any of the Legislative bodies in this country, but by circular orders. Out of the process-fees realised in the Civil Courts, only about 7 lakhs and 31 thousand were spent on process-servers, and the nett profit to Government amounted to 14 lakhs and-a-half. In this at least, if not elsewhere, relief ought to be granted; but the nett profit out of a stamp revenue realised in our Civil Courts of 87 lakhs, after paying 41 lakhs for all charges, amount to 46 lakhs, and this makes out a clear case for relief, by way of refund at least, in suits below Rs. 500 in which the poor and agricultural people are concerned, of half, if not the whole, of court-fees, in cases compromised, in cases in which judgments are confessed, and in cases which are decided ex-parte. Furthermore, there is a tendency to multiply petition-fees, which ought to be checked. The largest number of stamps sold is of 8 annas. I find their number from the last of the triennial reports on stamp revenue to have been of the value of 22½ lakhs, and they have doubtless risen by some lakhs now. These are, for the most part, used for petitions. But it will perhaps be said that the fullest relief is in the hands of the people themselves. They need not resort to our law courts. This may be said of excise duties as well. Only there is this difference; in the case of excise the payment of the duty rests entirely on the will of the man himself, but in the case of litigation it rests not only on the will of the man himself, but of an enemy as well. Probably the mass of contentious and non-contentious cases was about equal now and before, barring, of course, developments arising out of a more complex state of society we are day by day stepping in, and further developments arising out of some recent acts of our legislatures; only many of these contentions in India used to be settled before by our village Panchayets. So far as Bengal is concerned, these Panchayets are, as an institution of the country dead, and in Bihar, too, they are dying, if not for active hostility, but for want of support. Revive them, and never let any money-suit or rent-suit below a certain amount, say Rs. 50, to come into our courts ,unless the panchayets certify that they cannot decide them; but if the voice of our revived panchayet is again to be the voice of God, as it was deemed of old by our people to be, our panchayets must dispense justice, without the institution fees, the process-fees, and the petition fees, as they did of old.

"Looking to the expenditure side of this budget, it is clear that there has been a too great contraction on some of the useful items. I take the item of education. Here, again, there was a commission composed of a body of experts, official and non-official, sitting for a considerable portion of a year, to discuss the various problems and to examine the question in detail. The Bengal Provincial Committee reported (paragraph 460, page 165)—

'We cannot close this report without adding to the recommendations therein put forward an expression of our deliberate opinion that, quite independently of any efforts which the people may hereafter make for the promotion of education in various directions, increased expenditure on the part of Government is necessary, if education is to progress at a rate corresponding to the advancing requirements of the country. For the spread and improvement of primary education; for a due increase in the machinery of inspection; for an enhanced provision for scholarships to enable boys to advance to higher stages of instruction; for a far wider spread of university education; for a more liberal scale of grants-in-aid, and for the promotion of education among girls (they might have added, for the opening of technical schools, which they had elsewhere recommended), for all these objects more liberal assignments are urgently demanded, if the requirements of the time are to be met, and if a comparison with European standards is to be justified. The amount of any further grants that may be made by Government for the promotion of these objects depends of course upon financial and political considerations, with which we have no concern; we have merely to express our opinion as to the need that seems to us to exist for an increased educational allotment * * *. We have no means of knowing what proportion of the State revenue is devoted to education of different classes in European countries and in America, but we have grounds for believing that the educational allotments in these countries are framed on a far more liberal scale than in Bengal. And we cannot refrain from expressing an earnest hope that means may be found, either from Provincial revenues or from additional Imperial assignments, for meeting, in a more adequate manner, the necessities of this Province.'

"This recommendation for increase was made in the year 1884-85, when the Education Commission was sitting, and when the allotment from Provincial revenues for education was Rs. 34,07,000. Sir A. W. Croft was appointed two years after, i.e., in 1886, to write a review of education in India with special reference to the report of the Education Commission. In his review, page 212, he says:—

'In September 1884, the Government of Bengal, in reporting to the Government of India upon the proposals of the Education Commission, admitted its responsibility for increased expenditure on education to the amount, finally, of Rs. 14 lakhs a year, if the recommendations of the Commission were to be carried out in anything like completeness. Of the total increase, 10 lakhs were to be devoted to the direct improvement of primary schools. After a review of the ways and means at his disposal, the Lieutenant-Governor estimated that at the then existing rate of development of the revenue, he would be able to work up to the total additional grant required in nine years by a continuous enhancement of the educational allotment to the amount approximately of Rs. 1,50,000 a year. The progress of events quickly falsified the anticipation of this letter. Urgent orders came from the Government of India to reduce expenditure, and education suffered along with other services. The allotment for education in the sanctioned estimates for 1885-86 was reduced to Rs. 33,07,000, or by exactly one lakh of rupees, and the actual expenditure of the year fell short of this by Rs. 22,000 as the result of repeated exhortations to further economy.'

"This was in 1886. Since then the budgetted allotment on education has fallen off considerably, and though under the Provincial contract of 1887-88, the contract assignment for expenditure on education was Rs. 32,46,000, the nett allotment minus receipts has never been more than 20 lakhs, except during the present year, when it is a little over 21 lakhs, and even if full credit be taken for the assignment of proceeds of the Cattle Trespass Act and Ferries Act to the District Boards, and expenditure by these Boards on education, the allotment falls short by a few lakhs of the allotment of 34 lakhs of the year 1884-85, when the Education Commission recommended an increase on the allotted grant.

"In the matter of charges in respect of collection, there was another Commission appointed in 1885, called the Salaries Commission. The Resolution appointing the Commission states:—

'Besides the question of the strength and occupation of ministerial establishments, the question of salaries has also to be considered. The question was considered in 1866 and 1867 by a Committee of which Mr. V. H. Schalch was President, and a new scale of salaries was brought into effect in 1868. Since that time, although there have been numerous alterations and improvements of a more or less restricted character, and although the pay of a very many individual officers had been increased, there has been no general or systematic revision of salaries. Meanwhile the rise in prices and in the cost of living, which was anticipated by Mr. Strachey in 1865, has continued at constantly accelerating speed, and for some time past signs have been apparent that the effects of the reforms introduced in 1868 have been exhausted, and that a further advance must be made if the ministerial service is to be maintained in a condition of efficiency.'

"The Commission, after a very thorough investigation, recommended an increase of salary of the ministerial officers in the revenue offices of about Rs. 30,000 a year, as also the reduction of establishment in some cases. If the reductions were not to come into effect, possibly the increase would have added to it a few thousands more. They based their recommendation on the fact that since 1868, the year in which the salaries have been fixed, the purchasing power of the rupee has been diminished by 75 per cent. In their report, page 208, they wrote:—'The homely proverb of cutting one's coat according to one's cloth might, with justice, be applied to them (ministerial officers and clerks), and they might be told that the number of young men, qualified by education for the public services, is now so great that Government would have no difficulty in obtaining any number of clerks at even lower salaries than are now paid * * * All this might undoubtedly be urged, but there are, we think, strong reasons why it would hardly be either wise or generous to press such an argument against the class of men we are dealing with. It would not be wise, because men encumbered with debt, distressed and discontented, cannot be expected to make efficient public servants. They may be led to eke out their scanty salaries by dishonest means and underhand practices * * *.

"While it is not wise, therefore, to press the argument above suggested, it is not also generous. In a very great majority of cases, these men cannot help themselves * *. When even the more independent inhabitants of civilised countries of Europe, are unable to resist the pressure of public opinion and the temptation to 'keep up appearances,' how can we expect the Hindu to do so, bound, as he is, by the strict rules of a religion, which lays down laws for every action of life, and subject, as he is, to the restraints of a social system of extreme rigidity.

"Paragraph 202, page 209, end—

'It now remains for us to determine the scale of salaries in the light of the foregoing remarks. Finding, as we do, that the cost of living may fairly be taken to have risen, in the aggregate, to 75 per cent. as compared with 1867, when the present scale of salaries was fixed, and that there are unmistakeable indication on all sides of a tendency upwards, we consider it desirable, not only in the interest of the officers concerned, but also in the interests of the service and of the public at large, that the scale should be raised as much in reference to the present and prospective rise in the cost of living as the state of the finances may permit, though an increase to the full extent of 75 per cent. would be more than could possibly be conceded by Government.'

"The Government of Bengal hold that, 'while on the whole, the cost of living has risen, it cannot accept the commission's estimate of the extent to which this has been the case. That the Lieutenant-Governor entertains the belief that in the classes from which amlas are taken, as in most other classes of the community, the standard of comfort has, in recent years, risen, and will continue to rise in the future; but the question whether it is so or not, is not, in his judgment, one which it is necessary for Government in the present connection to consider. From the enumerable applications which come upon the Government for employment in the Public Service in all its grades and departments, there can be little doubt that the supply of well-qualified and educated men far exceeds the appointments which are at the disposal of Government So long as the salaries offered suffice to secure the services of competent men, and do not fall conspicuously below the emoluments which similarly qualified men can secure elsewhere, the presumption must, he thinks, be that the present scale of pay is sufficiently high.' This was in April 1887, when the provincial allotment of public revenues was re-adjusted, and when there were repeated exhortations to further economy; but the doctrine of supply and demand herein propounded has since been in similar matters. notwithstanding financial pressure, been overruled by the highest authority, and it is nothing but just that, in the interest of these ministerial officers concerned, as also in the interest of service and of the public at large, the recommendation of the Salary Commission should now be adopted.

"Under head Law and Justice and General Administration, a salutary change—the separation of the judicial and executive services—is admitted to be very desirable on all hands, but it is said that it cannot be effected because of increased expenditure which it involves. The expenditure is, I believe, the addition of a few Deputy Magistrates for some of the outlaying subdivisions, and when there is a clear profit of 46 lakhs from the administration of civil justice and even of a few lakhs after all charges met for civil and criminal administration, there does not appear to be any reason why this desirable reform should not be at once introduced.

"Then, whatever the figures we have just heard may mean, I know from what I see that the Munsifs work from morning to evening, and some times later. They have no time for taking exercises, and some of them prematurely die of diabetes. They are a very hard worked class of officials. Here is relief needed: their number ought to be increased.

"Public Works, Buildings and Roads.—During the quinquennial period ending in 1886-87, the average expenditure in a year on buildings and roads was 42½ lakhs; during the next quinquennial period ending in 1891-92, the average came down to 35½ lakhs, and in 1892-93 it was 29 lakhs, and in 1893-94 it came down to about 27 lakhs Under the Local Self-Government Act, a portion of the charge on Education, on Medical and Public Works has been thrown on the District Boards; and the District Boards get the receipts on Cattle Trespass Act and the Ferries. The amount of receipts under these heads (Cattle Trespass 430 thousand and Ferries 394 thousand) is 8¼ lakhs. The expenditure is, of course, much more: and equilibrium is sought to be produced by contributions from the Provincial revenues, but these contributions plus the expenditure now directly incurred from the Provincial revenues, falls very short of the allotment from the Provincial revenues that used to be made in the quinquenial period ending in 1886-87.

"But if the growth of our revenue in excise, of which we share a fourth, and in stamps, of which we share three-fourth, is to be checked, and the expenditure on education collections, general administration, law and justice and public works is to be increased, how are we get on? Is it by imposing fresh taxes or in some other way? I submit, sir, taxation has reached its maximum limit, and it is simply impossible that fresh taxes could be raised. Bengal pays, I quote from Appropriation Statement, 1893-94—

		Rs.
Land revenue	...	3,87,14,000
Salt	...	2,37.41,000
Stamps	...	1,59,77,000
Excise	...	1,21,48,000
Provincial rates	...	87,82,000
Customs	...	54,09,000
Assessed taxes	...	43,30,000
Forest	...	8,02,000
Registration	...	13,89,000
Total	...	11,12,92,000

"This amounts to Re. 1-10 per head of population on the principal heads of our revenue, even if the revenue derived from the opium monopoly, most of which ought to be placed to the credit of Bengal, and what is known as the commercial heads of our revenue, were to be taken out of the accounts. In addition, Bengal pays certain other local taxes, the chaukidari, the zamindari dâk cess, the embankment cess, and the municipal rates and taxes which are not shown in the above account, and even if the average income per head of population was to be taken according to best economists and financiers to be Rs 27 per head of population, it scarcely leaves enough for diet at a rate at which our prisoners receive their diet at our jails.

"Where, then, is the remedy for this state of things? It lies in a region which I am forbidden to tread.

"Out of eleven crores and thirteen lakhs of revenues, the Provincial revenue, taking these heads only, amounted to, in the same year 1893-94, to 3 crores 16 lakhs, or a little over a fourth, and including all receipts under heads of expenditure with which the Provincial Government is charged, as also some of the commercial heads, such as Irrigation and Railways, for which, on the whole, the expenditure and receipts are about equal, we get Rs. 4,55,35,415 i.e., a little over a third) for all the requirements of Government, excepting army protection, interest on public debts, of which, however, a full sixteenth is now charged on the Bengal Provincial revenues (26 lakhs out of Rs. 4,06,59,000), and superior control here and in England.

"Again, sir, we expand, but we do not get the benefit of such expansion. We sow, but we do not reap. At the end of the last Quinquennial Settlement of Provincial Revenues, the revenue on the principal heads had come to 334 lakhs, at the re-settlement it was reduced in 1892-93 to 3 crores and 16 lakhs."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee said:—"While fully accepting the view put forward by my hon'ble friend that our debates in this Council are somewhat academic in their character, I do not go so far as to hold that they are devoid of interest and infructuous as to their result. The speeches made in this Council are published in the newspapers—they influence public opinion, and in the long run they influence the action of the Government. I hope the day is not far distant when there shall be a further expansion of the privileges which have been bestowed upon this Council; but, in the meantime, we must strive to do the best with what rights we possess, and, by a judicious exercise of them, prepare the way for their expansion. I feel I would not be doing justice to my position in this Council if I did not exercise the right which has been conceded to us.

"I must first take the opportunity of congratulating the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary on the clear and lucid statement which he has submitted to the Council. It is a budget which anyone who runs may read. Clearness and perspicacity are its most distinguishing features, and it is accompanied by a clear and able Explanatory Note, which gives valuable details. With reference to the number of questions which have been put in connection with the budget, I may explain that they are due to the fact that the budget does not give the details to which those questions refer. In this respect there is an important difference between the Bombay and the Bengal budgets, and I am bound to say that the difference is entirely in favour of the Bombay budget, which gives the major and the minor heads as well as sub-heads under them. For instance, under the head of Law and Justice, the Bombay budget gives the details of expenditure of the High Court, the Presidency Small Cause Court, the Presidency Magistrate's Court, and also the details of expenditure under the head of Civil and Criminal Justice in the Province. I am happy to say that so far as the expenditure under Law and Justice is concerned, some details are given, and there are other items in regard to which details are also given, and I can only express the hope that such details will be enlarged upon in future years, and if they are given, there will be less necessity for putting questions, such as I have asked to-day. If we have the details, it will not be necessary to ask questions, but inasmuch as we have not the details which are given in other Provincial budgets as well as in the Imperial budget, it is necessary for us to call for further information.

"A great deal has been said about the inelastic character of our revenues. I will not enter into a discussion of that question, but this I will assert that, so far as the Bengal revenues are concerned, they show a steady tendency to grow and expand. I ask the Council to consider the figures from 1894-95 to 1896-97 as they are given in this Budget. In 1894-95 the entire revenue of the Province (I speak in round numbers) amounted to 447 lakhs; the revised estimates for 1895-96 put it at 499 lakhs. The year 1895-96, as has been observed by my hon'ble friend, Babu Guru Proshad Sen, was undoubtedly a year of unusual financial prosperity. We received back three lakhs from the Government of India which we had advanced in 1894-95; the progress in the jute trade alone yielded a larger balance than before, and these, taken with other items of income, tended to make the year a year of unusual financial prosperity. Nevertheless, there is the fact that the estimated revenue for 1896-97 shows an improvement upon the figures for 1895-96. It has more than maintained the figures for 1895-96: the 499 lakhs of that year have gone up to 502 lakhs in 1896-97. All this is exceedingly satisfactory. Finance is said to be the weak point of most Governments. It certainly is the strong point of the Bengal Government. And it were much to be wished that other Governments exhibited the same financial prosperity.

"Our expenditure has kept pace with the increasing demands of a progressive community. The expenditure under the revised estimates of 1895-96 is 20 lakhs in excess of the previous year, and the expenditure estimated for 1896-97 is 23 lakhs in excess of 1895-96. One important part of the expenditure is the charge for civil public works: 14 lakhs are proposed to be spent under this head. The Hon'ble the Financial Secretary, in adverting to this large expenditure of 14 lakhs, observed that it was an index of the efficiency of many important branches of the public service. That is his explanation of the matter, but some people take a different view of it. They say it is an index of something very different, viz., that we are in the last year of the quinquennium governed by the Provincial contract, and that unless we make haste to dispose of our balances, the Imperial Government will make haste to appropriate them. This is a matter to which Your Honour was pleased to refer in very felicitous terms in your speech in the Imperial Legislative Council. Looking at the Provincial contract—and it should be remembered that the present contract closes with this year,—I find that there are items in that contract in respect of which only a portion of the revenue and only a portion of the expenditure are under the control of the Local Government."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"These are facts relating to Imperial finance, and you should keep clear of such subjects. It is not open to this Council to discuss them."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE continued:—"I shall only express the hope—I may say that I am confident—that when the Provincial contract is revised, the Government of Bengal will do its best to secure as large a revenue as is necessary to meet the growing needs of an important and progressive Province like ours.

"Reference has been made to the expenditure upon education. I need hardly say that personally I take a deep interest in all matters relating to education. I will not enter into matters of ancient history, but I rejoice to find that the budget for 1896-97 provides for an expenditure of Rs. 1,60,000 over the normal expenditure of previous years. This expenditure includes all branches of education, high and primary and technical. They are really interdependent upon each other. High education benefits the whole community: primary education benefits those whom it does not concern. I can only express the hope that Divisional Commissioners will imitate the liberal policy of Your Honour's Government in this matter, for there is a disposition on the part of some Divisional Commissioners ruthlessly to cut down grants made by municipalities to municipal schools out of municipal funds, because, forsooth, a little of English is taught in such schools. I think that in these matters the municipal authorities are the best judges. They know best what is best for the people, and they ought to be the judges of such matters, subject of course to that general supervision which the executive authorities ought to exercise over the budget.

"Looking at the figures, one would come to the conclusion that the condition of the people is one of universal prosperity, and, generally speaking, one may say that the financial condition of the Government is a reflex of the condition of the people themselves. But he would be a bold man who, looking around, would conclude that the people of Bengal are, at the present moment, happy and prosperous. There is a great drought, attended with a terrible visitation of cholera, which is decimating the people. At Ooterpara, at Bally, at Serampore, there is a very great scarcity of water, accompanied by a severe visitation of cholera; deaths by hundreds occur every week; the tanks are dry; there is no water in the tanks; what water there is is diluted sewage, and the very touch of that water brings disease and death. And is it possible to hold, having regard to this state of things, that the people are prosperous and happy? Formerly many rich men used to dig tanks for the benefit of the people. The excavation of tanks is a pious duty enjoined by the mandates of religion, but the Government interfered by the imposition of the road-cess, and took that duty out of the hands of charitably disposed individuals. The district authorities do little, and our rich men hold aloof; so that this water famine is the result of the policy of the last twenty years; rich men consider themselves as being absolved from obligations of this kind. They will not consent to pay twice—first as taxes, then as charity, and the local authorities do not supply the want. The gratitude of the people of Bengal will be expressed in unmistakable terms for the prompt action which Your Honour's Government has taken. A grant of Rs. 5,000 by each District Board for purposes of water-supply will not be enough, but Your Honour has called the attention of District Boards to the necessity for urgent action in this matter. It is, moreover, stated in the Circular to the Divisional Commissioners that you are prepared to make advances under the Agricultural Loans Act to bodies of villagers for excavating tanks All this is as it should be, and I can only hope that the zeal and kindly interest which stimulates the head of the Government will inspire the subordinate officials, and that they will realise the necessity of watchful attention to this matter.

"Something has been said on the subject of Law and Justice. My hon'ble friend has repeated the complaint which I have more than once uttered from my place in Council. Under Law and Justice the expenditure is Rs. 89,81,000, the revenue is Rs. 8,80,000.

"This deficit of 80 lakhs is met from provincial revenues. The item on the receipt side, from which it ought to come, is undoubtedly the stamp revenue, which gives an income of Rs. 125 lakhs. Here we have an available balance of 40 lakhs, part of which, at any rate, should be devoted to the improvement of the courts of law. I have put a question and received an answer on this point, but I will not enter into the figures. Figures are capable of many interpretations. They do not often bear conclusive evidence with reference to the actual state of things, but there is the broad fact that, if a person institutes a suit before a Munsif to-day, he will get a judgment possibly—and he is lucky if he gets it then—this day year. Such inordinate delays demoralise the administration of justice. A suitor brings a case; then come the postponements from week to week, from month to month, which are attended not only with serious inconvenience, but with positive danger to the interests of justice. And why do these delays occur? Simply because you have not a sufficient number of Munsifs; and therefore I do hope that the Chief Secretary will reconsider the matter in the light of this well-known fact which, independently of all figures, is established by the universal testimony of all who have anything to do with the law courts.

"Once more I desire to call the attention of Your Honour's Government to the question of house accommodation for Munsifs. Mr. Beighton, who was then the Officiating Legal Remembrancer, said last year, from his place in Council:—

> The question of supplying houses for Munsifs is one for the consideration of Government, and its complete solution in any satisfactory way must necessarily involve a large outlay. Nevertheless I should be very glad if the Council were to hear to-day from His Honour that Government were prepared by way of a commencement to meet this grievance to build houses in some selected subdivisions where the greatest difficulty is felt, and allow Munsifs to occupy them on reasonable terms.

"I will quote the words of Sir Charles Elliott, who said:—

> Next, with reference to Munsifs and the supplying of suitable accommodation for them, with regard to which an appeal has been made which in no degree exceeds my own views as to the hardships which Munsifs in many parts of the country have to suffer. I wish to mention that we are at present engaged in correspondence with the High Court on the subject.

"I shall be glad if the Hon'ble Mr. Risley is able to tell us what the result of that correspondence has been—if he can give us an assurance that within a measurable distance of time our Munsifs will be housed in better quarters than what they are able to obtain now.

"I desire, once again, to renew my appeal on behalf of the menial and ministerial servants of the Government. It seems to me—and I say it with great emphasis—that it is inexpedient and inequitable that highly-paid officers of the Government should continue to draw exchange compensation allowance, and that the lowly-paid servants of the Government should be left to eke out a miserable pittance by practices which will not bear the test of scrutiny. Their pay was fixed in the early sixties. My honorable friend has referred to the labours of the Salaries Commission on which my distinguished friend, Rai Durgagati Banerjee, Bahadur, sat as a member. They recommended that at least 75 per cent. increase of salary should be given to the ministerial officers of the Government, but the Government was not able to accept that recommendation. But I hope and trust that something will be done in this direction. I understand, from a statement in the Pioneer, that something at any rate has been proposed, and I hope the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary will be able to confirm that statement. I know it is a difficult question, inasmuch as it is a financial question; but surely the statesmanship which belongs to the Government of Bengal, and which is able to cope successfully with the complicated affairs of the most advanced Province in the Indian Empire, will be able to overcome whatever difficulties beset the solution of this question and do justice to the claims of the humblest class of Government servants.

The Hon'ble Mr. A. M. Bose said:—"I wish to add my congratulations to the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary to the Government for the very successful budget he has been able to produce. I trust the tide of prosperity which has set in, and which seems to have converted an anticipated deficit of Rs. 1,11,000 into a surplus of Rs. 12,29,000, will continue to flow, and that under Your Honour's rule the great administrative and domestic reforms which are required for the growing needs of this important Province will be carried out.

"I had also intended to say a few words with regard to the terrible scarcity of water under which the Province is now suffering; but after what has already been said, it is not necessary for me to take up the time of the Council, except to join my voice in the expression of gratitude to the Government for the readiness and promptitude with which it has attempted to grapple with the evil. I fervently hope the fearful sufferings of the people will meet with some mitigation as the result of those efforts, and that the interest which Your Honour has shown in this matter will extend with contagious effect, that the District Boards will do their duty, and that measures will be taken which will in future make a repetition of the present difficulties almost a matter of impossibility.

"After what has been said by the Hon'ble Members who have preceded me, I shall perhaps best discharge my duty within the limited time I can take up by confining my observations to one important subject. Having the honour, however unworthily, to be the representative in this Council of the Calcutta University, I trust I may be permitted to draw attention to some educational matters, and to make a few observations with regard to the educational grants in the budget. The adoption of this course will have, I believe, at least the recommendation of novelty in its favour. My first duty is to thank the Government for the increase of Rs. 1,61,000 in the total grant for Education, and I trust this increase is an indication of its earnest desire to follow the recommendations that the Education Commission arrived at, and this increase is all the more welcome, because it follows a policy of continual decrease which had been adopted for some years.

"Let me read just one passage from the Report of the Director of Public Instruction. Speaking of the year 1894-95, he says (vide paragraph 4 of his Report for that year):—

'The expenditure from Provincial Revenues decreased by Rs. 56,893, after a similar decrease of Rs. 54,728 in the previous year.'

"This increase in the grant, therefore, is a distinct and welcome reversal of policy rendered feasible by the present financial prosperity. I venture to make this observation also that there is hardly any expenditure which is more reproductive or more remunerative than that which is spent on the educational wants of a Province like this. It is repaid a hundred-fold in the intellectual, moral, and material advancement of the people, and lays a lasting basis for a nation's progress and prosperity.

"I am glad to find that an attempt is going to be made to provide for the opening of an agricultural class in connection with the Sibpur Engineering College. At this present moment the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay have their agricultural colleges. Agricultural teaching, one is happy to find, is recognised by the Bombay University by the grant of diplomas for agriculture, and is carried on in connection with the Poona College of Science; but in Bengal there is no such provision. And the extent to which agricultural instruction is appreciated in Madras is apparent from the fact that, from the last published report of the Saidapet College, it appears that about 30 per cent. of its students are from outside the territories subject to the Government of Madras. I hope that such information will be placed before the Council as will give some indication of the proposals to which it is now intended to give effect by means of the provision in the budget. I understand that there have been various proposals in regard to this matter, and different estimates have been placed before the Government; but I venture to make an appeal that, having regard to the importance of the matter, final orders will not be passed before the public have an opportunity of making suggestions as regards the scope and character of the instruction to be given on the subject of agriculture. We shall await with great interest the publication of these proposals; but in the meantime I hope I may be permitted to make one remark in this connection. I believe one proposal, which has been laid by a high authority before the Government, is to confine agricultural instruction to those students of the Sibpur College who have, after a three years' course of study, passed their first examination in Engineering. I do not know—possibly we shall be enlightened before the debate this afternoon is over—whether this is the idea to which it is intended to give effect in connection with the proposed agricultural class. But I hope it will not be so. I trust that the agricultural class at Sibpur will rest upon a broader basis than this; and that, as at Saidapet and at Poona, anyone who has passed the Matriculation examination of the University will be admitted to the proposed Agricultural class, and that even those who have not passed the Matriculation examination, but who command a fair knowledge of the English language, will be allowed to receive instruction at the class. Many young men belonging to the large land-holding class of this Province might find it an advantage to join it, not with a view to service, but to benefit their own properties; and it would be a decided advantage to the country if these men afterwards opened farms or introduced new crops or improved methods of agriculture in their own estates. It would also be worth considering whether it might not be possible to attach a vernacular class, both theoretical and practical, which sons of raiyats might be encouraged to attend by means of small scholarships after they had passed the primary or the middle vernacular standards.

"Then I am glad to see that a provision of Rs. 20,000 has been made in the budget for the training of teachers; and, with regard to this also, I venture to hope that before any final scheme is adopted, the public will be taken into confidence, and that any representations which may be made by the public or by different representative associations will be carefully considered, and that some place will be found in it for the introduction of the kindergarten system of instruction for little children. It is remarkable how this system has made progress in different countries, and yet it is a matter for regret that in this Province provision for that system of instruction for Indian children has not yet been made. Provision for instruction in that system might be introduced—say in the Bethune College—if funds for that purpose were placed in the hands of the Committee, and in connection with the training of teachers for primary schools. I hope that there will be available the services of one trained in the theory and art of teaching, in order to make the proposed training schools a real success. The theory and art of teaching have been studied and been carried to very great perfection in Europe—to a degree absolutely unknown in this country—and unless, at any rate at the beginning, some persons trained in the system are imported from Europe, it will be difficult to give the scheme of training teachers on which money is to be spent that start which will lead to the achievement of success, and to the realization of the hopes that are now built on it. I hope I may be excused for referring for a moment to my personal experience in the matter. While visiting not long ago a school in Germany, I attended a class in which lessons in Geography were being given, and I was surprised at the interest which the children took in the lessons, and the altogether novel and delightful way in which these were being taught —a system which is in entire opposition to the unfortunate system under which we have hitherto laboured in this country, and which still flourishes here. It is hardly necessary to say that it is only those who are thoroughly trained and experienced in the latest methods and theories of teaching who can train others to teach; and these latter will then in time be the means of spreading a knowledge of the system broadcast over the land.

"The next point to which I wish to refer is in connection with the system of grant-in-aid to girls' schools, and I shall venture to plead for more liberal help to these institutions, specially to those furthering the cause of higher education, and also to express the hope that the larger provision made under the head of grants-in-aid in the Budget (of which no details of any kind are given) will be so worked as to include a much larger allotment than is the case at present for helping schools for girls. The report of the Director of Public Instruction says that while 27·9 per cent. of the boys of school-going age attend schools, there are only 2 per cent. of the girls at school—and that is not all. While boys are attending Secondary and Collegiate institutions, in the case of girls the great majority of them do not go beyond the primary standard. And in connection with the subject of grants for female education, I shall draw the attention of the Council to the observations of the Bengal Provincial Committee of the Education Commission. At page 154 of their Report they say:—

'In order to promote the establishment of female schools aid should be given to them on a more liberal scale corresponding in some measure to the expenses that would be incurred in the establishment of similar Government schools. For example, the rate of aid might be twice the amount of local contributions.'

"It may be added that schooling fees in the case of aided schools are reckoned as local contributions (vide paragraph 31 of the same Report). That would make the grant two-thirds of the whole expenditure for girls' schools. The Government of India, which reviewed this matter, and the Education Commission itself, somewhat modify the limit as regards these grants. This is the recommendation of the Education Commission:—

'That the amount of State aid, exclusive of scholarships from public funds, do not exceed one-half of the entire expenditure on an institution. That, as a general rule, this maximum rate of aid be given to girls' schools, primary schools, and normal schools.'

"The Governor-General in Council approved of this recommendation, and expressed his satisfaction that these principles were generally accepted by the Local Governments (see paragraphs 31 and 32 of the Government Resolution on the work of the Education Commission). It will thus be seen that the Education Commission, the Government of India, and the local Governments all accept the principle that, as a general rule, grants to girls' schools should be one-half the total expenditure on those schools. But how has this principle been practically given effect to? The figures will speak for themselves.

"Turning to the latest report from the Director of Public Instruction, we find that the total expenditure from public funds in girls' schools, including Government schools, is Rs. 1,46,000 and odd, and from private funds Rs. 2,53,000 and odd; therefore, instead of the public contribution equalling, it is about one-half of, what is subscribed from private funds.

"This shows that the liberal spirit in which the recommendations were made, and which were entirely accepted by the Government of India and the Local Government, still remains to be given effect to. I hope that by the further allotment for which provision has been made in the budget, and in other ways, the encouragement which these institutions so greatly need and deserve will be fully afforded to them.

"With regard to Muhammadan education I express my very sincere gratification—and I am confident I express the feelings of every member of this Council—at the progress in all directions which that education is making, and, I trust, the rate of that progress will every year be still further accelerated. The progress of the country can never be what it ought to be until our Muhammadan fellow-citizens attain educationally the same position that their Hindu brethren have done, and I am sure that this advance shows that their own high and undoubted intellectual capacity, aided by the liberal policy which has found favour with the Government, will soon enable them to attain the position which they so eminently deserve.

"I have, however, one remark to make on this subject, and that is with regard to the education of Muhammadan girls. From applications which have been made to the Bethune College and from other indications, it seems there is a demand in certain quarters among the Muhammadan community for provision being made for the education of their girls. Should that desire manifest itself in an appreciable form, I would appeal to the Government to help most liberally in the attainment of that object, not only because the movement is for the education of Muhammadan girls, but also because for certain reasons the only Government institution of the kind in Calcutta—the Bethune School—is not open to girls of that community.

"I would wish to make a few remarks with regard to another matter, which, I trust, will not lead me to trench on ground unfamiliar to any of the Members of this Council. I propose to make an appeal to Your Honour's Government for some help to allow M. Guion's or the 'series' method of instruction for acquiring foreign languages to be introduced and tried in this country with regard to English. It is not necessary to say a word as regards the importance of acquiring a knowledge of the English language for the people of this country, not only because it unlocks to them the rich treasure-house of Western knowledge, but also for other and what might be deemed more practical reasons; and if there is a method, as has been alleged, by which the language may be acquired in a short time, it is certainly advisable to try it. It is claimed for that system, and testified to after trial by many competent authorities, that by means of it knowledge of a foreign language for all ordinary colloquial purposes can be attained in twelve months by a daily study of an hour or two. I would appeal to the Government to allow it to be tried in this country. I may refer to a passage or two on the point. It is wonderful how in the course of less than four years that system has spread itself, and its success has been recognised in various countries. [His Honour the President said.—'Is not this rather wandering from the subject of the budget?'] I was endeavouring to induce the Government to devote a certain portion of the allotment for education for the introduction of this new system of teaching. It is entirely within the scope of the powers of the Local Government to distribute the allotment as it thinks best, or to add to the educational grant. If Your Honour thinks that under these circumstances [His Honour the President said:—'I would not go too much into detail about it. The time of the Council is limited, though of course I shall be much interested in receiving information regarding it.'] I shall be very glad to avail myself of that kind permission. I will only add for the information of the Council that by once for all spending a sum of about Rs. 6,000, it would be possible to have a teacher brought out for one year, who would be able in that time to train many teachers in the system, besides giving instruction to Indian students.

"The next matter with regard to which I want to say a few words is the position of many Indian educational officers. It is not competent to me to refer to the position of those who are under what is known as the two-thirds scale; but I trust I may be allowed to refer to the cases of those officers who have received a high training and attained distinguished success at Oxford or Cambridge, at London or Edinburgh, and who have been receiving for years a salary of only Rs. 250 a month. I hope it may be possible, at least when the Provincial scheme of education comes into operation, if not indeed earlier, to do something for that class of officers who are successfully carrying on duties at Calcutta, Patna, and Hooghly, of much more highly-paid officers. Permit me, Sir, also to add a word on behalf of the educational officers—Graduates of our own University—who are doing useful work in colleges and schools or in inspection duty; and to express the hope that in the interests of the community, their position and prospects will always be such as to prevent other lines drawing away all our best men to their ranks.

"I will detain the Council with only one matter more. One of the recommendations of the Bengal Committee of the Education Commission refers to the establishment of what are called European scholarships (vide page 153 of their report). They say :—

'There should also be some 'European scholarships' sufficient in value to enable the holders to obtain their education in Europe. These would ultimately reduce the expense of the Government colleges, since those who had thus been educated in Europe might probably be able to take the place of European Professors.'

"I am perfectly aware that there is a State scholarship and also a Gilchrist scholarship available at intervals; but they are few in number, and there is no guarantee that on their return these scholars will enter the educational service. If Your Honour's Government will devise a scheme by which, at least for some years to come, a certain number of the best students would be annually sent to England and Germany or France to be educated there under the best Professors on condition of their serving in the Education Department, it will, I believe, give complete satisfaction and will also in the end prove economical in the saving of salary and allowances, after recouping the initial outlay. Let me not be understood to say a word in disparagement of those men who now join the Educational Service ; but if the best men here are specially selected and specially trained under the best advantages that Europe can afford, free to pursue their studies without the stress of constant anxiety as to their future, the efficiency of the service will not suffer, but will, in some cases, improve, and it will be possible gradually to replace, with certain exceptions, the European element by men trained in this way, who would be fully efficient, but whose employment would be more economical. They would be working in their own country, and would not go away after they had gained experience and maturity ; they would not be watching the rise and fall in exchange, and it would be possible with the present expenditure to largely add to the professorial staff of colleges, and that in itself would be a great benefit. I remember well twenty-five years ago meeting one of the first batch of students sent from Japan to Europe. I was then a student at Cambridge. One could hardly dream then of the wonderful intellectual and material progress which has followed the inauguration of that bold experiment by the Japanese Government. "Only the other day I was reading an account of the Tokio University, manned chiefly by Japanese Professors in its many departments of fruitful activity and original research. I believe, Sir, in the intellectual capacity of my countrymen, both Hindu and Mubammadan. I believe that capacity is not inferior to that of the Japanese, and that what Japan has achieved, India too may achieve under the beneficent and fostering care of that enlightened ruler into whose hands Providence has entrusted its destinies.

"I think it will be possible in the way I have indicated not only fully to recoup any expense incurred in the education of selected students in Europe, but also to greatly advance the cause of intellectual and industrial progress in the country. I remember reading an account of the life of Pasteur, in which it was pointed out how the benefit he secured to France in the saving and the improvement of its silk industry more than doubly repaid the enormous war-indemnity of, I believe, two hundred millions which that country had to pay to Germany. No money indeed may gauge the gain that accrues to a nation from its advance in science and culture. I know, Sir, the interest which you feel in the cause of education is both broad and deep. It was over your signature that the memorable Resolution on the work of the Education Commission appeared twelve years ago. The intellectual fire that once burned so bright over this land has not wholly died. Its sparks may yet leap to life under proper care.

And I trust that amongst the many landmarks which will distinguish your administration, not the least will be that which will mark the growth of a new intellectual life amongst the people of this Province."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DASS said:—"I am not sure that the discussions in this Council are altogether infructuous. If I felt convinced of that, I should hardly be inclined to be on my legs. I may say that the provision made in the budget for the opening of an agricultural class at Sibpur, I have observed with mingled feelings of thankfulness to Government and regret. I come from a part of the country where the population is mostly agricultural, and being myself a man who takes an interest in agriculture, my interest is not confined to reading reports in the newspapers, but actually being in the fields for the purpose of seeing and making agricultural experiments. I am, therefore, very much interested in the provision made for the establishment of an agricultural school. If in establishing an institution like this the object of the Government be to improve the agricultural condition of the country, I feel that nothing is more likely to defeat that object than the location of the institution at Sibpur. We do not require young men to learn the science of agriculture, who will never take to agriculture as their occupation. If the improvement of the agricultural condition of the country is to be secured, it cannot be secured by educating a number of men in agricultural science, but by inducing a number of students of the actual cultivating class to join the institution and by having an institution located in such a place where experiments can be carried on over such areas, and in such circumstances as to place within the observation of students those practical difficulties which actual cultivators experience. There is no use in making experiments in small patches of land covering only a few yards. Such experiments do not take into account those causes which crop up when the experiment is made over a large area. In matters of agriculture the area under experiment makes all the difference. When an experiment is made over a small area, one can control the effects of light, heat and irrigation, which it is impossible to control when the experiment is over a large area. I could mention many other matters which have come within my own observation and experience, but this is not the place to do so. It will be sufficient for my purpose to say that to apply the results of experience to large areas which have been acquired in small areas is useless. I was told by my friends who have come from the agricultural college at Cirencester that I was stupid, and could not properly apply their suggestions. I may be stupid, but it is not possible to get many more intelligent men among the cultivators of the country.

"If agriculture is to be improved, it must be improved by something which would benefit the agricultural classes. I don't think it is possible in the neighbourhood of Sibpur to get a large area for experiment in such a way as would be actually useful to the cultivator. Then the fact that Sibpur is a place where living is costly, and that it is miles away from districts where we can get students from the cultivating classes, the trouble and expense of the journey, and being hundreds of miles from their houses, they are exposed to the dangers and temptations of youth—these facts will prevent many of the cultivating class from enjoying the benefits of this institution which they would otherwise do. I do not think the people of Calcutta will ever take an interest in agriculture, and if this institution is located at Sibpur, the practical result will be to close its doors against those for whose benefit it is intended, for whose interest an agricultural class should be opened. If there is one place fitter than another for such an institution, it ought to be found in Orissa. There the population is mostly agricultural, and there a number of students from among the actual cultivating class can be had to join the institution. And, moreover, the zamindars in Orissa being proprietors of temporarily-settled estates, have no motive to improve the agricultural good of the country, because the zemindar knows that the proceeds of an improved state of agriculture do not go to his pockets alone; and where a poor zemindar has the motive he has not the means. Besides, Orissa being a temporarily-settled Province, the Government is more interested in the improvement of the agricultural condition of the country than in permanently-settled districts. The rule, Charity begins at home, is as good for the individual as it is for the Government. It will therefore be in the interest of the Government and the cultivating classes, as well as of the zamindar, that an institution like this be opened in Orissa rather than in the vicinity of Calcutta, where, perhaps, the result will be to have a number of young men who will be able to deliver elaborate lectures on agricultural science without undertaking practically to improve the agricultural condition of the people. While on this subject, I would suggest that a portion of the money allotted under the head of education to primary education may be very well utilised for the purpose of improving—if I may so call it—primay agricultural education in primary schools, like what they have in some parts of France. I read the details in a series of lectures explaining the system which prevails in France. This can be given effect to by introducing agricultural primers into these schools and by letting each school have a little farm of its own where the boys can make their experiments upon what they read about agriculture. From my own experience, that is, from what I have seen of these primary schools the majority of the pupils come from the cultivating class, and they become cultivators themselves afterwards. It is no use cramming young men with long dissertations and with high-sounding synonyms for horses and elephants. I have seen schools where the boys will give you twenty synonyms for a horse, an elephant, or a camel."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"What has all this to do with the budget? We seem to be discussing the whole system of education."

The HON'BLE M. S. DAS continued:—"I merely want to suggest that a portion of the allotment for primary schools may be devoted to the introduction of agricultural primers in those classes.

"The next point is as to the increase of the pay of ministerial establishments. The question has been considered from the ministerial officer's point of view. But there is another point of view. If the question were limited to the right of the ministerial officers to an increase of pay, I should not feel justified in reopening the question, especially as the appeal made by the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee was on a previous occasion met with the reply that the Government would not be justified in paying more than private employers pay their employés. But the ministerial officers of the Government are not in the same position as private employés. They form an important part of the machinery for the administration of justice in our courts, and no analogy drawn from the law of demand and supply, as it regulates the wages paid by private employers, can properly be applied to this class of public servants; for the latter have the custody of most valuable public documents and can easily defeat the ends of justsce. If the question were only limited to the right of the ministerial officers to demand an increase of pay, on the ground of the high price of things, the Government might say that they are not prepared to grant any increase, but it should be remembered that along with this question is mixed up the other question, namely, that it affects important interests from a public point of view. The amount of inconvenience and injury to the public interests arising from the employment of an under-paid ministerial establishment ought to be taken into consideration. And one thing more ought to be considered, namely the amount of loss accruing by the employment of under-paid ministerial establishments. I know as a matter of fact that during the last 12 years the defalcations in the Cuttack Treasury alone amounted to Rs. 50,000. The amount of revenue lost to the Government by the smuggling of Court fees in the record-room, as well as the loss to the public on account of the blackmail which these ministerial officers levy all round should also be considered. If it were possible to get an account of the amounts lost under each of these heads, I think it would show that the ministerial establishment, as it is now, has actually cost the Government and the public a great deal more than it would have cost Government by giving an increase of pay and putting the establishment on a satisfactory footing. I have known cases where documents which constitute the only title deed by which a man could show his right and title to property have been removed from the Court-room by the opposite party. As long as the record-rooms are in the hands of officers capable of such things, all attempts of the Government to secure to the people a record-of rights will be simply a waste of money.

"I may be permitted to add a word with regard to the scarcity of water, inasmuch as I have had experience in the working of District Boards. Their efforts to give to the people a supply of water have been defeated to a very great extent by the reluctance of proprietors to let District Boards have the control over water in their tanks even when the Boards have agreed to let the owners retain the rights of fishery and other proprietory rights. Of course, as your Honour has said, a great deal can be done by the people themselves."

The Hon'ble RAI ESHAN CHUNDRA MITRA, BAHADUR, said:—"I would not have risen after the exhaustive speeches of my hon'ble colleagues, were it not that I think one point should be urged on a matter which I consider so important to the poor people in the adjoining districts, that I shall not be doing my duty if I do not raise my humble voice in their behalf.

"I congratulate the Government on the excellent budget which has been laid before the Council, and in doing so I only wish to point out that there are indications in it of a keen desire on the part of the hon'ble the Financial Secretary to cut down unnecessary expenditure and apply the savings to useful objects. The provisions made for the opening of classes for students of the science of mining and agriculture are such as are not only welcome to all, but also calculated to promote the best interests of the country. It is a matter of congratulation that there is a credit balance of about Rs. 34,40,000, and this balance will enable your Honour to consider the question of water-supply in those districts where the want of water is mostly felt. We have been told that the Commissioners of Divisions have been instructed to urge upon District Boards the necessity of making provision for the supply of water to the people of the districts. I am a member of the District Board of Hooghly, and I know that it will be impossible for District Boards to give any relief to the helpless classes of the people from the funds which they have at their disposal. Your Honour is aware of the fact which is stated in last year's Administration Report that only 1·2 per cent. of their entire funds were devoted to water-supply, and you can well magine that that can give no relief at all. Your Honour's predecessor in office enunciated the fact that it was utterly impossible to ask District Boards to contribute more towards water-supply than they were doing at present. That you will find in the last Administration Report; but he was kind enough to recommend the District Boards to spare, if they could, Rs. 5,000 for this important object. The District Boards have many things to do. They have to maintain roads and bridges and other things which cripple their resources, and the resources of District Boards are applied (rightly or wrongly) to works which are not strictly within the objects of the Cess Act. I submit respectfully that it will be a very good thing if the District Boards were to advance money to such amounts as are within their power for water-supply, but may I not submit that out of the credit balance of Rs. 34,40,000, one lakh at least should be given as a grant-in-aid for the relief of the poor people who are actually crying for water and do not know where to find it. Your Honour's Government maintains criminals in jails, looks after their comforts and wants, and would it be too much if I, in the name of the poor, ask you to make a grant-in-aid to the District Boards of one lakh or as much as it is possible to give to relieve the sufferings of the poor. But even that will not be enough, unless your Honour insists upon District Boards spending large sums for the same purpose. Human suffering should as far as possible be relieved. The least enquiry will show what sufferings the people are undergoing. I do not wish to make statements which are not strictly correct, but it cannot be denied that people living at distances of 2 or 3 miles from the Hooghly, both on the 24-Parganas and on the Hooghly sides of the river, send carts to fetch water from the river both in tins and in kulsies, and females themselves go to the river after candlelight to fetch water. I appeal to your Honour in the name of suffering humanity to do what lies in your power for the relief of the poor.

"As regards the question of the increase of the number of munsifs, much has been said on former occasions, and I join in saying that their number ought to be increased on account of the responsibility which attaches to their work and the extremely arduous nature of their duties. They have to work from the early morning to 9 o'clock at home, and again from 11 A.M. till 6 or 7 P.M. I have been told that there are stated times for work in offices, but in the Civil Courts specially there is no stated time. Munsifs, as a matter of fact—I speak from personal experience—work up to 6 or 7 in the afternoon. It is therefore a question for consideration whether some increase should not be made in their number. They are also not properly housed, and I join with my colleagues in appealing to your Honour that something should be done. Some provision should at least be made for those munsifs who are located in outlying stations where no proper house accommodation can be had."

The Hon'ble MAULVI MAHOMED YUSUF KHAN BAHADUR said:—"Had it not been that my ideas regarding what is a fit matter for discussion on the present occasion, been a little widened and expanded by practical experience of the subjects that I find have been actually discussed this day in Council, I am afraid I would not have ventured to address any observations of my own to the Council on the Budget. But seeing what a variety of subjects has been before the Council, and what a vast number of suggestions of various kinds has been made in connection with the Budget, the Council will pardon me for the few observations that I have to make; in fact, after the turn which the discussion has taken, I would be wanting in duty if I did not communicate to the Council my views in regard to one or two questions specially affecting Muhammadan interests.

"The first point to which I would draw the attention of the Council is this. Muhammadan Law is a subject, the attainment of which is attended with considerable difficulty: even the Indian Maulvis are obliged to toil patiently for years and years before they can be said to know anything of the subject. Besides the difficulty of the Arabic language, which must necessarily be employed as the vehicle for the study of the Muhammadan Law, the subject of the Muhammadan Law itself is one which it is difficult to acquire. The ideas are difficult to grasp and realise and retain. But if besides the difficulty of the subject and the difficulty of the language, there is difficulty as regards books, then the reader may be pardoned if his courage fails and despair takes the place of hope.

"Now as regards books, the matter lies in this way. Some of the best books on the subject were printed more than 50 years ago, and they are long out of print, so that the old copies available are scarce. Others have never been printed at all; whilst there are still others which were only once printed in cheap edition by Munshi Nuwal Kishore of Lucknow, and although the Muhammadan world must be under heavy obligations to the Hindu gentleman for the large number of Muhammadan works he has printed, still, cheapness being the object, the editions printed are inaccurate, the type is bad, the paper used is altogether indifferent, and the print is illegible; but bad as the edition might be, that also is out of print and has become scarce.

"It is believed that there was a time when Government used to bestow more extended attention to matters relating to Muhammadan welfare, and that Government used to offer encouragement to questions which affected the Muhammadans. Tradition attributes to Warren Hastings the legible and correct prints of Arabic books which the Muhammadans had. Warren Hastings, on becoming Governor of Bengal in 1772, laid down the rule that in all suits regarding marriage, inheritance, and caste and other religious usages and institutions, the laws of the Koran with respect to Muhammadans and those of the Shastras with respect to Gentoos, shall be invariably adhered to. That being the rule laid down by Warren Hastings, it is natural to believe that the author of the rule must have applied himself to the task of ascertaining the native laws by procuring compilations and translations of standard text books of Hindu and Muhammadan Laws, and that what was done in the way of securing legible printed books for the ascertainment of the Muhammadan Law was done in pursuance of the policy of Warren Hastings. What was precisely done in pursuance of such policy it is difficult for me to say without reference and enquiry; but the result at the present day is this: that we have old editions in Arabic of the following printed books, viz., the Hedaya, Vol. 1, printed in 1250 Hijri in the Mutbai-Tuhy in Calcutta, Mohulla Taltollah, No. 46; the Hedaya, Vol. 2, printed in 1250 Hijri under the Committee of Public Instruction in Calcutta; the Hedaya, Vol. 3, printed in 1257, corresponding with 1841, in the Mutbai-Tuhy in Mohulla Taltollah, No. 57; the Hedaya, Vol. 4, printed in 1258 Hijri, corresponding with 1842, in Calcutta in the Tuhy Press in Taltollah; the Futawai Alumgeeree, printed at Hooghly at the Medical Press for the use of the Madrassas under the authority of the Asiatic Society in 1258 Hijri, corresponding with 1842; the Doorrool Mookhtar, printed in 1230 Hijri at Hooghly, and again in 1272 Hijri, corresponding with 1856, in the Matbai Kudrosee in Sealdah in Calcutta; the Inayat, commenced under the Education Committee, subsequentty transferred with other oriental works to the Asiatic Society and compiled under their auspices in November 1837, and printed at the Baptist Mission Press in 1837. The Ashbah-wo-al Nazair, printed in 1250 Hijri; the Sherayaool Islam, published by the Asiatic Society of Calcutta and printed at the Guldustai Nishat Press in 1839.

"These are the only legible prints we have in some libraries, but, as I have already observed, the editions are out of print, and the books have become so scarce that you are fortunate if you can obtain them after a year's search on payment of fabulous price. The difficulty in connection with this question cannot be overcome by private enterprise.

"The Soonnee law is contained most comprehensively in the Futhool Kadeer, which is a work in four volumes, and, except the indifferent edition of Munshi Nuwal Kishore, which even is out of print, we have no edition available. The Ruddool Moohtar, which extends over seven volumes, is another copious work on the Soonnee law. We have got an Egyptian edition of it, which, although a tolerably correct edition, is so closely printed and the type is so small and the paper is of so inferior a quality, that it is impossible to read the same for any length of time with safety to eye-sight, especially at night. To print the Futhool Kudeer at the Baptist Mission Press in the same type as the old Futawai Alumgeeree or the Hedaya would cost about Rs. 40,000. Turning to the Shea Law, except the Shuraya-ool-Islam, which is out of print, we have no reliable book. There is a commentary on the same called the Jawahir-ool-Kulam, which was printed in Persia. But it requires a good strong glass to read the same at day time: and at night it is impossible to read it at all. It is neither paged nor indexed. The same may be said of all other works printed at Teheran. They are useless for prompt reference.

"The next question is what has been done by Government to bring the Muhammadan Law within reach of the English-knowing public, whether Europeans or Indians. The answer is—absolutely nothing. The only rendering of Muhammadan Law we have is a translatition by Hamilton from a Persian translation of the Hedaya and not from the original Arabic. The execution is faulty and the rules laid down in the original are not very correctly rendered, so that it is difficult for the English-knowing public to realise what is meant by the English words employed. Mr. Bailie has made an abridged translation in one small volumes from the six volumes of the Futawai Alumgeeree; the abridgment has marred the usefulness of the undertaking. The Shea Law stands in a worse position; because the only work we have in English is a small abridged translation of the Shurayool Islam. But the Muhammadan world has outgrown these abridged translations; and what is wanted is a full translation of such works as the Futhool Kadeer, the Ruddool Moohtar, and the Jowahirool Kulam.

"Upon the subject of Oosool or Jurisprudence, we have no translation at all. We have splendid works in the original on the subject in the Tawzeeh and the Tulmeeh, not to mention other works: The Tulmeeh should be printed because we have no legible printed edition of it available. And if we could have a translation of the Tawzeeh and the Tulmeeh, then the European world would be able to know something of the Arabian jurisprudence of which they cannot but be entirely ignorant now, there being no English books on the subject. But if the original works on the subject of jurisprudence were to be translated, then every right-thinking person would realise that what now appears to be a mass of chaos is governed by rules than which nothing could be more perspicuous.

"It is time that the Government should turn its attention to the subject. The institutions of Maulvis and Pundits to assist the courts has been done away with. The only assistance which the courts can derive is from the bar: the Judges and members of the bar, as a portion of the public, must have facilities and aid in the prosecution of their studies of oriental laws. In the absence of authorities, great ignorance on the subject prevails, and there have been signal instances of failures of justice, and that circumstance has created something like a panic with the Muhammadans. The same remarks apply to Sanskrit works in which there are still fewer books printed.

"If therefore there is a surplus and no body knows what to do with it, I would humbly suggest an item of expenditure in the way pointed out in the remarks I have made. At any rate, if the surplus lies unemployed, it will not be for want of a suggestion; and the suggestion which I most humbly make is one which relates to a matter within the province and duty of the Government. It is as obligatory on the Government to have a correct and authorised version of the Hindu and Muhammadan Laws, as it is obligatory to have a correct and authorised version of Acts and Regulations. Government cannot say to the people—we have provided you with the civil courts to administer unto you your laws, but you must let us know what those laws are at your own expense and trouble, and you must yourself instruct the civil courts in your own laws, although as regards Acts and Regulations it is no doubt the duty of the Government to provide for the expense of maintaining a machinery for the purpose of creating them and preserving them.

"As regards the establishment of a school for Muhammadan girls, I am glad to find that the Hon'ble A. M. Bose has mentioned the subject. The question has been under contemplation for some time, and some well-meaning Muhammadan gentlemen are taking part in promoting the idea. There is no doubt before long some substantial proposal will be laid before the Government.

"As regards the location of the proposed Agricultural School in Orissa, I submit, if the question of location is an open question, I do not see why preference should be given to Orissa over Bihar, for Bihar seems for various reasons to have a preferential claim to the honour."

The Hon'ble Mr. Gladstone said:—"I observe in the financial statement under the heading 'Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department,' that a special allotment has been made of a sum amounting to over six lakhs of rupees for the extension and improvement of the Medical College and Hospital. I also observe under the heading 'Medical' that a sum of Rs. 1,44,000 has been estimated to provide, among other things, for furniture and fitting for the Calcutta hospitals. While we all rejoice to see money being spent where the object is to provide for the better comfort and care of the sick, I venture to express a hope that Government will be pleased to make some further extensive grants towards improving the Calcutta hospitals and the General Hospital in particular.

"Anybody who has visited the General Hospital cannot fail to have been struck with the gloomy and altogether inadequate accommodation which is there provided, and if the result of a visit is depressing to the visitor, what must it be to the patient. It is generally admitted from the highest authority downwards, that the accommodation at the General Hospital is altogether behind the times, the needs of Calcutta having quite outgrown anything that was contemplated when the present arrangements were first put in practice. What was known as Dr. Crombie's ward has recently been better furnished, thanks to the exertions of some private individuals, but a great deal more than this is required. For example, I am told that the cooking arrangements are altogether deficient, and that the accommodation for the apothecaries and nurses falls very far short of what it should be. I may mention that recently the supply of bed linen ran out completely, and the want was supplied by some generously disposed individuals.

"It seems to me that efforts should be made to establish a 'Home' for European paying patients, a home to which those who are suffering from disease or accident can resort with full expectation that they will receive all the comforts and attention which their cases deserve, and which are so very necessary in a climate like this.

"The establishment of such a home will no doubt be a costly matter, but seeing that the mercantile community subscribe so largely to Calcutta hospitals, a sum which amounts to Rs 70,000 per annum, I think I have some right to urge that Government should come forward with a further liberal grant to improve the present condition of the hospitals, and the General Hospital in particular.

"Any step which the Government would be pleased to take in this direction will, I know, meet with the most cordial approval, not only of the mercantile, but of the general, community, and I hope that Government will be pleased to make a further liberal allotment in this time of its prosperity."

The Hon'ble MR. WOMACK said:—"After the lengthy remarks which have already been made, I will only detain the Council for a few minutes with reference to one or two subjects which affect the community which I have the honour to represent. I notice that in the budget of the past year, credit was taken and no doubt very properly taken for a sum of Rs. 70,000 odd from the proceeds of jail manufactures sold to the Military Department of the Government. I only hope that this increase in jail manufactures will not affect prejudicially the rights of private traders. The subject of the employment of prisoners is, I know, a complex and difficult one, but I hope the Government will be pleased to impress upon the Inspector-General of Jails the necessity of restricting jail manufactures as far as possible so as not to interfere with private enterprise, and of finding extramural employment for prisoners, wherever practicable.

"The only other question to which I wish to refer is a question of finance in connection with the Court of Small Causes in Calcutta. The Hon'ble the Chief Secretary to Government informed me last week that a reduction in the scale of fees charged on the institution of suits in that Court is intended, but he intimated that the reduction would only affect suits of the value of Rs. 500 and under. Gratitude has been described as a sense of favours to come, and in this sense only I imagine, will the commercial and trading community accept this proposal, which is now before the Government of India, for I can see no reason why the administration of civil justice should be more expensive in the Presidency towns than in the mufassil. I feel sure that were the rate of fees under the Court fees Act adopted in Calcutta, it would entirely meet the necessities of the case here, and would in a very short time yield the amount of fees levied under the present scale.

"I wish to take the opportunity of thanking the Government for the resolutions which were issued in the course of the past year relating to the purchase of stores locally. The result has been very satisfactory, and has satisfied those concerned that a considerable amount of progress has been made in the substitution of local for imported stores, and I therefore hope that the issue of this information will become an annual institution."

The Hon'ble Mr. BOLTON said:—"I have to say a few words in answer to the remarks which have been made on the subject of Education. The Hon'ble Member who opened the discussion—Babu Guru Proshad Sen—has suggested that a larger grant should be made for education, and has compared the grant in past years with the figures for recent years. I have not the advantage of referring to the earlier figures which the Hon'ble Member quoted; but with regard to recent years, I find from the budget itself that there has been an increase in the funds allotted for education during the past two years. The actuals for 1894-95 amounted to Rs. 26,38,000, and the budget estimate for 1895-96 is Rs. 26,72,000; while for the current year the figures are Rs. 27,76,000, showing an increase of over a lakh of rupees. At the same time education has also advanced. From the report of the Director of Public Instruction for 1894-95, it appears that in all Bengal the number of schools increased by 613 in 1894 and 2,524 in 1895, and of pupils by 14,211 in 1894 and 92,252 in 1895. As the financial condition of the Province improves, additional funds will be available, and the requirements of the Education Department will not be overlooked.

"The Hon'ble Member who represents the University referred to several matters connected with education. The first subject was the agricultural class at the Sibpur Engineering College, for which the sum of Rs. 10,000 is provided in the estimates. That class has, however, not yet been started, nor has the scheme for it been determined. It is still under consideration, and at present no decision has been arrived at. The idea of locating the class at Sibpur has suggested itself because the services of the Professors of the College will be available there, and there is also close to the College an agricultural farm, where the students may have practical training. The Hon'ble Member from Orissa has suggested that the class should consist chiefly or entirely of the sons of agriculturists; but I think that it will be very difficult to establish a class on that basis at present. The advantage of training a better class of students is that they will leave the school and go into the interior and put into practice the knowledge and training they have acquired. It is also suggested that agriculture might be taught at primary schools, and that primers of agriculture might be introduced in those schools. Primary schools have already sanitary primers, and I fear that the instruction would be extremely uninteresting to the young pupils if an agricultural primer was added. The Hon'ble Member also suggested that small farms be attached to the schools for agricultural experiments. It is extremely doubtful whether practical effect could be given to this suggestion. The establishment of kindergarten classes has also been alluded to. That, it seems to me, is an experiment which it would be better, in the first instance, for the Hon'ble Member himself to try in any school in which he is interested. If success is obtained, the Government might consider it desirable to encourage and aid such classes.

"With regard to female education, it is suggested that the grants made to girls' schools might be increased. I observe, on reference to the last report of the Director of Public Instruction, that the number both of girls' schools, and of pupils at those schools, has increased during the past year, and it thus appears that progress is being made with the aid which these schools already receive. Still the fullest encouragement should be given to female education, and the claims of girls' schools to aid, or to more aid than they actually receive, will doubtless be considered by the Department, whenever proper representations are made.

"In connection with Muhammadan education, a proposal has been made for providing school instruction for girls of good family. An application has been received asking for a grant-in-aid to a school for the education of such girls. It appears from the figures furnished that the cost of such a school will be Rs. 460 a month, and that the funds which private individuals offer to contribute amount to only Rs. 40 a month. It is obvious that the Government could not make up the enormous difference between these two amounts, and it is necessary that those who are interested in the establishment of such a school—either the parents of the girls or those who favour the scheme—should contribute more liberally. The Government has intimated that if a proper proportion of the funds is guaranteed from fees and by private individuals, it will be willing to give a grant-in-aid.

"The Hon'ble Member for the University also suggested that scholarships should be established for the education of young men of this country in Europe, with a view to their admission into the Education Department on their return to India; and he remarked that this would be an economical plan. The economy of the arrangement is, however, questionable in view of the cost of sending the young men home and keeping them there for some years; and, as a matter of fact, no difficulty has been experienced in recruiting the Education Department with efficient young men, without the grant of aid from the Government towards their education in Europe."

THE HON'BLE MR. COTTON said:—"I notice that a somewhat new departure has taken place to-day in the discussion of the Budget, and I fear that I cannot congratulate the Council on the discursive nature of many of the speeches delivered. The greater part of the speeches which have been spoken by Hon'ble Members can hardly be described as a discussion of the Budget. They may be more accurately described as dissertations on our educational system or on the position and prospects of agriculture in Bengal, or upon other administrative topics. Now, although, the observations to which we have listened to-day are no doubt very valuable and practical, yet they have little or no bearing on the subject of the Bengal Provincial Budget. In one respect it is an advantage to the official Members of the Council that the speeches should have been of this discursive nature, because it gives them very little to reply to. It is not to be expected that the Secretaries to the Government should go over all the suggestions which have been made in regard to education in Bengal, or topics connected with agricultural improvement, or that they should go in any detail into the question of water-supply or the publication of Arabic books or the postponement of civil suits. All these are interesting and important subjects, but they are not connected with the Budget.

"The speech of the Hon'ble Babu Guru Proshad Sen was, however, directly connected with the Budget. As I understood him, he adopted a very singular line from a financial point of view. The estimates appeared to fill him with anxiety and distress that the revenues of the Province should be expanding, but at the same time he was animated with a desire that the expenses of the Government should increase. To an ordinary observer, however, the expansion of the excise and stamp revenues is a very fair indication of the advancing prosperity of the people of the Province; it would certainly be so taken in any other country in the world than in Bengal, and I have yet to learn that Bengal should be taken as an exception in this respect. As a matter of fact, the past five or six years in Bengal have been years of remarkable prosperity. There have been excellent harvests, and the country generally has prospered. In such circumstances it is to be expected that the excise revenue should have expanded and the stamp revenue increased. I am far from considering this a matter of regret, and have no sympathy for the yearnings of the Hon'ble Member for the old halcyon days, when the excise revenue was less than a hundred lakhs and the stamp revenue at a proportionally small figure; nor can I conceive how it could be to the advantage of the country that the provincial finances should be some sixty lakhs less than they are now. At the same time the Hon'ble Member desired that in certain directions there should be largely increased expenditure. But how such larger expenditure could be met except with an expanding revenue I do not know. It is hardly worthwhile to follow the Hon'ble Member in the observations he addressed to the Council in regard to the stamp revenue. He went so far as to say that the great bulk of the stamp revenue is rendered to the Government by the poorer classes of the country. That is a point which I think none of us will be prepared to admit. The figures which I have to-day furnished to the Council show that the number of suits tried by Munsifs is a little over five hundred thousand, but this is a very small number when compared to the seventy millions which populate this Province, and to say that the bulk of these five hundred thousand suits is instituted by the poorest of the population is, on the face of it, absurd. The bulk of the stamp revenue comes practically from the wealthier classes, and if it is so in regard to court-fee stamps, it is much more so in regard to general stamps, which are realised on deeds and other documents, and I believe it is in respect of general stamps that the increase of revenue is largest.

"Several Hon'ble Members referred to the question of increase in the number of Munsifs. No doubt, there is something to be said from their point of view. I for one have no doubt that it would be a great advantage to the administration of justice if the number of judicial officers all round could be materially increased. The pressure on Munsifs as well as on Subordinate Judges, Deputy Magistrates, Deputy Collectors, Magistrates and Collectors, Judges, and, I may add, Secretaries to Government, has now become very considerable. We would all be very glad to be relieved of a part of our ordinary duties; but that the increased pressure is greater in the case of Munsifs than on other classes of officers I do not admit. The figures show that in contested cases—the practical test of the work done by Munsifs—the increase is far smaller than the increase which has been sanctioned in the number of Munsifs, and I find, as a fact, that of contested suits tried under the ordinary procedure, a Munsif does not dispose of on the average more than twenty-five in a month. Some of these may be very difficult cases, but the figures before the Council do not indicate that the amount of work done by Munsifs is so exceptionally great as to entitle them to special sympathy. I admit that they are an exceedingly conscientious and hardworking body of men, but that may fairly be said in respect of many other branches of the public service. And with regard to the question of their health, from information which comes to my ears—and I have the best opportunity of judging of such cases—I believe that the health of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors is more seriously affected by overwork and exposure than is the case with Munsifs. Then I come to the question of the housing of Munsifs which was particularly raised by the Hon'ble Surendranath Banerjee. This is a question which was referred to in last year's debate, and it has been under the consideration of the Government of Bengal during the past year. The late Lieutenant-Governor placed himself in communication with the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court, and we have received a practical and useful report from the High Court on the subject. The substance of their recommendation is that the only way in which the difficulty can be met is by the Government constructing houses for Munsifs in secluded stations, and charging them with a reasonable rent for the accommodation, and I am in a position to say that the Government is prepared to take steps in this direction. But I must warn you that the expenditure which the Government can incur in this respect must be a moderate one. At the present moment the number of Munsifs at outlying stations cannot be less than two hundred; and if each of these is to be provided by the Government with house accommodation at a cost of Rs. 5,000 in each case, it needs a very simple arithmetical calculation to arrive at the conclusion that it will require the sum of ten lakhs to provide Munsifs with residences, and that, of course, is an expenditure which the Government will not incur. The reasonable course will be to ascertain the cases in which the construction of Munsifs' houses is most urgent; a standard plan is already under preparation in the Public Works Department: and when we have ascertained the most urgent cases, we will proceed to construct houses for which the Munsifs who occupy them will have to pay a rent of Rs. 20 or Rs. 25 a month. Last year, standing in this place, I said I thought many Munsifs would be very reluctant to pay such a rent, and nothing I have heard since has induced me to change that opinion; but when once the Government has constructed the houses, the Munsifs will have to occupy them and pay the rent, whether they wish it or not.

"I wish to add a few words in connection with the question of water-supply, which is now a burning question in this Province, and also to reply in some degree to the appeal made by the Hon'ble Babu Eshan Chunder Mittra for a grant of one lakh to the District Boards to make provision for a supply of good and wholesome water. I did not notice whether he meant a grant of one lakh to each and every District Board, or one lakh altogether. [The Hon'ble Eshan Chunder Mitter:—'I asked for one lakh altogether.'] This is of course an exceptional year; we have been six months now without rain, and the sufferings and hardships of the people, as the Hon'ble Member has so graphically described them, are extreme. But I can remember similar years. My experience enables me to recall other years of equal drought and equal suffering, and in those days the opportunity of bringing public grievances to the notice of Government were infinitely less than they are now. But in one year to which I refer I remember what was done. The Government advanced one lakh of rupees—in 1882 I think it was—to the Nadia district for the excavation of tanks. There is no district where the suffering on account of the want of water is greater than in Nadia. It is perhaps the district of all others which suffers most intensely from want of water, and where the villagers are more dependent on the supply of water from tanks. But the grant of one lakh in that district did not go very far. It did not produce any material effect on the condition of the district, and the residents of that district are from all accounts as badly off now as they would have been if that grant had not been made. The truth is, as His Honour has indicated from the chair before this discussion began, that nothing can remedy this terrible want in the Province but co-operation between the villagers and their landlords. There are many practical difficulties. The landlords own all the tanks, and not one landlord in each case, but many. There are many co-sharers in almost every tank, and they have disputes with each other as to their several interests in the tank, whether fishery rights or any other, and it is found very difficult to get them to agree. But obviously it is the paramount duty of the landlords to agree together and come to terms with each other, either for the construction of new tanks, though that is rarely necessary, or, what is much more important, for the re-excavation and maintenance of the existing tanks. There are few villages in which there are not several tanks, but they have been allowed to run to rack and ruin, but it is the duty of the landlords to keep these tanks in order, so that there might always be a supply of good water. Practically, all that the District Boards can do is to give a little help here and there, and to supervise the work of bringing these tanks into use by their officers or by some other means. The villagers must organise the labour which is necessary for their own good and for their own interests; they must give their labour spontaneously and as free labour. The zamindars must be prepared to give up their own petty quarrels and disputes, and allow their tanks to be improved in the way I have described. Looking at the question as practical men, we can see that this is really the only course to be followed. What are Rs. 5,000 for the water-supply of each district? One single tank will cost that if it is properly constructed. In a large district of a million or a million and-a-half of inhabitants, Rs. 5,000 is too insignificant a sum to talk of. The Local Boards can do nothing more than supervise the work. As for the Government responsibility to provide water it is a chimera. The people must supply themselves with water as they used to do in days gone by. It is not the case, as the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee suggested, that the imposition of the road cess has interfered with the benevolence of the zamindars in digging tanks. It is quite true that the benevolence of zamindars in this direction has, to an appreciable extent, withered up, but that has no concern with the Road Cess Act. That tendency was marked long before the Road Cess Act was thought of. The Road Cess Act was passed to improve communications. It was not passed, as certain newspapers have said, to provide an improved water-supply. That was a suggestion of the Duke of Argyll before the Act was drafted, but the Act of 1871 was limited to the improvement of communications: there was no mention in it of water-supply. Subsequent legislation has included water-supply as one of the objects to which the funds levied under the Act can be devoted, but when the Act was originally passed, it was confined to the improvement of communications. That is an important point to recollect. Therefore that Act, in empowering local authorities to provide means of communication, could never have had any effect in preventing zamindars from digging tanks for the benefit and welfare of their raiyats. Whatever the cause may have been, which has led to the withering up of charity in this respect, it is certainly not due to the passing of the Road Cess law. It is possibly due to the many and diverse demands from zamindars of a different character which have arisen within the last fifty or sixty years. Zamindars have to meet much larger demands than before, but it is greatly to be regretted that the digging and repairing of tanks, which is most important for the welfare of the people, has ceased, and I can only repeat that if the people are to be effectively relieved from the sufferings they are now enduring, it can only be done by the co-operation of landlords and raiyats."

THE HON'BLE MR. RISLEY said:—"I will endeavour to take up in order the numerous points which have been referred to by the several Hon'ble Members who have spoken, omitting those which have been effectively dealt with by other speakers who have preceded me. Commencing with the Hon'ble Babu Guru Proshad Sen, I observe that he took exception to the character of the debates which take place in this Council on the budget, on the ground that no practical result can come from the discussion. The same point was touched on by the next speaker (Hon'ble Surendranath Banerjee), who took a more reasonable view of the matter. To what he said I have only to add that it does not follow that reasonable criticism is useless because it does not produce its effects till the next year. Whatever remarks are made by Hon'ble Members in the course of the discussion of the financial statement receive very careful consideration, and in many cases action is taken by Government in the directions indicated. Returning to the Hon'ble Member who spoke first, I share Mr. Cotton's surprise that he should have adopted what I can only describe as an extremely melancholy attitude, and should have bemoaned the fact that excise and stamps have yielded too much revenue, and that our finances are altogether too prosperous. To any one who has ever read the debates on the English budget, it is curious to find that a state of things on which the Chancellor of the Exchequer congratulates a country not specially conspicuous for temperance, should be treated as a matter for regret in a country the people of which, for all that has been said to the contrary, are emphatically sober.

"After complaining of the extension by leaps and bounds of the excise revenue, the Hon'ble Member's next point was to challenge the action of the Government on the report of the Excise Commission. He charged us with slipping out of the pledges given when that Commission reported, and gradually whittling away and getting rid of the restrictions which we agreed to at the time. Nothing can be further from the facts. One of the main recommendations of the Commission was that central distilleries should be re-established in all large towns at the head-quarters of districts—they enumerated twelve towns, including Patna and Dacca, in which such distilleries should be established; and they added that the question of establishing central distilleries in other places was carefully considered, but they decided against recommending it. So far from stopping short of the recommendations of the Commission, the Government went a long way beyond them, and at the present moment the central distillery system is in force in the whole of the Presidency Division, in Dacca, and in Orissa, with the exception of certain jungly tracts in Cuttack which are unsuited to it. It is also in force in the whole of the Burdwan Division, with the exception of certain jungly tracts in Midnapore, which are equally unsuited to it. Moreover, whereas the Excise Commission merely recommended the introduction of central distilleries in large towns, that system has been extended in a manner they never dreamed of by the establishment of depôts which enable outstill liquor to be spread over very much larger areas than would otherwise be possible. To show the effect which the report of the Commission has had, I will quote the figures of the number of outstill shops in 1886-87 and in subsequent years. In 1886-87, which may be practically taken as the first year affected by the report, there were 3,608 outstill shops; by 1890-91 that number had dropped to 1,722, and it now stands at 2,038. As regards the rise since 1890-91 in the number of outstill shops, I cannot admit that it is a matter for criticism at all. Each case is considered as it comes up; conditions change, and orders must be changed to meet them, and where a large policy like this is initiated, I need not say that anybody who has experience of affairs will know that you may go at first further than is desirable, and afterwards circumstances may show the necessity of modifying the action which was taken.

"The next allegation is that we have disregarded the recommendations of the Commission as to fixing the sites of outstills. The Commission recommended that the local authorities should be consulted in this matter, and everybody must feel that their recommendation was a reasonable one. The action taken by the Government was to draw up a set of rules setting out precisely what the district authorities should do in order that local option may be exercised as far as is possible under the conditions of this country. The rules are long, and I will not quote them at length. The rule to which the hon'ble gentleman has referred to runs as follows:—

'The district officer should notify to Municipal Commissioners the sites selected for liquor shops within municipal limits, and should the Commissioners object to any of them, he should carefully consider their objections, and if he does not agree with them, should refer the matter to the Commissioner of Excise for decision, pending which he should not allow any shop to be opened on a site objected to.'

"Our procedure in this matter was approved by the Government of India, our rules were circulated to other Provinces, and it was suggested that the rule which I have quoted should be universally adopted. It is therefore incorrect to say that in respect of local option there has been any departure from the recommendations of the Commission.

"The Hon'ble Member went on to speak of the reduction of the duty on distillery liquor in Bihar. The circumstances which led to this change are these: that there were two rates of duty in Bihar, Rs. 2 and Rs. 2-8 per gallon. It was found that there was no reason for differential rates, and it was considered more convenient to have one uniform rate. The question was one solely of convenience, and no other issue was in any way involved. The Hon'ble Member has gone even further astray in the next subject he touched upon, namely, the reduction of distillery fees. The practice was to charge the abkars a uniform rate of distillery fees, whatever the strength of the liquor might be. This made it to their interest to distil liquor at higher strengths than the people are used to. As the Hon'ble Member knows very well, the stuff the people of Bihar drink by preference is called khasia, and ranges from 84 to 90 degrees below proof. The object of graduating the distillery fee to the strength of the liquor was to remove all temptation from the people to drink stronger liquor, and that end has, I am glad to say, been attained.

"Then there was the question of fixing a minimum price. It was no doubt recommended by the Excise Commission that a minimum price should be fixed for the sale of outstill liquor. I think every one felt at the time that such an attempt was doing violence to all economic principles. It was, however, tried, but would not work. It was described by an officer of much experience as the 'wildest of chimeras.' The Board of Revenue said it was useless to pass rules on the subject. The abkars were exceedingly sharp, and it was impossible to get from them an admission that the liquor was sold below the minimum price. Nor would their customers betray them. For these reasons the attempt was abandoned simply because it was found to be ineffective.

"A further allegation is that we have unreasonably and in bad faith departed from the recommendation of the Commission that the capacity of stills and fermenting vats used by outstill licensees should be limited. This is a recommendation on which the Commission laid considerable stress, and it has a very long history. From Regulation XXXIV of 1793 down to the Excise Act of 1878 the capacity of the stills to be used by outstill licensees was in theory limited, but opinion is very much divided as to the meaning of the law. It is obviously absurd to have a hard-and-fast rule limiting the still to a particular capacity, quite irrespective of the demand from the tract to be supplied. The matter was enquired into in 1879, and it was found that the restriction had been practically all along a dead-letter; consequently, the clause was struck out of the license, possibly without sufficient consideration. Four years later the enquiry was taken up by the Board of Revenue independently, and before there was any talk of the Excise Commission. But it is an extremely intricate matter, and it took a long time to get reports from the District Officers. The Commission was then appointed, and the Board handed over the matter to the Commission. They dealt with it in paragraph 107 of their report, and recommended a certain system. Their idea was that the aggregate producing power to be allowed in each district should be fixed by the Board of Revenue and divided by the local authorities among the shops of each district in proportion to the local demand.

"Thus the capacity of each still would be such as to meet the local demand upon it. This proposal took a great deal of consideration, but eventually it was approved and adopted in the Board's rules; and I find there an elaborate formula for ascertaining the capacity of the still. These rules lay down that the local demand is to be determined from the accounts of the licensees and the statements of the villagers. Having got these wholly untrustworthy data, you then perform a complicated arithmetical calculation, and the result is that you get out that according to the theory the still should hold so many gallons. It was found, however, after some enquiry, that the capacity of the still could not be so determined; the data were absolutely conjectural, and the system cost infinite trouble to the fiscal authorities. Moreover, it annoyed the abkars, as it has frequently afforded the easiest means of black-mailing them; but if the abkar was on good terms with his fellow-villagers and the excise subordinates, he experienced no difficulties; he could work his still and his vats in another district, or in the fields. I went carefully into the question when I visited

Patna five years ago, and came to the conclusion that the rules could not be enforced. Then a new rule was introduced, which withdrew absolutely all restrictions upon the capacity of the fermenting vats, and as regards the stills, Collectors are empowered to extend the capacity to such extent as they think desirable subject to the control of the Excise Commissioner. To sum up—the scheme of the Excise Commission was tried for a good many years, but it was found that it could not be worked at all as regards the capacity of the vats, and as regards stills, only to a certain extent; consequently a larger discretion has been given to local officers. This, I think, disposes of all the points raised by the Hon'ble Member in connection with the Excise Commission.

"As regards the stamp revenue, I confess that the point of view taken by the Hon'ble Member is to me rather a puzzling one. He seems to think that by some art magic the receipts from stamps can be improperly increased. But the administration of the stamp revenue is, above all things, a matter of positive law. The Court-Fees Act of 1870 and the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, and the rules made under them, lay down, in the most precise and particular fashion, what kind of stamp is appropriate on any particular occasion, and provide for settling doubts by reference or appeal. Everyone has his pleader, his mukhtear or his dalal to look after his interests, and I have not found these gentlemen at all backward in taking all the advantages the law gives them. What I wish to insist upon is that the question is one of law, and law only. Whether the proper means of settling it is an appeal to the Board of Revenue or a reference to the High Court I am not prepared to say, nor does it matter. But executive discretion can no more affect it than it can the bore on the Hooghly or the distance of the moon from the earth; nor is the discussion of the budget statement a suitable occasion for bringing it forward.

"This brings me to process fees. Hon'ble Members may perhaps remember what Sir George Campbell said about the luxury of litigation; and every one knows that there is no form of expenditure for which money is so readily forthcoming as for carrying on a suit. The Hon'ble Member who comes from Bihar and represents Dacca, and those who think with him, seem to suppose that when they have said that process fees, in so far as they exceed the expenditure on process-serving establishment, are a tax on litigation, they have proved their case. That is hardly so. After all there are many canons of taxation, and this tax in particular is easily collected; it falls, to a great extent, upon a form of luxury, if not of gambling; no one feels its incidence, and it is probably as good a tax all round as you are likely to get.

"Then, as to the grant for education, the Hon'ble Member made the interesting suggestion that the Government of Bengal did not spend as much upon education as the Governments of various other countries did. That, no doubt, may be the case, but it should at the same time be observed that other countries take from the people much more in the way of taxation than we do. Compared with England, the revenue from taxation in Bengal comes to Rs. 1-2-3 per head per annum, whereas in England it is Rs. 31-9-1. No doubt if we got more money from taxation, we should spend more on education. Sir Alfred Croft says we ought to spend 10 lakhs more a year in order to place our system of primary schools on a satisfactory footing. But where is the money to come from? If we are to follow the precedent of England, the first thing we should do would be to divert funds from higher education and spend them upon primary education; but I doubt if that is precisely the conclusion which the Hon'ble Member desired to indicate.

"Turning to the speech of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, I must cordially acknowledge the kindly terms of undue commendation in which he has spoken of the part I have had in the preparation of the financial statement. The Hon'ble Member referred to the Bombay practice of laying before the Council the minor heads of the budget and full details under all heads, and he intimated that it would be very welcome to the non-official members of the Council. Considering what a tangle of details there is, it does not seem so clear to me that Hon'ble Members would thank me for throwing the departmental budgets at their heads; they represent the result of three or four months of hard work and a mass of discussion which I should shrink from inflicting on the Council. Then the Hon'ble Member seems to be under the impression that when the time for a new Provincial contract comes, the accumulated balance of the Province will be taken away, unless it is spent within the year, and he implies that our motive for increasing grants to the Public Works Department is that unless the money is spent, the accumulated balance will be taken away. I may, however, inform him that the Government of India never has taken away the accumulated balance of the province The Hon'ble Member should distinguish between the accumulated balance and the normal surplus; the figures Rs. 14,39,000 represent not the accumulated balance but the normal or recurring surplus. The two things are absolutely different. As the next contract has been referred to by several speakers, I trust I am in no way overstepping the rules which govern our present discussion when I say that we shall make the best fight we can for the Province.

"Under the head of education the figures Rs. 1,60,000 do not include the sum of Rs. 90,000 for electric lighting at the Sibpur Engineering College. I mention this specially because it is an important step in the direction of weaning the rising generation of students from a purely literary career. The intention is that the Sibpur students should put up their own installation, and thus in course of time should learn the rising business of electricity, which promises to open up to them the new and profitable career of electric engineers.

"The question of education within municipal limits, which the Hon'ble Member referred to, has been thoroughly disposed of by what His Honour said in his reply to the address of the Indian Association, with reference to the action of Divisional Commissioners. The complaint is that they interfere too much with the details of the budget, and in that way with the action of municipal bodies with regard to education. It is a question of how Divisional Commissioners should exercise their discretion. It seems to me that the first duty of municipalities is to make full provision for primary education for all children of a school-going age. They may then think of applying funds to a higher class of schools.

"The Hon'ble Member went on to speak with great feeling of the terrible outbreak of cholera going on in many portions of this province, and in the neighbourhood of Calcutta in particular. I wish to say that the Government has done what it can to deal with this formidable but obscure disease. Dr. Haffkine is now working under Government support and assistance at preventive inoculation, and we have placed at his disposal three commissioned Medical Officers and two Assistant Surgeons: he has been to Serampore and other places, and wherever cholera breaks out a telegram is immediately sent to him, and he goes and inoculates every one who will agree to be inoculated. Of course, the visitations of cholera are very greatly aggravated, if not caused, by the defects of water-supply, and no doubt the riparian municipalities are very badly affected for this reason. But I cannot help observing that the municipalities on the west bank of the river Hooghly have themselves chiefly to blame in this matter. It was open to them to have joined in the Howrah Water-works Scheme, and there would then have been a comprehensive scheme embracing all the municipalities in that side of the river, but they refused to join, and the Bally Municipality, which the Hon'ble Member has mentioned specially, actually submitted a petition in 1886 or 1887, praying that whatever may be done, they may not be compelled to provide themselves with pure water. Education they did not mind: water they looked on as a calamity. With regard to that group of municipalities, if the outbreak continues, I think it is a question whether pressure should not be put on them by law to join the Howrah or some other scheme of water-supply.

"As regards mufassal water-supply, we stand on very different ground, and I have not much to add to the remarks which have been made in the recent circular, but I should like to give some explanation as to the question of funds. The allotment of Rs. 5,000 by each District Board enjoined in the last Local Self-Government Resolution is meant of course to be a minimum, and in fact many Boards spend much more. Nor is it intended to lay the whole burden on the Boards. The funds available for the purpose of rural water-supply may be derived from four possible sources. The first source, which I agree with the Chief Secretary ought to be the chief source, is private liberality. I have served a good deal in Western Bengal. There are many exceedingly fine tanks in that part of the country, but the most remarkable thing is the extent to which they have fallen into disrepair. Many of them bear names which indicate their history and origin, and it is certain that most of them, if not all, were constructed from private funds; but the majority are entirely neglected now. Private liberality, like these unfortunate tanks, has to a great extent dried up. The next source from which funds are available is the road-cess. It is true that in Act IX of 1871 there is no mention of water-supply, but Act IX of 1880 was expressly passed in order that District Boards might be able to spend money for the improvement of the water-supply. So that water-supply is at the present time a legitimate charge on the road-cess, and it is a legitimate charge in a different sense from that in which education is a legitimate charge upon the cess. Strictly speaking, the road-cess may be spent on education or anything else, but the objects referred to in our earlier legislation are more properly objects to which the road-cess should be devoted. And the Divisional Commissioners who control the finance of the District Boards have lately been instructed that on grounds of expediency it is desirable, as a general rule that a sum equivalent to the proceeds of the road-cess should be devoted to the objects specified in Act IX of 1880. Their attention was at the same time directed to the improvement of water-supply as an object demanding special attention at the present time. The third method by which funds may be provided is by the action of the Loans Act. This Act was passed in 1883 immediately after the sum of one lakh, to which the Chief Secretary has referred, was advanced for water-supply in Nadia. The object of this Act is to enable you to do formally under the law what was done in Nadia with considerable difficulty outside the law. There is yet a fourth source which is available in small parts of certain districts, under section 118 of the Local Self-Government Act which empowers Union Committees to raise and spend money on water-supply within certain limits.

"I turn now to the very large question of the salaries of menial servants and ministerial officers. First, as to menial servants, I should explain that we have already submitted to the Government of India a proposal for spending more than half a lakh per annum in raising the salaries of all menial servants who get Rs. 5 or under. That disposes, as far as possible, of the question of menial servants of the Government. A similar proposal has been made with reference to the salaries of poddars who do work at the sub-treasuries The salaries of these poddars in the Presidency Division were raised some five years ago, and it is now proposed to raise the salaries of the others, which will be felt as a great boon. The question of the salaries of ministerial officers is a much more difficult one. It was discussed at great length in the tenth Chapter of the report of the Salaries Commission. They say there that the rise in prices comes to over 60 per cent., but in point of fact this is not correct. They got this percentage by adding up a number of percentages of increase, all of which factors they treat as of equivalent value. They say rice has gone up 65·3 per cent., vegetables 83·6, and condiments 11·1 per cent. But what proportion of a man's income does he spend on condiments? It is the percentage of condiments that runs up the scale. Again, they have left out of account piece-goods, the price of which has fallen within this period. Taking grey shirtings as a test, the price of clothes has fallen 37 per cent., and at the time when the Salaries Commission wrote, salt had fallen 35 per cent. The question is no doubt an intricate one. Economists in Europe have been engaged on similar problems for some years past, without any very convincing results. But one thing is certain that the Commission's table is wholly fallacious, and gives no better idea of the real fluctuations of prices than Sir John Falstaff's tavern bill does of the expenditure on bread and sack of the average Englishman of his day. The conclusion of the Salaries Commission cannot therefore be accepted. I am inclined to think that the net rise in the prices which affects the ministerial may be put fairly enough at something between 13 and 16 per cent. But the Salaries Commission do not proceed solely on that ground. They go upon the general rise in the standard of living, and thereby bring in a number of vague indefinite factors, which the Government cannot recognise, and which are under the control of the people themselves. They thus arrive at the conclusion that the cost of living has risen by as much as 75 per cent. and they suggest that salaries should be raised somewhat on the basis of this assumption. I have had a statement prepared of the cost of a much more moderate increase to the salaries of ministeral officers, and from this it would appear that to give an increase of 12½ per cent., or two annas in the Rupee, would necessitate an increased monthly expenditure of Rs. 30,691, or an annual increase of Rs. 3,68,292. You may say that it will cost in round numbers four lakhs, and that means a very large increase in the permanent expenditure of the Province. It will further involve the raising of the salaries of a whole class of officers on grounds which would affect other Provinces too, and under the rules which govern the provincial contracts, such a proposal would most certainly require the confirmation of the Government of India, and it is doubtful how such a proposal would be regarded. I imagine the first question will be, is it necessary? Can you get men on the present scale of pay; and the answer must be that at present certainly the supply more than equals the demand. We recognise that this state of things is undesirable, and we are trying to divert the energies of the rising generation into channels other than literary; but, so far, much progress has not been made. This line of argument no doubt is a hard one, but I confess I do not see how to meet it. My personal sympathy with this class of officers is strong; they have done admirable work for me, and I notice that of late years lines of advancement which used to be open to them have been closed. I sympathise with them, but I can hold out no hope of a general increase of pay.

"In answer to one point in the Hon'ble Mr. Anundo Mohun Bose's disserta tion on the subject of education, I have a small explanation to give. He spoke of the decrease of Rs. 56,000 under the head of Education. Speaking from memory, I believe that in 1894-95 we gave a grant of Rs. 31,000 to the District Boards for expenditure on education in that one year provisionally, and that grant has, in the budget of 1895-96, been made permanent. The decrease therefore is really a transfer from Provincial to Local. Instead of Government spending the money, the District Boards spend it. On the whole account the aggregate expenditure has greatly increased. I have the figures, but do not propose to inflict them on the Council.

"The Hon'ble Member who represents the Hooghly district pressed upon us, first, that the Hooghly Board had no funds, and could not do anything for the improvement of the water-supply, and secondly, that one lakh should be given to District Boards out of the provincial funds. But there are 38 District Boards, and the amount which would fall to the lot of each Board would not be very large, even if there was a case for making the grant, which I am not at all prepared to admit. The details of contributions on the expenditure side of the budget show that we already give to District Boards the sum of Rs. 8,61,357 by way of aid to their finances, and until all other sources of expenditure have been exhausted, including the credit of the District Boards themselves, it is extremely doubtful whether any further contribution should be given.

"Lastly, the Hon'ble Mr. Gladstone called attention to the entries in the budget under the head of 'Medical' providing for the improvement of the Calcutta hospitals, and he made certain remarks on the state of the General Hospital in particular. The General Hospital is a very old hospital, and it is admitted on all hands that it has great structural defects; its fittings and furniture are also antiquated, and much can be done for its improvement. There is, I may say, every intention to improve it. Provision has been made for proper cooking arrangements and also for better quarters for the apothecaries, who are now called Assistant Surgeons. Full provision has also been made for bedding and for various minor requirements that will tend to the comfort and convenience of the patients. As regards a home for European paying patients, I can only say that the matter has been thought of, and will be considered, and whatever can be done within the limits of a reasonable allotment to improve not only the fittings and furniture, but the building itself, will be done. The reconstruction of the apothecaries' quarters will, I hope, render it possible to construct a new block for paying patients ; but on this point I can say nothing definite at present. I wish to add that no one can be more anxious for improvement than Dr. Crombie, and the present Superintendent, Dr. Cobb, is equally zealous in the same cause."

THE Hon'ble MR. COTTON said :—" With the permission of Your Honour I wish to add one observation. I failed in the remarks which I addressed to the Council to take notice of the Hon'ble Mr. Womack's criticism as to the fees which are charged in suits in the Small Cause Court. The matter is under consideration between this Government and the Government of India ; and although we are precluded by the rules of this Council from publishing any details of such negotiations, I trust the result of the correspondence now going on will be to afford satisfaction to the Hon'ble Member and the Association which he represents."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—" Sat prata biberunt. I think you will all agree with me that this debate has lasted long enough, and that there are limits to one's physical endurance in this trying weather. It is true that some of the speeches have been a little discursive, but I do not know that we need quarrel with Hon'ble Members on that account. We might perhaps have had less of what the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee called ancient history, but the debate has been interesting and useful in calling attention to matters in which non-official Members take interest, and on the whole I have listened with advantage to what has been said. Touching the criticisms which have been passed on various questions of administration, Hon'ble Members will doubtless see that it is not possible that I should, at the present moment, make any observations, and I think you will understand that I can only promise to consider carefully what has been suggested. I will not attempt to travel over ground which has been so ably occupied by the Secretaries. Many things which I had intended to say have already been taken out of my mouth, especially by the Hon'ble Mr. Risley, and it will be unnecessary for me to repeat what has been already said. But I think it right to notice very briefly one or two points which have been raised.

" First, with reference to education, I think everybody must have been struck by the fact that it is the subject which was referred to most often in the speeches which we have heard, and the general opinion appears to be that we ought to spend a good deal more upon education than we are actually spending or propose to spend in the coming year. I can only say, as regards that, that it is not competent to me to enter in the Budget a lump sum for expenditure on undetermined or unprepared schemes, but I shall be perfectly prepared to incur larger expenditure upon education when well-considered schemes are laid before me by the Director of Public Instruction, or in any other way. I admit that Bengal could usefully spend a much larger sum upon education, and if our finances continue to prosper, I hope to be able to increase the grant considerably. I should be sorry indeed to diminish the amount of the present grant by one single rupee, and, as a matter of fact, we have increased the grant very largely, for the expenditure proposed under the head of public works, for the introduction of electric lighting at the Sibpur Engineering College, is really educational outlay. For the coming year the grant has in fact been increased by two and-a-half lakhs.

" In the matter of public works, I entirely endorse what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Gladstone. A large sum has been allotted for expenditure upon the Medical College Hospital, and my intention is, if I am spared, and if our financial improvement continues, practically to remodel the whole of the hospital accommodation of the city. Calcutta is far behind other cities in India in respect of its hospitals. We have taken up the Medical College Hospital first, because there are large improvements in connection with it, which were already in progress, and these it is desirable to complete in the first instance. The only limit to the allotment for public works this year is the amount which the Public Works Department can profitably expend. I have given every rupee they think they can spend, but I hope very shortly, possibly, if all goes well, next year, to be able to take up the remodelling of the General Hospital, which I entirely agree is called for, and which to a certain extent, has been begun this year by the renovation of the Apothecaries' quarters.

"As regards District Boards, a good deal has been said to-day as to their position, with reference to the question of water-supply. I saw in a Calcutta paper the other day a most libellous statement to the effect that the Government had made use of the cess funds to relieve itself of charges for education and dispensaries which the Government ought to have met from the provincial revenues. Nothing could be further from the turth. The Government made over to the District Boards funds which were adequate to meet the expenditure on these objects, the control and management of which has been made over to the Boards, and the figures which were quoted lately in Council show that the funds so made over are more than ample to meet the purposes for which they were given. I quite admit that there has been a strong tendency on the part of some District Boards to divert some of the funds raised under the Road Cess Act to other objects. Our District Board would like very much to divert a large proportion of its revenues to education, but the circular which the Hon'ble Mr. Risley has read to the Council will show that I have put my foot down upon this. I have said that the funds raised from the road cess must be appropriated as nearly as possible to the objects contemplated and in accordance with the pledges given when the road cess was imposed, with this slight modification that those objects include the objects contemplated by the amending Act of 1880; that is to say, that they include water-supply and drainage, which are perfectly legitimate objects of expenditure from cess. But I am not prepared to say that the proceeds of the road cess should be devoted to expenditure on dispensaries or the support of schools, or to furnishing veterinary assistance. I think that, on the whole, you may be satisfied that the Government has done its best to stir up the District Boards to take all possible care that the cess funds are properly applied. In the matter of water-supply the Boards must not only do what they can themselves, but should become the centres of district agitation, organisations for stimulating all concerned to do what can be done.

"There is one point in respect of which I would ask every educated gentleman to do what he can. When I was lately in Darjeeling, I received a telegram from Serampore, reporting an outbreak of cholera there. I wired to the Secretariat, and the Sanitary Commissioner was sent up there at once. He found not only that the water in the tanks was at an extremely low ebb, but that actually on the margins of the few existing drinking-water tanks cholera-soiled garments were being washed, and that nobody took any objection to it. What wonder, when people tolerate a thing like this, that nothing can be done for them! It is simply insanity: it is simply suicide. And it is hopeless for the Government or the District Boards, or anybody else to improve water-supply if the people themselves practise insanitary acts of this kind. It is the duty of every educated native gentleman to see that things like this do not occur, and to explain to the people the suicidal folly of such practices.

"There is only one point which I think the Hon'ble Mr. Risley did not notice, and that is the question raised by the Hon'ble Mr. Womack with reference to jail manufactures. I think the Hon'ble Member who raised this question may rest satisfied that the rules under which manufactures in jails are being worked are perfectly fair, and the Government of India has just insisted that the 3½ per cent. duty, which has been recently levied under the Cotton Duties Act, should be added to the cost of articles manufactured in jails. I know that the question is a difficult one, but my own experience in Bengal is that private enterprise has nothing to fear from jail competition. The work is, as a rule, done for the departments of the Government, and there is really no competition with the outside market.

"I wish to add just one word with regard to the cost of civil justice and Munsifs. As the Hon'ble Mr. Cotton pointed out, it is perfectly true that the stamp revenue is levied under the general law, and at the present rates of stamp fees, taking all India together, the administration of civil justice does not pay. It is true that it pays in Bengal, and that we get a good surplus; but that is our luck. The only result of agitation on this subject may be the passing of a differential Court-fees Act for Bengal, and that will take away our revenue without doing much good to anybody.

"With regard to Munsifs, I am perfectly prepared to increase the staff of Munsifs to any extent which the High Court may declare to be necessary. I do not think any representation from the High Court will be negatived, but these things must be looked into carefully. When a representation comes from the High Court, we shall give it the fullest and most liberal consideration.

"I do not think there is much left to which I need refer. I could say a good deal with reference to the remarks which fell from the Hon'ble Mr. Das, in regard to the establishment of agricultural classes. The Hon'ble Member did not meet with much sympathy from the Hon'ble Mr. Bolton, but my experience has been different, and I confess I have a good deal of sympathy with him. In the Central Provinces agriculture is taught in the village schools. We had a garden attached to many schools, in which the lessons learnt from the agricultural primer are put into practice. Once a week the elders of the village used to come to the school, have the primer read to them, and discuss with the boys and the master how the lessons in the primer quadrated with their experience, and the whole village took more interest in that subject than in any other. I do not know whether the same thing can be done in Bengal, but I am told that here the curriculum in primary schools is so long that the poor boys would not have time to take up fresh subjects. What the curriculum at Sibpur will be has not yet been determined, but my desire will be not so much the training of raiyats in the science of agriculture as the training of men who may take charge of wards' estates and things of that kind in which an agricultural training would be of use.

"I think I need not detain the Council any longer."

THE BENGAL LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT OF 1885, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY introduced the Bill to amend the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885, and moved that it be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The HON'BLE MR. RISLEY also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the HON'BLE MR. WILKINS, the Hon'ble Rai Durgagati Banerjea, Bahadur, the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerjee, and the Mover.

The Hon'ble BABU GURU PROSHAD SEN moved, as an amendment that the Bill be not now referred to a Select Committee, but that it be published in the Calcutta Gazette for public information. He said:—

"On enquiry it will be found that horses and mules are not used for purposes of agriculture in this Province, and, moreover, there is no urgency in regard to this Bill. It may be necessary to have veterinary assistants for the treatment of cattle; but it is not yet known whether the veterinary assistants who are being trained will be able to treat cattle successfully. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons it is said that the Bill is introduced at the request of the Government of India. It may be that we are bound to carry out the mandates of supreme authority, but the Object and Reasons for this Bill are not clear. It will be a useless expenditure on the part of the Local and District Boards which they can hardly at the present moment afford. I submit under these circumstances that, before referring the Bill to a Select Committee, the views of the public should be ascertained, and when public opinion has been ascertained, it will be a question for consideration whether there should not be one Consolidation Act, containing the whole law connected with Local Self-Government. At present there are three or four Local Self-Government Acts: there ought to be one Consolidated Act. Then there are certain omissions in the law, several of which are perhaps of a formal character, but there is one important omission, namely, that, under section 13 of the present law, the Maharaja of Darbhanga, the premier landlord of Bengal, and Nawab Ahsoonoolla of Dacca would not be entitled to be elected to Local Boards. As these gentlemen reside within municipal limits, they would not be entitled to be elected to any of the Local Boards in the districts over which their zemindaries spread. That is an anomaly which ought to be removed. Then as to the power of the Local Government to frame rules. The Act leaves the most important points to be determined by rules, such as the rules for determining disputes relating to elections. I am perfectly certain that wise rules would be framed, but I think that that power ought not to be left to the Local Government. Again, if it is intended that the Civil Courts should be ousted of their jurisdiction to take cognizance of these disputes, I for one will certainly vote against such a provision Under these circumstances, and as there is no urgency, I submit that the reference to the Select Committee should be postponed and the Bill should be circulated in order to elicit public opinion upon its provisions."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said—"I certainly think that a matter like this ought to receive very serious consideration at the hands of the public, but at the same time it does not seem to me necessary to vote against the reference of the Bill to a Select Committee. I desire to point out to my hon'ble friend, and to those who were members of this Council two years back, that when the Drainage Bill was introduced there was considerable difference of opinion as to the desirability of the Bill, and it was pressed that before the Bill was referred to a Select Committee the opinion of the country upon its provisions should be ascertained. But we came to a compromise, which, I think, worked admirably, as I think all compromises generally do. It was agreed that the Bill should be referred to a Select Committee, but that the Select Committee should be requested to circulate the Bill among the various public bodies and associations, and ascertain the sense of the country. I believe a large amount of valuable information was thus collected. Therefore while fully agreeing with my hon'ble friend that public opinion upon the provisions of this Bill should be ascertained, it does not seem necessary that for that purpose the reference of the Bill to the Select Committee should be resisted. I hope the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill will have no objection to follow this course, namely, after referring the Bill to the Select Committee, to forward it to the various public bodies and associations with a view to the submission of their opinions upon its provisions. I cannot agree with my hon'ble friend that there is no necessity for this Bill. I think it a matter of great importance to take steps for the improvement of the breed of cattle, horses, &c., but it may be a matter for consideration whether the duty of making provision for such a purpose should be thrown on District Boards, or whether it should not be met out of Provincial Funds. I would like to recommended to the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill that some member of this Council who represents District Boards should be put upon the Committee.

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY said:—"I trust that the amendment which has been moved will not be accepted by the Council. It is perfectly true that there is no urgency in connection with the passing of this Bill, but, on the other hand, there is no reason for delaying it. As for the merits, I should have thought that if there is any country in the world which welcome a proposal to make provision for treating the diseases of animals, it is India, and I am surprised that the hon'ble mover of the amendment has taken up a line in opposition to the Bill. It is, I think, most desirable that the Bill in the stage in which it is at present should be put in the hands of a Select Committee, and that it should be left to them to modify it in the way they think best, and to obtain public opinion upon it if they think it necessary. That was the course adopted in respect of the Drainage Bill, and it certainly answered very well. There is one point, however, for which I wish to give an explanation, namely, the provision in the Bill relating to the rules to be framed under the Act for deciding election disputes. The Hon'ble Babu Guru Proshad Sen seems to be under the impression that this provision will bar the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts. I thought it was settled by law long ago that the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts rests upon section 45 of the Specific Relief Act, and their jurisdiction is expressly saved in respect of such matters."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—"I would suggest that the consideration of this motion be postponed to the next meeting. As I have said before, there is no intention of rushing these Bills through, but I wish it to be distinctly understood that I am not going to allow this Bill to be extended, nor can there be any attempt at consolidation. The Bill is to be kept to the points which it now includes."

The further consideration of the Motion was accordingly postponed.

THE BENGAL MUNICIPAL ACT, 1884, AMENDMENT BILL.

The consideration of the following motions was also postponed to the next sitting of the Council:—

(1) The Hon'ble Mr. Risley to introduce the Bill to further amend the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, and to move that it be read in Council.

(2) Also to move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Wilkins, the Hon'ble Rai Durga Gati Banerjea Bahadur, the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Benarjee and the Mover.

THE PROTECTION OF MUHAMMADAN PILGRIMS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the protection of Muhammadan pilgrims.

THE ESTATES PARTITION BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the law relating to the partition of estates. He said :—

"At this late hour and after the prolonged discussion we have had to-day, it will be a relief to the Council to hear that I do not intend to enter into an elaborate statement in support of the introduction of this Bill, or an explanation of its Objects and Reasons. I may say in one sentence that the chief objects of the Bill are firstly to simplify the machinery and shorten and cheapen the procedure for effecting partitions, and secondly, to impose some limit on the subdivisions of estates below which partitions will not be carried out by the Collector. I propose now to make only a formal motion to ask leave to introduce the Bill, and at the next meeting of the Council I shall ask leave to have the Bill read in Council, and shall then submit such remarks as I may have to offer, explaining the necessity for the Bill and its Objects and Reasons."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 11th March, 1896.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE EDEN SANITARIUM FOR THE YEAR 1895.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT,—MEDICAL.

READ—

The Report on the working of the Eden Sanitarium for the year 1895.

Read also—

The Report for the year 1894, and the Resolution recorded upon it.

	1886.	1887.	1888.	1889.	1890.	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.	1895.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
Patients	273	344	336	370	316	356	370	328	314	347
Relatives and attendants ...	120	84	107	122	86	151	44	31	35	73
Total ...	393	428	443	492	402	507	414	359	349	420

As compared with the figures of the preceding two years, there was an increase in 1895 in the number both of patients and of relatives and attendants admitted.

	1892.	1893.	1894.	1895.
First class	59	51	51	73
Intermediate class	90	52	50	62
Second class	146	144	139	140
Third class	119	112	109	145
Total ...	414	359	349	420

It will be observed that there was a considerable increase, as compared with the returns of previous years, in every class except the second.

Of the 347 patients treated, 273 were adults (158 males and 115 females) and 74 children. This shows an increase over the figures of 1894, in which year the number of males, females and children was 149, 106 and 59 respectively. The total number of patients who occupied free beds declined from 30 in 1894 to 20 during the year under review. Of these 16 were received from the Calcutta Hospitals, and 4 were admitted by the Sanitarium Committee. But besides these, 9 patients were received from the General Hospital under the provision made by Government for sending convalescent seamen from Calcutta to the Sanitarium against 3 in 1894. The daily average number of patients was 34·67 against 45·5 in 1894, but it should be explained that the high figure shown for the latter year was caused by the Sanitarium being open for an unusually short time, and that the average of 1895 is above that of the last few years.

The average stay of each patient in the Sanitarium was 23·88 days, against 30·72 in 1894 and 24·94 in 1893. About 36 per cent. of the patients admitted were suffering from diseases, directly or indirectly, of malarial origin, while dyspepsia, diarrhœa, and diseases of the liver, and of the respiratory system, were the next most common forms of complaint; 133 surgical operations, of which 11 were major and 122 minor, were performed, against 159 in 1894 and 94 in 1893. All the operations were successful. Only three deaths occurred during the year against six in 1894. Two of these cases were received in a moribund state. The percentage of deaths was ·86, as compared with 1·91 in 1894, and ·91 in 1893.

The total income of the institution fell off from Rs. 34,459-4-4 in 1894 to Rs. 30,483-11-1 during the year under review, the decline being entirely under the head of receipts from patients and most marked in the first and third classes. The expenditure showed a more than corresponding reduction, amounting to Rs. 30,561-11 against Rs. 36,720-2-3 in 1894. The decrease occurred almost entirely under the head of "Diet," the cost of which fell from Rs. 16,890 to Rs. 11,740, or from Re. 1-11-6 to Re. 1·6 per head. This is attributed to the smaller daily average of patients, to arrangements made by the Deputy Commissioner for procuring supplies locally, and to the appointment of a European steward. The expenditure of the year exceeded the income by Rs. 77-15-11, and the credit balance was reduced by that amount to meet the deficit. The year closed with a credit balance of Rs. 7,738-0-7 against Rs. 7,816-0-6 in 1894.

The free cot for children was occupied during the year under review from the 16th April till the 8th October by three children, who derived great benefit from their stay.

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the superior establishment of the institution performed their duties satisfactorily. His acknowledgments are due to the Superintendent, Surgeon-Major R. Cobb, and to the Committee of Management for the efficient working of the Sanitarium during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

WEATHER AND CROP REPORT.

For the week ending the 20th April, 1896.

Burdwan.—Rainfall nil. Weather hot. Ploughing retarded for want of rain. Water scarce in places. Fodder sufficient except in thana Kalna. Condition of cattle good. Price of common rice averages 16 seers a rupee except in Kalna, where the average is 13 seers.

Midnapore.—Rainfall nil. Weather hot. Rain is badly wanted. Scarcity of good drinking-water is felt throughout the district except Tamluk. Cattle-disease reported from four thanas in the Sadar subdivision and from Moisadal and Sutahata in Tamluk. Fodder is not sufficient in Sadar, Chandrakona, and Daspur. Common rice selling as follows:—

	Srs.
Sadar	19	per rupee.
Contai	22 to 24
Tamluk	16
Ghatal	14 to 17

24-Parganas.—Rainfall nil. Weather hot and dry. No crops on the ground at present. Ploughing retarded for want of rain. Fodder and water insufficient in places. Condition of cattle good. Rice sells at—

	Srs.	c.
Sadar	12 to 14	0	per rupee.
Barasat	12	0
Basirhat	12	5
Diamond Harbour	15	8

Murshidabad.—Rainfall ·36. Weather hot. More rain wanted. State of boro paddy, indigo and mulberry not good. Fodder sufficient. Common rice sells at 15 seers per rupee.

Khulna.—Rainfall nil. Weather very hot. Cultivation of aus retarded. Prospects of boro (spring rice) not good. Rain badly wanted. Scarcity of drinking-water in places. Fodder sufficient. Common rice sells at—

	Srs.	c.
Sadar	14 to 19	0	per rupee.
Bagerhat	16	8
Satkhira	11	0

Dinajpur.—Rainfall ·88. Weather very hot. West winds. Rain is much wanted to expedite the sowing of bhadoi and jute. Common rice sells from 15 to 16 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease. No complaint for fodder and water.

Rangpur.—Rainfall 1·09. Aus and jute still being sown. The rainfall of the week has been beneficial to the crops. Common rice selling at 12 to 15 seers per rupee. Fodder and water-supply sufficient.

Pabna.—Rainfall ·42. Weather hot. Rain badly wanted. Paddy and jute being sown. Drinking-water is scarce in places. Fodder available.

Dacca.—Rainfall ·12. Weather excessively hot. Rain is much needed. Jute and aus plants suffering. Want of good drinking-water in almost every part of the district. Fodder available. Common rice sells at 13 seers per rupee.

Chittagong.—No rain. Weather unusually dry and hot. Rain much wanted for standing crops and for cultivation of aus. Water and fodder sufficient. Rice sells at 13 seers per rupee.

Patna.—No rain. Threshing and winnowing of rabi crops and weighment of opium proceeding. Castor being harvested. Condition of cattle fair. Fodder for cattle sufficient throughout the district except green fodder, which is reported scarce in Bihar, where, however, dry fodder is available. Water for cattle diminishing both in Barh and Bihar subdivisions. Common rice selling at 20 seers per rupee.

Gaya.—No rain. Sugarcane and cheena millet doing well. Price of common rice at Sadar 16 seers, against an average of 18½ seers per rupee.

Champaran.—No rain. Weather hot, but nights and mornings are rather cool. Land is being prepared for bhadoi and aghani. Bhadoi sowing has commenced in places. Common rice sells at Motihari 17½ seers per rupee. Fodder and water for cattle sufficient.

Darbhanga.—No rain. West wind prevailing. Rain urgently wanted for early paddy, mung, and indigo. Common rice selling at 18 seers per rupee.

Bhagalpur.—No rain. Weather dry. Wind irregular, sometimes easterly and sometimes westerly. Last two days of the week rather cool. Sowing of bhadoi and aghani crops in progress. Rain urgently needed. Prospects of indigo fair. Fodder getting scarce. Cattle-disease continues in Banka.

Purnea.—No rain. Rabi harvest complete. Jute and bhadoi being sown. Lands are being prepared for aghani and bhadoi paddy. Plantation of sugarcane commenced. Rain much wanted. Fodder getting scarce in some places in the Araria subdivision. No cattle-disease. Common rice selling from 17 to 20 seers per rupee.

Cuttack.—Slight rainfall. Weather hot. Dalua (spring rice) harvest going on. Condition of cattle good. Fodder sufficient. Common rice sells at—

		Srs.	c.
Cuttack	... ...	23	0	per rupee.
Jajpur	... ...	31	4
Kendrapara	... ...	30	0

Hazaribagh.—No rain. Rain wanted. Prospects of sugarcane and mahua good. Rice sells at 12 to 14 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—Rain over Northern Bengal and parts of Eastern Bengal during the week has done good to the standing crops, and has expedited the sowing of early rice and jute. Generally, rain is still badly wanted; and there is little change in agricultural prospects. The rabi harvest is now over, and the outturn is estimated at about 12 annas for the whole Province. The harvesting of spring rice is going on in Orissa. Cattle-disease is still reported from parts of Midnapore and from Banka in Bhagalpur. There is scarcity of water in places in Burdwan, Midnapore, 24-Parganas, Khulna, Pabna, and Dacca. The price of common rice is still steady.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1896.

THE chief features of note in the weather of the past month have been—

1. Pressure has been in distinct defect, the usual deficiency varying from 0·03″ to 0·05″.

2. The mean temperature for the month has been in excess by from about 3° to 4°. This excess has been larger in the case of the day than the night temperatures, for the maximum temperatures at many stations have been from 5° to 6° in excess.

3. Humidity has generally been very decidedly below the normal. In the case of cloud proportion the majority of stations report that the sky has been less clouded than usual, but the variation from the normal standard is not large.

4. Fairly steady westerly and south-westerly winds have prevailed at the great majority of stations, practically throughout the month. At a few of the north-eastern and eastern stations light to moderate easterly and south-easterly winds have been reported.

5. Rainfall has been unusually scanty throughout the month. Practically no rain at all has fallen in Chota Nagpur, Bihar and North Bengal, and a few light local showers have fallen in South-West Bengal. Orissa has received an average fall of 0·53 inch, which is, however, only half the usual fall in March, and the only average fall exceeding one inch has been in East Bengal which has received 1·22 inches, which is again only about 42 per cent. of the normal amount.

6. No storms of any great importance have advanced towards Bengal from Upper India, and there have been no storms generating in the Bay. Hence the only disturbances in the weather have been local storms of the nature of thunderstorms, nor'-westers, &c., which also in the majority of cases have brought very little rain.

The close of February had been characterised by abnormally high temperature, but weather was fine in all districts. On the 1st of March the pressure changes over Bengal were remarkably small, but temperature was falling rather briskly, weather was fine with almost cloudless skies, and winds were usually light, being more or less westerly over the western half of the province, and more or less easterly over the eastern half. On the 2nd a moderate to brisk fall of pressure had occurred, and pressure became in defect by amounts ranging up to about a tenth of an inch at some of the northern stations; temperature on this day was generally rising, and weather remained fine. No practical change in the weather took place on the 3rd, except that a rather brisk fall of temperature was occurring. On the 4th a moderate increase of pressure was recorded over a large part of the province, specially in the northern districts, and hence the low pressure area over Bengal had partly filled up. In Bengal there was practically no change in the weather except that again a low pressure area slowly developed up till the 8th, on which day it was strongly pronounced, and into this low pressure area strong moist southerly winds were blowing from the head of the Bay. This was causing a certain amount of interaction between the hot, dry north-westerly winds blowing in the interior of the province and the moist winds blowing from the Bay, and as the usual result of such interaction, a series of small local storms or nor'-westers occurred, and on the 8th several local rain showers were reported from various stations. On the 9th and 10th pressure had fallen slowly at almost all stations, and it became in defect by amounts ranging up to 0·15″ in the north of the province, and this was again followed by the formation of local storms, and a good many stations again reported showers of rain on the 10th and morning of the 11th. On the 11th the depression over Bengal still existed, but as pressure was rising, it was less pronounced than before, though again a few local storms with rain occurred. On the 12th conditions were rather less disturbed, and fine settled weather began to set in, but on the 13th a rapid fall of pressure occurred, and conditions were again disturbed, and a few local storms with rain occurred, though the amounts of rain brought by them were usually small.

On the 15th and 16th pressure had risen over Bengal, and the low pressure area had almost filled up. Weather was hence becoming more settled, and northerly winds were appearing over a large part of Bengal, while the rain showers almost ceased. On the 17th this increase of pressure had ceased, and a fall had commenced, so that pressure was again becoming low, while more or less southerly winds were setting in over Bengal. No rain was, however, reported in Bengal on the morning of the 17th. The changes on the 18th were quite unimportant, but on the 19th a brisk to rather rapid fall of pressure occurred, and again a defect of considerably more than a tenth of an inch was reported at several stations. A brisk increase of temperature also accompanied the formation of the low pressure area, and southerly winds were again blowing from the Bay into the province, and on this day a few local showers were reported at the eastern stations owing to the interaction of the moist southerly winds with the dry land winds. On the 20th pressure again decreased and became in defect by amounts ranging up to a fifth of an inch in North Bihar, and hence a very distinct barometric depression existed over this area. Rather strong southerly winds then blew at the head of the Bay, bringing up considerable amounts of moisture. Temperature also generally rose, and became in decided excess, and disturbed conditions existed in the east of the province and in Assam, and Silchar reported a hailstorm during which 2·53 inches of rain fell. On the 21st a brisk to rapid increase of pressure had occurred, but it was still in large defect in the northern stations, where it was more than a tenth of an inch below the normal. Temperature, on the other hand, continued in excess usually by from about 3° to 5°. Winds on this day usually varied between westerly and south-westerly, and only a few light local showers were reported.

On the 22nd pressure was rising rapidly in Bengal, though small defects were still registered; the temperature changes were a little variable, but still both day and night temperatures were generally in considerable excess of the normal amount. Settled weather prevailed at all stations except those in the hills, and the only rainfall reported was a shower at Gnatong. On the 23rd the barometer had again risen, and pressure had become in excess; temperature had also generally increased, and was in rather large excess, the variation ranging from 4° to 7° and 8° at many stations. Fine settled weather, however, prevailed over the whole of Bengal. On the 24th pressure was falling in the east of the province and rising at the western stations, while temperature had risen again in almost all districts. Conditions had, however, become very slightly disturbed, and one or two local storms with rain were reported. On the 25th again the pressure changes over Bengal were rather irregular, pointing to the continuance of slightly disturbed conditions, and one or two stations reported local storms with rain. At the great majority of stations temperature had fallen rather briskly. A brisk rise of pressure followed on the 26th, and an excess ranging up to more than a tenth of an inch at the western stations was recorded. Local storms ceased, and weather became settled; temperature, on the other hand, again commenced to increase briskly. Rather strong westerly winds also set in, giving very low humidities, and at 8 A M. on this date humidities of only about 20 per cent. of the possible amount were recorded at some of the Chota Nagpur stations. On the 27th the pressure changes were variable, as pressure was rising in the north and falling in the south of the province, and pressure became in excess by amounts ranging up to more than a tenth of an inch at many of the northern stations, and this pressure distribution give strong dry westerly winds over a considerable part of the province. These hot, dry westerly winds also give a general excess of day temperature over the province, the excess at many stations ranging from 4° to 8°. On the 28th a brisk to rather rapid fall of pressure occurred, but it was still considerably in excess of the normal. On the 29th of March a brisk to rather rapid fall of pressure occurred over Bengal, and a small to moderate defect was established. Winds were about normal in direction, and skies were usually almost cloudless, and weather was fine and settled. In the case of the day temperatures excess amounts ranging in many cases up to 8° and 9° were registered, while the excess in the night temperatures was usually about 2° or 3°. On the 30th a further brisk fall of pressure occurred, and a small centre of depression appeared to be developing, and conditions became somewhat disturbed, and a few local showers had fallen in North Bengal and in the adjacent hills. A further increase of temperature also occurred at many stations on this day. On the 31st the pressure changes were rather variable, and pressure was still relatively low in West Bengal; temperature had generally fallen, and local storms were reported at some of the northern and eastern stations, and Silchar received 1·61 inches during a thunderstorm with hail.

Pressure.—One of the chief features in the meteorology of the month as described above has been the continuance of low pressure, on many days amounting to a depression, over Bengal for the greater part of the month. Hence the mean pressure for March has been in defect at most stations by from about 0·04″ to 0·05″. In Assam the defect has averaged 0·04″.

Temperature.—A second very prominent abnormal feature in the meteorology of March has been the exceedingly high temperature which has been recorded. The average day temperatures have usually been from 4° to 6° in excess and the night temperature about 2° in excess of the normal, and the mean from about 2° to 5° in excess

The following table shows the variation of temperature from the normal, week by week, for the month at nine typical stations in different districts of the province:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation —Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at per-centage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean is the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question station in the district sending in return divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 18th of April 1896.

Explanation.— .. indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when '10 inch of rain has fallen

CALCUTTA, the 21st April 1896.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 18TH OF APRIL 1896.

THE unusually strongly pronounced hot-weather conditions which were a prominent feature during the previous week have remained an equally prominent feature in the week now under review. On the 12th of April the barometric changes were small, and the low pressure area, which had previously existed over Bengal, continued rather strongly developed; temperature had again generally risen, and in many cases the day or maximum temperatures were from 6° to 10° in excess of the normal. Weather continued fine in all districts, except perhaps in the east and north of the province, where a few local showers were reported. In Assam also rather heavy rain fell. On the 13th, 14th and 15th instants pressure fell, the decrease being rapid on the 14th and 15th, and pressure became in defect by amounts ranging up to nearly a quarter of an inch in parts of Central Bengal, while the general defect equalled a fifth of an inch. With this distribution of pressure local storms with rain became much more numerous than before, and many stations in East and North Bengal at this time received moderate rain. In addition, too, with this distribution of pressure, hot, dry westerly and north-westerly winds swept in over South-West Bengal from the western districts of the province, and hence exceptionally high temperatures were recorded at many stations. Indeed, on the afternoon of the 15th, the highest temperature on record in Calcutta was registered at the Chowringhee Observatory, when 109·2° was recorded. The highest temperature hitherto registered in Calcutta since systematic observations have been taken by the Meteorological Department was 108·4° on the afternoon of May 20th, 1895. On the 16th the barometer began to rise over Bengal, and the low pressure area was slowly filling up; a slight decrease of pressure, however, occurred on the 17th, but this was followed by an exceedingly rapid rise on the 18th, the increase on this day equalling 0·15″ at some of the western stations. Hence the low pressure area was on this day rapidly disappearing, but still pressure was in defect over the whole province, the defect ranging from about 0·12″ at the eastern stations to about 0·02″ in the west of the province. The abnormal conditions of high temperature were, however, maintained up till the close of the week, for on the 18th, or the last day of the week, the mean temperature of the province was still usually from 5° to 8° above the normal. Weather hence remained fine in all except the eastern and northern districts, where a few unimportant local showers continued to occur.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been largely below the normal in all districts, and the defect has usually equalled from 0·13″ to 0·15″.

Temperature.—The average mean temperature for the whole province has again been very high and has been 4·2° in excess of the normal.

The actual temperatures registered in the province during the week, and the variations from their normal values, are, however, best seen in the table below, where the average temperature data for nine selected stations in different districts of the province are given. Temperatures, it will be seen, have been unusually high both in the case of the days and the nights:—

Rainfall.—An average fall of nearly half an inch has been recorded in East and North Bengal, but elsewhere rainfall has been practically absent. In the case of the smaller districts, the following have been the heaviest falls:—South Lushai Hills, 1·84 inches; Cooch Behar, 1·20 inches; Faridpur, 1·11 inches; and Rangpur, 1·05 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 18th of April 1896 :—

AT THE COURT AT WINDSOR.

The 22nd day of February 1896.

PRESENT:

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by an Order in Council, dated the 23rd day of July 1889, made by Her Majesty in exercise of the powers conferred upon Her by the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, Her Majesty was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to direct as follows: —

1. As regards Sailing Ships, that Merchant Sailing Ships of the German Empire, the measurement whereof after the 1st day of January 1873 has been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such Sailing Ships, testified by the date thereof, shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in such registers and other national papers in the same manner and to the same extent, and for the same purpose in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the Certificate of Registry of British Sailing Ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships.

2. As regards Steamships, that Merchant Ships belonging to the said German Empire, which are propelled by steam or any other power requiring engine-room, the measurement whereof shall, after the said 1st day of January 1873, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such Steamships, testified by the dates thereof, shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted on such registers or other national papers in the same manner and to the same extent and for the same purpose, in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the Certificate of Registry of British Ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships. Provided, nevertheless, that if the Owner or Master of any such German Steamship desires the deduction for engine-room in his Ship to be estimated under the rules for engine-room measurement and deduction applicable to British Ships instead of under the German rule, the engine-room shall be measured and the deduction calculated according to the British rules; and that, in the event of any such Steamship possessing a certificate of tonnage or other national paper issued as aforesaid on or after the 20th day of June 1888, denoting the net registered tonnage of such Ship under the British rules, the Ship shall be deemed to be of the tonnage so denoted thereon.

And whereas by section 84 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, it is enacted that whenever it appears to Her Majesty the Queen in Council that the tonnage regulations of that Act have been adopted by any foreign country, and are in force there, Her Majesty in Council may order that the ships of that country shall, without being remeasured in Her Majesty's dominions, be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificates of registry or other national papers in the same manner, to the same extent, and for the same purposes as the tonnage denoted in the Certificate of Registry of a British Ship is deemed to be the tonnage of that ship:

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty in Council that the tonnage regulations of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, have been adopted by the Government of His Majesty the German Emperor, and such regulations are now in force in the German Empire, having come into operation on the 1st day of July 1895:

And whereas there still are or may be ships belonging to the German Empire to which the hereinbefore recited Order of the 23rd July 1889 may apply, and it is expedient not to revoke the same but to let the said recited Order remain in force so long as there are any ships to which the same may so apply:

And whereas the provisions of section one of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, have been complied with:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty (in pursuance and exercise of the powers hereinbefore mentioned) is hereby pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to direct that the Merchant Ships of the German Empire, the measurement whereof shall, after the 1st day of July 1895, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such ships, shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificates of registry or other national papers in the same manner, to the same extent, and for the same purposes as the tonnage denoted in the Certificate of Registry of a British Ship is deemed to be the tonnage of that ship.

CIVIL ENGINEERING COLLEGE, SIBPUR.

SESSION 1896-97.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Engineer Department should apply to the Principal before the 15th May 1896. The session begins on Monday, the 1st June 1896. Candidates must furnish proof that they have passed one of the following tests:—

(1) The F.A. examination of the Calcutta University, or a similar standard of any Indian University recognised by the Calcutta University. The candidate's age must be under 21 years.

(2) The B.A. examination in the B. Course. The candidate's age must be under 23 years. (These students are admitted direct into the 2nd-year class.)

The number to be admitted each year is limited to 40. The position in the University examinations and the age of candidates will be taken into consideration when selection is made, and such selection will be made by the Principal.

Ten scholarships will be awarded to students entering the Engineer Department, not being already holders of junior or senior scholarships.

Every applicant before admission to the College will be examined by the College Surgeon as to his physical strength, fitness for manual labour, and eyesight.

Further particulars will be supplied on application to the Principal.

NOTIFICATION.

IT is hereby notified that for the ensuing Half-yearly Departmental Examination of Junior Civilians, Deputy Magistrates and others to be held on the 4th May 1896 and the two following days, there will be only one local Examination Committee convened in this Division, viz., at No. 24-1, Dalhousie Square, West, Calcutta, for officers employed in all the districts in this Division.

CHANDI DAS GHOSE, Pers. Asstt. to Commissioner.

COMMR.'S OFFICE, PRESY. DIVN., Calcutta, the 7th April 1896.

The yearly Examination of Candidates for fourth grade of Accountants.

THE yearly examination of candidates for fourth grade of accountants, Public Works Department, will be held at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on Monday and Tuesday, the 1st and 2nd June 1896, at 10-30 A.M.:—

SUBJECTS.	Full marks.	Minimum pass marks.
Writing (neatness, clearness, and rapidity)	100	50
Dictation (spelling, punctuation, &c.)	100	50
Arithmetic (the whole)	240	160
Mensuration, (a) the whole	60	30
Book-keeping, (b) mercantile	100	50
Total ...	600	400

Minimum required in all papers collectively.

(a) Todhunter's Mensuration for Beginners.
(b) "Book-keeping," by Ball and Hamilton.
"Book-keeping" by double and single entry, by W. Inglis (Chambers' Educational Course).

The marks gained by candidates who fail will not be published.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the first Monday in June. The examination will be conducted either at the College or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam, and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed, but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements in regard to the place and hour of examination with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, on a consideration of these certificates, to decide whether the candidate should be registered for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. He will only forward the names of accepted candidates to the Principal, together with their applications in their own handwriting, statement of their ages, and fees. These should be transmitted altogether under one covering letter on the last day allowed by the rule.

3. Examination-papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

SIBPUR,
The 1st April 1896.

J. S. SLATER,
Principal, Civil Engineering College.

N. B.—The attention of candidates is drawn to the alteration in rule 2 (3). In future no candidate is to apply direct to the Principal for permission to attend the examination, but must send his application through an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who will decide whether the candidate is to be admitted. The Principal will attend to no application received direct.

EDUCATIONAL PROSPECTUS.

THE Calcutta Medical College Session, 1896-97, will commence on the 15th June next. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal between the hours of 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. on or before 1st June.

Students are expected to enter formally and commence attendance at the College upon the date named.

2. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student who has not previously passed the First Arts examination of the Calcutta or an Indian University, or a preliminary Arts examination of the United Kingdom recognized by the British General Medical Council.

3. All matriculated students of the College shall pay Rs. 15 on entrance, Rs. 35 for the summer session on the 1st June, and Rs. 35 for the winter session on 1st November of each year. Rupees 6 extra will be required from each student for each course of dissections. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

Muhammadan students are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance and half-fee, i.e., Rs. 17-8 per session. The remaining half-fees are charged to the Mohsin Fund.

4. No free presentations will be awarded at the beginning of the session, but the fees shall be refunded to the ten students who pass highest in all subjects at the end of their first year of study.

5. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professor of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following :—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject in one year ...	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice	60

6. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a medical school in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or, in the case of a free student the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

7. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College who wishes to attend any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in paragraph 5. If he has passed the Entrance Examination of the University, he shall receive certificates of attendance at lectures. If he has not passed the Entrance examination, he shall receive no class certificates.

8. At the end of their first year, students will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Chemistry, and Botany. Those who gain not less than 20 per cent. in two subjects, and not less than 15 per cent. in a third, will be eligible for promotion to the second-year class. Those who fail to gain the aforesaid percentage of marks will not be eligible for promotion, but will go through the first-year class again.

9. Students of the second-year will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and Materia Medica. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. in two subjects and 15 per cent. in a third will be entitled to go up in the following March or April for the Preliminary Scientific Examination of the Calcutta University, the subjects of which are Chemistry and Botany. Those who (after passing the College test) fail at the University Examination will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year class, at the end of which the former will have to present themselves, as at present, for the combined Preliminary Scientific and 1st L.M.S. (or 1st M.B.) Examination.

10. Those students who fail at the College Test Examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific Examination, but will be encouraged to do so in order to get that stage over ; but whether they pass or fail at the University Examination, they will be relegated for a further year to the second-year class, provided that those who pass the University Examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

11. Students of the third year will present themselves for the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. Examination of the Calcutta University. Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year class.

12. Students of the first, second, or third-year class who fail a second time, at the same stage, to gain promotion to the next higher class, will be removed from the College, and will not be entitled to readmission.

13. Students of the fourth-year class will be required to pass a College test examination in Surgery, Medicine, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. of the marks in three subjects and 15 per cent. in a fourth will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail will be relegated to the fourth-year class for a further year. The examination in Surgery and Medicine will be both theoretical and clinical ; but those students who can obtain from the Visiting Surgeon or Physician, to whose wards they have been attached, a certificate that they have really profited by their instruction in either subject, will be excused the clinical examination in that subject.

14. Students who fail at the 2nd L.M.S. or 2nd M.B. Examination will have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the regulations of the University.

15. The Principal will determine the maximum number that may be admitted to the first-year class. Students who have failed at the test examination of the first year will have a prior claim to readmission over new students.

16. Students readmitted to a class after failure at the test examination will be required to pay the full fees for the session. Those, however, who, after failing either at the Preliminary Scientific Examination or at the final examination, have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they failed, shall be required to pay for such lectures a fee of Rs. 40 for one subject, Rs. 60 for two, and Rs. 70 for three. Exceptions to this latter rule may be made in special cases by the Director of Public Instruction on the recommendation of the Principal.

17. College prizes and certificates of honour are open for competition to matriculated students of the College, military medical pupil, and female certificate classes. College scholarships (vide paragraph 9) are awarded only to matriculated students of the College.

18. Junior scholarships of Rs. 8 per mensem and free tuition for one year are annually awarded to ten students of the second year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the first year.

Scholarships of the same value are awarded to ten students at the commencement of their third year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their second year, provided they have passed either the Preliminary Scientific L. M. S. or M. B. examination.

Ten senior scholarships of Rs. 12 per mensem and free tuition are awarded annually to students at the commencement of their fourth year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their third year, provided they have passed either the 1st L. M. S. or 1st M. B. examination. These scholarships are tenable for two years, provided the holder passes creditably the Test and Honour examinations at the end of his fourth year. In the event of any scholarship being forfeited under this condition, it may be awarded for one year to any student of the fifth year who has fulfilled the conditions and is not the holder of any scholarship. These scholarships shall not be awarded to students who have gained the Durga Charan Laha scholarship of Rs. 30 per mensem or any other scholarship.

Students who from any cause fail to pass their University examinations at their first chance are not eligible for any of these scholarships, either junior or senior.

19. The Goodeve scholarship of Rs. 12 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded to a matriculated student of the fifth year, on the result of the midwifery test examination of the fourth year.

The F. C. Chatterjee scholarship of Rs. 17 per mensem, tenable for a year, is annually awarded to the best matriculated student of Native Indian extraction, and whose conduct is certified to be good, in histology at the end of the fourth year. The examination takes place in June each year.

The Abdul Gunny scholarship of Rs. 26 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded at the end of the fourth year to the best matriculated student in all subjects at the class examinations of the first to fourth year, inclusive. The award is made in May.

The Duke of Edinburgh's prize is awarded to the best in surgery among the matriculated students at the end of the fourth and fifth years. The examination takes place in December or January.

The Bhola Nath Bose's prize of Rs. 40 is awarded to the fourth-year matriculated student who proves himself to be the most successful at bedside diagnosis of disease, in surgery and medicine in alternate years. The award is made in January.

A gold medal and certificates of honour are awarded to the best students in each subject at the Test and Honour examinations.

The Goodeve and Macnamara silver medals are awarded to the best of the first-year native students in anatomy and chemistry respectively, on the result of the Test and Honour examinations.

A prize in Clinical Medicine is awarded annually to the best clinical clerk of the fourth and fifth-year matriculated students. This examination takes place in February.

A prize in Clinical Surgery is awarded annually to the best clinical dresser of the fourth and fifth-year matriculated students. This examination will be held in February.

The Rivers Thompson silver medal is annually awarded to the best Muhammadan student who passes the final L. M. S. or M. B. Examination of the Calcutta University.

The Lady Rivers Thompson prize of Rs. 50 is awarded to the lady-student who obtains the highest number of marks at the final examination.

No student shall be allowed to compete for a prize when attending a course in excess of the number prescribed in the College curriculum.

20. College scholars who receive less than Rs. 20 per mensem are not required to pay Rs. 35 per session. All other scholars shall pay fees as matriculated students. These may pay their fees in advance, or have their scholarship money deducted till the full amount is received.

21. 30. Rules for the conduct of periodical examinations.

(1) Test examinations at the end of the—

1st year.

(a) Military pupils who obtain less than 10 per cent. of marks in one subject to be "warned" and informed that failure in the same subject at the end of the second year will entail liability to removal from College.

(b) Pupils who fail as above in two subjects will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness and will be re-examined two weeks before the commencement of the next session. Failure then in obtaining 15 per cent. of marks in either of the subjects will entail liability to removal.

(c) Pupils who fail to get 10 per cent. as above in three subjects will be removed from the College as being unlikely to succeed eventually.

(2) Pass examinations at the end of the—

2nd year.

(a) Military pupils who obtain less than 20 per cent. of marks in one subject will, if practicable, attend lectures on this subject, and be re-examined at the end of the next session. Failure again in the same subject will render pupils liable to removal.

(b) Pupils who fail in two subjects will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness, and will, if practicable, attend lectures on these subjects, and be re-examined at the end of the next session. Failure in either subject will entail liability to removal.

(c) Pupils who fail to attain the standard in three subjects will be removed from the College.

(3) Pass and Test examinations at the end of the—

3rd year.

(a) Pupils who fail to obtain 20 per cent. of marks in either or both of the final subjects for the third year (viz., Hygiene and Pathology) will lose 200 conduct marks, and be re-examined at the end of the next session.

(b) Pupils who do not obtain 10 per cent. of marks in any of the test examinations (the other subjects) will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness for each subject in which he so fails.

(4) Pass examinations at the end of the—

4th year.

(a) Pupils who obtain less than 20 per cent. of marks in all subjects of their final examination will be liable to removal from the College. Such pupils will, however, be allowed to remain for a further period (to be fixed by the Principal in each case) in the College to continue their studies at their own expense.

31. FEMALE CERTIFICATE CLASS.

Lady-students must be over 17 years of age before commencing their studies.

They must have passed the Entrance examination of the Calcutta University or an examination officially recognized by that University as equivalent to the Entrance examination. (The certificate of matriculation of the Melbourne University will be accepted.)

New students are expected, at latest, to enter formally and commence attendance at the College when the session opens on 15th June.

The duration of the course will be four years.

Tuition will be free.

32. Students, preferably native ladies, may reside in the Sornomoye Hostel. Applications for residence to be made to the Lady Superintendent of the Hostel, or to the Secretary to the Countess of Dufferin Branch Committee.

33. The following is the curriculum:—

1st year.

Anatomy.
Materia Medica.
Dissections.
Chemistry (30 elementary lectures).
Compounding (six months).
Test examinations in Anatomy, Materia Medica, and Chemistry.

2nd year.

Anatomy.
Physiology (elementary).
Materia Medica.
Chemistry (full course).

Attendance at six post-mortem examinations.
Hospital attendance (including outdoor departments) —twelve months.
Pass examinations in Anatomy, Materia Medica, and Chemistry.

Medicine and Clinical Medicine.
Surgery and Clinical Surgery.
Medical Jurisprudence (demonstrations).
Midwifery (with attendance at three labour cases).
Pathology (with attendance at six post-mortems).
Physiology.
Hospital attendance (of which three months in the Ophthalmic wards).
Pass examinations in Pathology, Physiology, and Medical Jurisprudence.

4th year.

Medicine and Clinical Medicine.
Surgery and Clinical Surgery.
Midwifery (including six labour cases).
Hospital practice (of which six months in the Medical and Surgical wards, minus 15 attendances at the Dental Dispensary; and six months exclusively in the Midwifery wards, when the students are to take regular tours of duty, night and day, assisting the regular work of the hospital).
Dentistry (optional).
Pass examinations in Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery.

Students who are successful are entitled to receive the certificate of the College qualifying them to practise Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery. A fee of Rs. 10 is charged for each certificate.

34. The following rules will be observed in regulating advancement from class to class:—

(1) Test examination at the end of the first year.—If a student obtains less than 10 per cent. of the marks in any two out of three subjects of examination, she shall not be allowed to continue in the College.

(2) Pass examinations at the end of the second and third years.—In order to pass, a student must gain 33 per cent. in each subject of examination. If a student fails in any two of the three subjects, or, failing in one subject only, if she gains less than 25 per cent. in that subject, she shall be put back for one year. If she fails in one subject only, gaining 25 per cent. or more in that subject, she shall be promoted to the next class, but will be required to submit to re-examination in that subject, in addition to the examination in the regular subjects, at the end of the following year. She will be permitted to attend lectures on the subject in which she has failed. Failure on re-examination will carry the same penalty as original failure.

(3) Pass examination at the end of the fourth year.—The same rules as apply to the previous pass examinations, with the exception that if a student, failing in one subject only, gains 25 per cent. in that subject, she will be referred back to her studies for a period of six months, at the expiration of which she will be entitled to re-examination after furnishing proof of having attended hospital practice during that period.

35. Female students who have not passed the Entrance or its equivalents will be admitted into the Eden Hospital to learn midwifery. These will receive Rs. 20 per mensem. After a year's tuition and bedside practice, if found proficient, they will obtain a certificate qualifying them to practise midwifery. The fee for each certificate is Rs. 5.

36. Female students who have not passed the Entrance or its equivalents, but who read and write Bengali, can be admitted in the Eden Hospital as pupil dais. Of these, eight will receive Rs. 6 per mensem and the rest will be taught free. After 12 months' tuition and bedside practice, if found proficient, they will obtain a certificate qualifying them to practise midwifery.

37. All certificates are to be registered in the Principal's office.

Cuttack Collectorate, the 1st April 1896.

E. F. GROWSE, Collector.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietory right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale by the Collector of that district at the subdivisional office at Meherpur on the 19th May 1896, corresponding with Bengali 7th Jaista 1303 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietory right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations under the provisions of the Indian Councils Acts, 1861 and 1892.

The Council met at the Council Chamber on Saturday, the 11th April, 1896.

Present:

The Hon'ble SIR ALEXANDER MACKENZIE, K.C.S.I., Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, presiding.

NEW MEMBER.

The Hon'ble Mr. W. H. Grimley took his seat in Council.

PROCEDURE IN BUDGET DEBATES.

The Hon'ble the President said:—"I find that my remarks at the opening of our last sitting have been in some quarters misconstrued. I have been represented as introducing the closure and the guillotine, abolishing interpellations, and I do not know what beside. It seems difficult to say anything now-a-days which some one will not contrive to twist, but I wish to say emphatically that all this criticism is very unintelligent and altogether wide of the mark. I expressed a strong opinion as to the most convenient form of Budget debates. I raised no objection whatever to demands for information about the Budget: quite the contrary. Hon'ble Members have full liberty to pass any criticisms on it and ask any questions they please about it in the course of their speeches, and if they want information before the debate for the purpose of their speeches we shall always be ready to give it. What I objected to was the double-barrelled process of putting a string of formal interpellations first, and then repeating the essence of them in long speeches afterwards. It must be remembered also that by the rules no discussion can be permitted in respect of any answer to a formal interpellation, so that Hon'ble Members, by putting these in respect of the Budget, are really, on a strict construction of the rules, shutting their own mouths, and the effect of my suggestion was in fact to widen and not to narrow the scope of debate. The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee explained in his very effective speech, to which I listened with much interest, that he asked the questions because the Budget did not go into sufficient detail. He did not, however, I think, utilise the answers in this speech. The Hon'ble Babu Guru Proshad Sen elicited quite as much information by the queries embodied in his speech, and we had the benefit of a shrewd running criticism on the points taken. I hold therefore to my view that the procedure of the Supreme Council is from every point of view the best—best as saving the time of the Council, and best as giving more scope and substance to the actual debate. I shall see whether the form of the Budget can be improved in future years, but I repeat that Hon'ble Members can always get full information regarding it if they apply for it, and that the right of interpellation is in no sort of way affected by my suggestion as to the form of the Budget debate."

WASTE LANDS IN THE SUNDERBANS.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the quantity of land in the Sunderbans held under the old rules of 1853, the quantity of land taken up under the new rules of 1879, and land not yet taken up?

(b) Has any land been taken up in the 24-Parganas Sunderbans under the new rules of 1879, beyond the outer line of the lands taken up under the old rules of 1853? Is not the case different in this respect with the Khulna Sunderbans? Have they not the advantage of sweet-water channels running through them?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to consider whether it would not be expedient to revive the rules of 1853 repealed in 1879, or to offer other sufficient inducement for the reclamation of waste lands in the district of the 24-Parganas Sunderbans; and whether such reclamation was not desirable for increasing the food-supply of the country and its revenue, and for removing unhealthy swamps from the neighbourhood of Calcutta?

The Hon'ble Mr. Bolton replied:—

"(a) The area of lands held under the Rules of 1879 is 119,279 acres, but the area held under the Rules of 1853 cannot be exactly stated. The total area of grant under the Rules of 1830, eventually commuted to grants under the Rules of 1853, and of grants under the Rules of 1853 is reported to be 495,320 acres. In the Backergunge and 24-Parganas Sunderbans the estimated area not yet taken up for cultivation is 597,395 acres. In Khulna no land is available. The Sunderbans outside the grants already made in that district are Reserved Forest.

"(b) The lands in the 24-Parganas Sunderbans taken up under the rules of 1879 are intermingled with lands taken up under the rules of 1853. There is no boundary line dividing the lands granted under the two sets of rules. Some portions of the Khulna Sunderbans have the advantage of sweet water at certain times of the year.

"(c) The rules of 1853 were found to cause hardship to grantees, as the clearance conditions were too stringent. The rules of 1879 relaxed these conditions greatly. They have been found to work more satisfactorily than the older rules, and offer, in the opinion of Government, sufficient inducement to honest enterprise. There are no unreclaimed Sunderbans swamps within 25 miles of Calcutta."

THE BENGAL LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT OF 1885, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. Risley moved that the Bill to amend the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Grimley, the Hon'ble Mr. Wilkins, the Hon'ble Rai Durga Gati Banerjea Bahadur, the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, the Hon'ble Rai Eshan Chundra Mittra Bahadur, and the Mover, with instructions to report in three months. He said:—

"In putting forward this motion, I may explain very briefly, in addition to what I said in asking for leave to introduce the Bill, that this Bill is essentially an enabling measure. It is not a compelling measure in any sense of the word. It is introduced to enable District Boards to do legally what they are now doing without the sanction of the law, and what they have expressed their wish to do when the question was referred to them. In the statement of the opinions of District Boards, I find that a very large majority of the District Boards have expressed a desire to be vested with the powers proposed by this Bill. For instance, many of them want to send pupils to the Veterinary School at Belgachia, others propose to employ veterinary assistants, and the District Board of Patna has actually sent a Behari student to the Veterinary School at Belgachia. These are samples of the views of the District Boards themselves, which it would be tedious to read out at length. There is no reason whatever to suppose that they do not know their own minds, nor is there any suggestion that the money proposed to be expended upon the obtaining of veterinary assistance will be diverted from other proper purposes. There is no intention whatever of imposing this expenditure upon the Road Cess Fund. It is a thoroughly legitimate expenditure from District Funds, and it will be met from those funds which lie outside the Road Cess receipts of the Boards. In 1887, certain heads of income and expenditure were transferred by the Government to District Boards—education, pounds, medical and ferries. Taking the 24-Parganas as a typical instance, I find that under these heads the receipts amounted to Rs. 21,798, and at the same time the charges amounted to Rs. 41,015.

"The deficit was made up by a grant from Provincial Funds. In fact in respect of these heads of expenditure District Boards are dealt with in precisely the same way as the Provincial Government is dealt with by the Imperial Government in the periodical contracts which are made. There has been steady improvement in the receipts under these heads, and the Government has pledged itself never to reduce the grant, and they have not done so. Under certain heads, notably pounds and ferries, the receipts are constantly improving, and will no doubt continue to improve under good management. Taking them collectively, these heads of receipt afford in the average a fair income. Some Boards have a smaller income than others; Boards who have a considerable surplus have expressed their intention to employ veterinary assistants. I explained further that the scheme to which this Bill has reference forms part of a large and comprehensive scheme for introducing veterinary treatment throughout India. It is proposed to establish what may be described as a veterinary service with two grades of employés—one consisting of veterinary assistants whose training would be almost entirely practical and who would get a pay of Rs. 20, Rs. 30 and Rs. 40 a month, with certain extra allowances; and above them would be what are called senior veterinary assistants who would get Rs. 100, Rs. 135 and Rs. 175. So that you would have under the head of the Veterinary Department two services more or less analogous to the Civil Hospital Assistants and called Assistant Surgeons. By this scheme not only will there be efficient provision made for the treatment of cattle, but we will also open out a useful and fairly remunerative career to educated young men.

"There seems to be some misapprehension in certain quarters with regard to the scope of this Bill, and I am afraid the use of the word 'veterinary' is answerable for it. It seems to be supposed that the term includes only horses. In point of fact it means draught cattle of all sorts, and is always used to include domesticated animals of all kinds. The scope of the school course furnishes a most complete answer to the objections to which this misapprehension has given rise; for a prominent place is given in the curriculum to bovine medicine and surgery. Indeed, the very first year's treatment includes practical instruction in the handling of horses and cattle, the second year being occupied in the study of medicine and surgery and the special diseases of sheep, dogs, elephants, &c., so that the course is an extremely comprehensive one.

"It is proposed that the Select Committee shall meet today after the proceedings of this Council terminate, that the provisions of the Bill will then be discussed, and that the Bill shall afterwards be circulated for the opinions of District Boards and others, and those opinions will no doubt be received in time to enable them to be laid before the Select Committee when it meets again in July. This course will, I believe, bring about a thorough discussion of all questions connected with this Bill."

The Hon'ble Babu Guru Prosad Sen said:—"I hope I shall be excused for referring to a small bit of ancient history in connection with this Bill. My excuse is than this ancient history does not run beyond the memory of man, and in it some of the Hon'ble Members who are assembled here did take an active part. I refer to the Cattle Commission of 1871. That Commission found that the conditions which brought on the cattle diseases in this country and their deterioration were want of fodder and bad fodder, the want of water and bad water, bad housing and bad herding. According to a statement submitted to the Cattle Commission by one of the Hon'ble Members here—the Chief Secretary—the number of cattle in this country is about three-fourths of the population in our villages, that is to say, for about 100 inhabitants we have 75 heads of cattle. Therefore to cope with such a state of things is a formidable matter for which the powers and resources of our District Boards are not equal. The work, I submit, is from its magnitude one of an Imperial character.

I am glad to be assured that no part of the Road Cess Fund is to be applied towards it. I also hope that this opportunity will be taken to remedy some of the real defects which have been found, in the Local Self-Government Act, regarding the franchise and other matters. With these remarks, I am of course glad of the extension of power which it is proposed by this Bill to give to Local Boards."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL MUNICIPAL ACT, 1884, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. Risley also introduced the Bill to further amend the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, and moved that it be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Mr. Risley also applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business for the purpose of moving that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Grimley, the Hon'ble Mr. Wilkins, the Hon'ble Rai Durga Gati Banerjea Bahadur, the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, Hon'ble Babu Guru Proshad Sen, and the Mover, with instructions to report in three months.

The Hon'ble BABU GURU PROSHAD SEN said:—"Before I read this Bill I was under the impression that the proposed amendment of section 15 of the Municipal Act was only of a formal character, but I find on reading the Bill as it has been drafted, that a considerable change in the law is intended. Under the law as it stands the power of voting is conferred upon three classes of persons: persons who are members of a joint undivided family one of whom pay a rate of Rs. 3 per annum, and who is in receipt of a salary of Rs. 50 or more; 2ndly persons who are employed under a registered company paying more than Rs. 100 a year as rates to the municipality, and who are in receipt of a salary of Rs. 50 or more; 3rdly persons who are in receipt of a salary of Rs. 50 or more and who occupy holdings paying rates to the amount of Rs. 3 or more. But as this Bill has been drafted, the suffrage appears to be taken away from the 1st and 2nd of these three classes of voters, and it has only retained class 3 in a very restricted form. I do not know whether it is really intended to take away from these large classes of men the right to vote. If that be the intention, I shall be glad to hear what reason there is for doing so. The Bill does not propose to remove the real defect which exists in section 15 of the Act. Under the rules the suffrage has been extended to persons who pay rates to the amount of Rs. 1-8, but under the Act the right of voting is not given to those who pay less than Rs. 3. The rule has been in existence for some years, and I would be the last person to propose a change in the rule, considering that it will take away the power of voting where it now exists. I therefore propose that the law should be brought into conformity with the rule and the practice. Then, there is another point, namely, the introduction of a rule empowering persons occupying houses for which they pay rent to the amount of Rs. 20 per annum to vote. I do not find any justification in the law for such a rule. But the rule has been in force for years now, and it will be very hard to take away the power which has been conferred. Therefore, in this matter, too, the Act should be amended so as to be brought into conformity with the rule. There is another defect in the Municipal Act, and advantage should be taken of the present opportunity to remove that defect, namely, that practically no power has been conferred on any person connected with the Municipality to abate a nuisance, and neither a Municipal Commissioner nor their Chairman or Vice-Chairman, nor any responsible officer of the Municipality can arrest an offender even if the nuisance is committed before his own eyes. This is a matter which ought to be considered."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANNERJEE said:—"I have to make a few remarks with reference to what has fallen from my hon'ble friend who has just spoken. First, with reference to a Municipality not having the power to arrest persons committing nuisances. That difficulty has been met—it has been met in the Municipality with which I happen to be connected—by requesting the District Magistrate to invest our Sub-Overseer with the power of arrest. This power has been conferred upon the Sub-Overseer with the result that we now find no difficulty whatever in the matter, and if this has been done in one case, it can be done in others, and it is a difficulty which can be obviated by executive order.

"I understood the Hon'ble Mr. Risley to say that the object of this Bill is to introduce into the electorate a class of men who do not now enjoy the right of voting, namely, the numerous and intelligent class of occupiers of holdings who are in the receipt of salaries of not less than Rs. 50 a month. That, I believe, to be the object of the Bill, and as far as that particular object is concerned, I am perfectly certain that every member of this Council will sympathise with it. I do not see in the Bill any intention to disfranchise those who have now a right to vote. But if the draft Bill in the smallest degree tends to deprive any section of the community of this right, I am quite sure the Hon'ble Mr. Risley will modify the Bill and curtail or enlarge it as may be necessary. The object of the Bill is one which commends itself to every one who has the principles of Local Self-Government at heart. There are a large number of people who reside in our municipalities, who possess a high degree of intelligence, and ought to be included in the franchise, but, under the existing law, they are not entitled to vote, and what is proposed is, I think, an amendment to which nobody can object.

"As regards the other provision to which my hon'ble friend has referred, namely, that whereas in most of our municipalities the rating qualification is Re. 1-8, the rating qualification in the Municipal Act is Rs. 3, I think it would be an altogether retrograde step to disqualify a large number of people who have been enjoying the franchise for some years under rules which have been framed under, and which are believed to be in keeping with, the terms of the Act. It may be a question as to whether the Act and the rules are in accord, but whatever the case may be, I have no hesitation in saying that any attempt to disturb the existing practice which would disfranchise a large number of people by making the rules conform to what may be deemed to be the strict letter of the law, would create grave dissatisfaction and would be regarded as altogether a retrograde measure."

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY said:—"There seems to be some misconception on the part of the Hon'ble Member who spoke first as to the law on the subject. I will take the points raised by the Hon'ble Member, as far as I have been able to follow him, in the order in which they were mentioned. First, as to the amendment of section 15 (clause 3). I explained on a former occasion that the great difficulty which has been experienced is due to defective drafting, owing to which it is impossible to know what the clause means. It has really no meaning whatever. But although the clause has no meaning, it is obvious that it had an intention, and that intention is a reasonable one, namely, to confer the franchise on the large and respectable class of persons who draw salaries of Rs. 50 a month or more, and the idea is that such persons are proper persons to exercise the power of voting. That is the intention of the law, and, as I understand it, that intention will be completely carried out by this Bill. As to the alleged inconsistency between the Act and the rules which have been framed under the Act, section 15 (clause 1) provides that every male person who, during the year preceding an election, has paid in respect of the rates imposed under the Act a sum of not less than Rs. 3 shall be entitled to vote. That means that every one who pays rates to the extent of Rs. 3 shall have a vote. But the earlier part of the section empowers the Government to lay down such rules not inconsistent with the Act as it may think fit in respect of the qualification required to enable a person to vote. While the Act then prescribes a qualification of Rs. 3, the rules passed by the Government, which have been in force since the commencement of the Act, prescribe that every one who pays rates to the extent of Re. 1-8 shall have a vote; so that the rule reduces the qualification far below what is laid down in the Act.

"The rules further introduce—I speak from memory—what I may call a Rs. 20 lodger franchise. The object of this rule is to provide that all persons who, during the municipal year immediately preceding the election, have paid not less than Rs. 20 as rent of a holding assessed to the rate on annual value, shall be entitled to vote. The object is to extend the franchise to certain classes who would not get it under the other qualifications in the rules.

"The hon'ble gentleman's second point is that municipalities have no power to deal effectively with nuisances, the reason being that persons found committing nuisances cannot be arrested on the spot, and they therefore escape punishment. This is a question which was carefully considered by the Select Committee, and a clause was added to section 365 of the Act for the express purpose of dealing with cases of this kind, and that provision we have been told is now in force in the Municipality over which my honourable friend Babu Surendranath Banerjee presides, and I understand that it works well."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE PROTECTION OF MUHAMMADAN PILGRIMS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the protection of Muhammadan Pilgrims be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee. He said:—

"I need trouble the Council with a very few observations on this occasion. The Bill, the Council are aware, is based on the Act for the protection of Muhammadan pilgrims, which is in force in Bombay and Kurrachee, and when it was first presented to you it proceeded on the identical lines of the Bombay Act. In Select Committee it has been redrafted to a considerable extent, but the principle of the Bombay Act has been adhered to. The Bill has been so modified as to enable it to be extended more easily to other places than Calcutta; it therefore no longer bears the title of a Bill for the protection of Muhammadan pilgrims in Calcutta. It is a Bill which is adapted to Calcutta and to any other station or port in the Presidency of Bengal in which it may be enforced. Then the Select Committee were at some pains to define the word 'Calcutta.' The area within which the law will be in force now comprises 'Calcutta,' as it is defined in the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, and includes the port of Calcutta, an extension which is very necessary in order to enable the Protector of Pilgrims under the Bill to exercise the functions with which the law invests him. The Select Committee also revised the penalties provided under the Act. The Bombay Act authorises the imposition of a fine amounting to a maximum of Rs. 500 for any of the offences enumerated in the Act. It appeared to the Select Committee that this maximum of Rs. 500 was higher than the circumstances of the case practically require, and they unanimously agreed that a maximum fine of Rs. 200 would be sufficient to meet any case which would be likely to arise under this Bill. The maximum has been reduced therefore from Rs. 500 to Rs. 200. We have also authorised the Local Government to make rules to regulate the grant of licenses and to prescribe the conditions to be entered in such licenses. This is a provision which finds no place in the Bombay Act, but it has been deemed expedient that the power should be placed in the hands of the Local Government. The licenses themselves will be granted by the Commissioner of Police. The Local Government will make rules to regulate the grant of the licenses, but the effective administration of the Act is left in the hands of the Commissioner of Police, by whom the licenses will be distributed. There is one important suggestion which the Select Committee considered, but which is not referred to in the Committee's report. It was proposed that the pilgrim brokers should be limited to Muhammadans, in the same way as we provide in the Bill that the Protector of Pilgrims shall be a Muhammadan. But we considered it better to impose no restriction in regard to brokers. Ordinarily no doubt the brokers will be Muhammadans. It is difficult to conceive any other class of persons coming forward to act as brokers for the convenience of their co-religionists. But occasionally, as was done in the case of Messrs. Cook and Son, a European firm may come forward and establish itself as brokers under the Act in a large way. And although Messrs. Cook were in the habit of employing Muhammadan servants to carry out their business in connection with the Act, they were undoubtedly brokers within the meaning of the law; and as at any future time either Messrs. Cook and Son or some other firm may be appointed for Calcutta, it was thought inexpedient to exclude such firms or other persons, and therefore there is no limitation imposed on those who may become brokers under the Bill.

"I think there is no other point on which I need trouble the Council. The Committee were unanimous in all their recommendations, and I trust the Council will find no difficulty in accepting the Bill now laid before them."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—"The object of this Bill, as it has been stated by the Hon'ble Member, is to protect certain Muhammadan pilgrims who start on their pilgrimage from Calcutta from oppression and swindling by a number of unprincipled brokers; and in moving to introduce the Bill, the hon'ble mover said that the pilgrims who now leave from Calcutta, all go by train to Bombay. Of course those who go by train generally buy their tickets at Howrah, and I daresay most of them travel third class, tickets for which are only available at the Howrah station; so that if any swindling or oppression is practised in any large number of cases, it must be done at Howrah, and there will be no jurisdiction in such cases, unless we extend the operation of this Act to Howrah. The hon'ble mover further said that in 1894 no pilgrim left by steamer direct from Calcutta; but looking at the provisions of the Bill, most of which refer to the liabilities and obligations of masters and owners of vessels taking pilgrims from Calcutta, one would be inclined to think that a large number of such persons left by steamer, whereas that practice seems to have fallen into disfavour among these people, and I daresay, with the still greater facilities for travelling to Bombay by rail which will be afforded by the new Bombay-Nagpur line, the number of pilgrims who will go by steamer from Calcutta will grow less. No doubt the Bill reserves power to the Government to extend the Bill to any place it thinks fit, but if the evil in its worst form and greatest magnitude is to be provided against, it will be at Howrah and not in Calcutta, and therefore I think this Bill is not a happy adaptation of means to the end.

"Turning to the provisions of the Bill, I find that the words 'any ship' have been used in section 6, clauses (b), (c) and (e), and also in section 9; and that in clause (b) of section 6 those words are followed by the qualifying clause 'to which the Native Passenger Ships Act applies,' whereas, in other instances, no such qualification follows. This difficulty then arises, namely, whether where the words 'any ship' are not followed by the qualifying clause they are meant to refer to ships to which the Native Passenger Ships Act applies, or to any ship whether that Act applies to it or not. If the two expressions have been used indiscriminately as synonyms, I do not think that is permissible under well-known and well-established rule for the interpretation of statutes, namely, that when the same words are used differently in different portions of an Act, the inference is that different things are meant by them. The difficulty, I think, can be remedied by introducing into the interpretation clause an interpretation to the effect that the word 'ship' means a ship to which the Native Passenger Ships Act applies. Suppose we mean that, and we import it into section 9 of the Bill, which authorises the Protector of Pilgrims to 'enter and inspect any ship advertised or offering to convey pilgrims from the Port of Calcutta.' Now the Native Passenger Ships Act applies only to ships where a certain number of passengers are carried. It distinctly provides that it shall not apply to any steamship not carrying as passengers more than sixty natives of Asia or Africa. The object of this Bill is to protect poor Muhammadans from being swindled by unprincipled brokers, who trade on the ignorance or simplicity of these pilgrims. In a Bill of this nature it is very proper that immunity from punishment should not depend upon the number of persons who are swindled, and I daresay it is for that reason that the Bill has been so drafted that as soon as a ship offers to take pilgrims, the liability of the master or owner arises. So far so good. But when the qualifying words 'to which the Native Passenger Ships Act applies' are introduced, then it comes to this, that the liability of the owner or master will not arise till a ship offers to carry the number of passengers prescribed in the Native Passenger Ships Act. Consequently, if the master or owner of a ship advertises to take, say, ten passengers, this Bill cannot apply.

"Section 15 of the Bill provides that sections 46, 47 and 49 of the Native Passenger Ships Act shall apply to all offences punishable and fines leviable under this Act. Section 46 of that Act provides the means by which fines may be realised. If a fine is leviable from the owner or master of a ship, it shall be realised by distress and sale of the ship, her tackle, furniture and other things. But this Bill provides for fines leviable from pilgrim brokers, from the owners, agents, masters and officers of vessels, whereas under section 46 of the Native Passengers Ships Act officers of vessels are not punishable. Now, certainly it could not have been the intention to provide in this Bill that fines leviable from pilgrim brokers should be realised by selling the ship's tackle or furniture.

"Then section 47 of the Native Passengers Ships Act gives jurisdiction for the adjudication of penalties. It provides that the offence shall be deemed to have been committed within the limit of jurisdiction of the Magistrate of the place where the offender is found. The word 'wherever' I suppose includes the whole of India. It is competent to this Council to enact that wherever an offender is found within the territorial limits of the administration of this Government he may be tried by the Magistrate of that place. But to import into this Bill or to incorporate by way of reference a section in an Act which extends to territories beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of this Government, is not justified.

"Then, section 49 speaks of the way in which fines when realised may be appropriated.

I have observed that there is a notice of motion for an amendment with regard to the definition of term 'pilgrim broker' by the introduction of the words 'at a profit' The words 'buys or resells' no doubt cover cases in which the parties are parties to an honest and fair transaction, but the objection will not be entirely removed by the addition of the words 'at a profit;' because the Bill provides for the payment of a commission not exceeding 5 per cent. Suppose a broker buys a number of tickets and gets the 5 per cent. commission which the Bill allows; and then, adding that commission, he resells the tickets. That is selling 'at a profit.' Then, suppose the case of a person who has secured first class accommodation for himself; a fellow-passenger wants also to travel first class, but no first-class accommodation is available, and suppose this fellow-passenger buys the ticket from the man who has secured first-class accommodation and pays more than the proper price. The person who sells his ticket 'at a profit' does not swindle, because he foregoes so much comfort, and the man who buys at a higher price does so for his own comfort. It would be a hard case if such a man were held to be a 'pilgrim broker.' Moreover, how could you prove the fact of selling at a profit if there is collusion between the master of the ship and the broker. A person ought to be styled a pilgrim broker who habitually buys and sells pilgrim tickets. It does not matter whether he makes a profit or not—a thing which it would be very difficult to prove; but where in one single instance a man buys and resells, he certainly ought not to be put down as a pilgrim broker.

"Then, section 13 of the Bill might have been omitted, because section 37 of the Native Passenger Ships Act makes similar provision.

"I would suggest to Your Honour that the Bill be referred back to the Select Committee for the consideration of these matters, so that we may not only give protection to the poor men who make pilgrimages, but also guard with sufficient accuracy against the possible contingency of getting any honest man convicted.'

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON said:—"Perhaps it will be convenient that I should rise at this stage to reply to the criticisms of the Hon'ble Member for Orissa. The Hon'ble Member's speech appears to me to be characterised by a certain degree of ingenuity, but, if I may say so, by remarkably little practical knowledge of the facts of the case. He evolves the opinion out of his own imagination that Howrah is the place where these pilgrim brokers congregate, and where they ought most of all to be placed under control. This is the first time I have heard that oppression was practised in Howrah. The Government have made very careful enquiries as to where these pilgrim brokers are to be found both from Muhammadan gentlemen who have practical experience of the Haj and also from the Commissioner of Police, and no one has told us that any oppression has been practised at Howrah, or that there is the smallest necessity of extending the Act there. I gather from the observations of the Hon'ble Member that he considers it necessary to place the booking clerks, who sell railway tickets at Howrah, under some special control which ought to be provided by the Act. But it is needless to say that no interference of that kind is required or could be tolerated. As regards the pilgrim brokers themselves, the men are not to be found at Howrah, and that is not the place where the trouble takes place.

"Then the Hon'ble Member made a point of the fact that in recent years almost all the pilgrims go by rail and that a very small number proceed by sea from Calcutta. But what is the reason of that? The reason is that hitherto there has been no adequate protection afforded to pilgrims who wish to go by sea, and therefore they go by rail. It is hoped that when this Act is passed—and this was the expectation of Messrs. Cook and Son—pilgrims will prefer to go to the Hedjaz by sea, and avoid the route viâ Bombay. One of the main objects of the present legislation is to encourage this sea pilgrimage, and that is why we have been so careful to extend the application of the Bill to pilgrims going by sea.

"Then there were certain technical legal objections taken by the Hon'ble Member, the whole of which I am afraid I was not able correctly to follow; but, as far as I understood them, I shall endeavour to reply to them. He took exception to the use of the words 'any ship in section 6 (b)' being followed by the words 'to which the Native Passenger Ships Act applies.' It is very necessary, however, that those words should be introduced in that clause, for, if they were not there, the clause would have no meaning at all. That clause applies to brokers who may purchase or sell to any pilgrim a ticket at any time before notice has been given by the master or owner of a ship, under section 7 of the Native Passenger Ships Act, of the time it is proposed the ship should sail; and if in declaring such purchase or sale to be punishable reference is not made to that section, the clause would have no meaning whatever. In other sections and clauses of the Bill where the word 'ship' is used without any qualification, the word is used in its most general meaning, and is not limited to ships to which the Native Passenger Ships Act applies. Accordingly no such limitation is imposed. It appears to require a minimum of common sense to understand why the limitation is not imposed in other sections of the Act; but in the particular clause to which the Hon'ble Member has referred, owing to the terms of the clause itself, the word must refer only to ships to which the Native Passenger Ships Act applies.

"Then there are some points raised by the Hon'ble Member in regard to the definition of 'pilgrim broker,' which appear to be an illustration of the hasty manner which he has applied his attention to the provisions of this Bill. A pilgrim broker is defined to be a person who buys and resells or sells on commission, or takes any reward for the purchase or sale of passage tickets, whether by sea or railway, for pilgrims. The Hon'ble Member as I understood him gave an illustration. He said:—'Suppose I have taken a first class passage, and some one else buys the ticket from me and pays me somewhat higher than what I paid for it myself: I have therefore established myself as a pilgrim broker.' In answer to that I say that the Hon'ble Member in no way becomes a pilgrim broker, unless he bought and resold a passage ticket for pilgrims, in which case he would undoubtedly come under the provisions of the Act. The application of the Bill entirely depends upon whether a man buys and resells a ticket for pilgrims and not for himself. If the whole of the definition is read, the meaning is clear and is not liable to the criticism which the Hon'ble Member has directed against it.

"Then there is one other point raised by the Hon'ble Member—certain criticism against the application of sections 46, 47 and 49 of the Native Passenger Ships Act to offences punishable and fines leviable under this Act. That section (15) was originally reproduced exactly from the Bombay Act. It has now been altered, as a different law is in force now from that which was in force when the Bombay Act was passed."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS interposed:—"The Native Passenger Ships Act provides that fines imposed on the owner or master of a ship shall be realised by the sale of the ship's tackle and furniture."

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON continued:—"I think the Hon'ble Member has discovered another mare's nest. Section 12 of the Bill provides a penalty on the master or owner of a vessel for the refusal or omission to give certain information, and the procedure under section 46 of the Native Passenger Ships Act applies to the realisation of fines imposed thereunder. It is also applicable to offences committed by master, owner or agent for which a penalty is provided in other sections of the Bill. It is expedient to enact some procedure which shall be applicable, and we have adopted the same procedure as is followed in Bombay, but it appears unnecessary to explain that a process which is declared by the Native Passenger Ships Act to be applicable to owners and masters only cannot be enforced in cases in which persons other than the master or owner become liable to a fine.

"Before sitting down I wish to say that the learned Advocate-General has drawn my attention to the provisions of section 47 of the Native Passengers Ships Act, and has suggested that it should be made clear in the Bill before us that the jurisdiction for the adjudication of penalties should be limited to Bengal, and in order to give effect to this suggestion, which appears to be a good one, though perhaps not absolutely necessary, I beg, Sir, to move with your permission that the words 'throughout the territories under the administration of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal' be inserted after the words 'shall apply' in section 15 of the Bill."

The Motions were then put and agreed to.

The Motion that the words "throughout the territories under the administration of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal" be inserted after the words "shall apply" in section 12 of the Bill was also put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. WOMACK by leave withdrew the motion which stood in his name that in the second line of clause (b) of section 2, after the word "resells" the word "at a profit" be inserted.

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON moved that the Bill as settled in Council be passed.

The Hon'ble MAULVI MUHAMMAD YUSUF KHAN BAHADUR said:—"I may state for the assurance of the Council that the provisions of this Bill as they now stand have the entire support and approval of the Muhammadan community. I have consulted a large number of my countrymen on the subject, and all those who are likely to be affected by the measure, and are consequently in a position to know best, are unanimous in their opinion that the Bill will work well in practice. There was some doubt in my mind as regards the advisability of retaining clause (e) of section 6, and I suggested my doubt to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, but on further enquiries being made on the subject, it appeared that it was desirable that the clause should be retained. The doubt which was suggested in respect to this clause in my mind was the extremely moderate profit which was secured by it in favour of the pilgrim broker; but when on further enquiry it appeared that the law had worked well in Bombay, and that it was not likely to be attended with any hardship in this place, I was content to withdraw my doubts as regards the provision in question.

"I do not think there is any other provision in the Bill which requires further consideration; and, on the whole, I may say now that this Bill has my entire support, and that as an intending Hajee, I have full confidence in the provisions of the Bill, and I am quite sure it will stand me in good stead in the hour of need. I am glad to find that other hon'ble members have taken interest in this measure, which is purely applicable to the Muhammadan community and confined to that community. I have always held the opinion that an Act of the Legislature should be complete in itself, and there should be as few references to other Acts as possible. I am glad that the discussion raised has resulted in some good."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE ESTATES' PARTITION BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE introduced the Bill to amend the law relating to the partition of estates, and moved that it be read in Council. He said:—

"I may say at once that the objects of this Bill are (1) to simplify, shorten, and cheapen the procedure for effecting partition of estates, and

(2) to impose some limit, below which partition of estates will not be carried out by the Collector.

"I do not propose on the present occasion to trespass on the time of the Council by entering on an elaborate disquisition on the history of this important subject. For the purpose of explaining the principles of this Bill, I need refer but very briefly to the historical aspect of the subject.

"As Hon'ble Members are aware, when the right of property in the soil was explicitly declared, by the Regulations of the Permanent Settlement, to be vested in the zamindars of Bengal, it was also declared that they might dispose of the whole or any portion of their properties in any way they thought fit. But as every acre of the land was hypothecated to Government for revenue, it necessarily followed that the right of transferring by sale and gift, dividing, or otherwise disposing of their properties, then declared to be vested in the zamindars, was not absolute and unconditional, but subject to the paramount consideration of the security of the Government revenue.

"Hence we find that on the very day on which the Permanent Settlement Regulation I of 1793 was passed, Regulations were also enacted for the purpose of enabling proprietors to apply to the Collector for partition of their estates, and rules were prescribed for carrying out such partitions.

"These rules were contained in Regulations VIII and XXV of 1793.

"The Permanent Settlement was in many cases concluded for large estates or tracts of land. Sometimes whole parganas consisting of several mahals were included under one engagement for the payment of a certain amount of revenue, and all the lands so included were held jointly liable for the payment of that revenue.

"With such large estates it was deemed desirable to give every facility for subdivision of them and for enabling the co-proprietors to separate their interests and their liability for the State revenue.

"It was soon found, however, that the unrestricted subdivision of estates and separation of financial responsibility was being carried on to an extent that was thought to be dangerous to the security of the revenue, and a Regulation was therefore passed in 1807 on the unanimous suggestion of the Board of Revenue (Regulation VI of that year) enacting that no partition should be allowed which would have the effect of creating a new estate with a sadar jama of less than Rs. 500. The preamble to this Regulation, to which I would invite the attention of the Council, runs thus:—

'Whereas under the provisions contained in Regulations I and XXV of 1793 persons holding shares of estates paying revenue to Government are entitled to a separation of such shares; and on the completion of the batwara by the officers of Government, and on the confirmation of it by the Governor-General in Council, to hold the same as distinct mahals, subject to the just proportion of the public assessment; and whereas considerable loss and inconvenience have been experienced in the collection of the public revenue from the too minute subdivision of landed property.'

"Then followed the enactment that estates might be divided down to a jama of five hundred rupees.

"The restriction imposed by the Regulation of 1807 did not remain in force long. Regulation V of 1810 removed it and allowed partitions to be made of estates, however small. The Regulation of 1810 was passed in accordance with the views of one new Member of the Board of Revenue of the time, but in opposition to the views of the other two Senior Members, who strongly protested against the removal of the restrictions of 1807, and expressed their apprehension of the occurrence of the evils likely to result from such removal, which have in fact since occurred. The reasons for removing the restriction imposed by Regulation VI of 1807 were stated in the preamble to Regulation V of 1810, thus:—

'Experience having shown that the existing rules for the division of landed property paying revenue to Government are in many respects defective; inasmuch as they do not sufficiently provide against the artificial delays and impediments which are frequently thrown in the way of the process of the division by some one or more of the parties concerned, who may be interested in so doing; or, (as often happens) by the officer employed in conducting the details of that process; nor effectually secure Government from the loss resulting from fraudulent and collusive allotments of the public revenue on the shares of estates when divided; and there being moreover reason to believe, that the restriction which has been laid on the partition of small estates by Regulation VI of 1807, has been and is the cause of considerable injury to numbers of individual sharers in such estates; thereby inducing a sacrifice of private rights, which the degree of public inconvenience arising from the minute division of landed property does not appear to be of sufficient magnitude to justify or require: with a view therefore to remedy these defects, to expedite the division of landed property paying revenue to Government, when duly authorized by the provisions of Regulations I and XXV of 1793, and their corresponding regulations for Benares, and for the ceded and conquered provinces; with due regard to the permanent security of the public revenue, whatever be the amount thereof; and to obviate the injury to which individual sharers are liable in the case of a joint estate being brought to sale for balances which may have arisen from the default of their coparceners during the interval while the process of division is pending, the following rules have been enacted.'

"I need not weary the Council with a detailed narrative of the history of the Law on Partitions from 1810 down to the present time. The different Rules and Regulations on the subject were consolidated in Regulation XIX of 1814, which, with slight modifications, continued in force till the present Bengal Council Act VIII of 1876 was passed.

"But I have to notice that in 1875 the Hon'ble Mr. Dampier, then Senior Member of the Board of Revenue, introduced a Bill in this Council for the amendment of the Partition Law. In the course of the discussions that took place in Council in connection with that Bill, the inconvenience to the Administration and the injury to private interests that had arisen from the unrestricted partition of estates were pointed out and admitted. It was provided in Mr. Dampier's Bill, as it came from the Select Committee, that no partition should be made which would result in the formation of a separate estate, liable for a revenue of less than Rs. 20, unless the proprietor agreed to redeem the revenue. This provision was unanimously accepted by the Council of that time, containing as it did among its members such authorities as the Hon'ble the Advocate-General Sir Charles Paul and the Hon'ble Kristodas Pal and Maharaja Doorga Charn Law. The Bill of 1875 was passed unanimously by the Bengal Council on the 8th April 1876, but it was vetoed by the Government of India on the ground that the proposal to redeem the Government revenue in the case of estates having a revenue of less than Rs. 20 was opposed to the financial interests of the country, for it was thought that if such redemption were allowed a time might conceivably come when all Bengal would become revenue-free.

"Mr. Dampier's Bill having been vetoed by the Government of India, another Bill was introduced in August of 1876, which imposed no restriction on partitions except this, that when a new estate was created with a sadar jama of not more than one rupee, the proprietor was bound to redeem the revenue by paying its capitalised value in a lump sum. This Bill was passed, and became the present Act VIII (B.C.) of 1876.

"The point to which I would invite the attention of the Council, and the inference which I think may be fairly drawn from the foregoing sketch of the history of the law on this subject, is, that the right of Government to impose restrictions on what are elsewhere called perfect partitions, or in other words, on the divisibility of responsibility of estates to Government for land revenue, was never questioned down to 1876, and was expressly asserted by the unanimous vote of this Council agreeing to Mr. Dampier's Bill of 1875. The object of the Act of 1876 was to shorten, simplify and cheapen the procedure for effecting partitions. The Hon'ble Member (Mr. Reynolds) in charge of the Bill of 1876 said in the course of the debates on it that there might be inconveniences connected with the multiplication of petty estates, but it had always been conceded that landed proprietors had a right to have their estates divided if they chose to demand partition, and the Government did not consider that the right should be abrogated or denied to them. It may be remarked, however, that Mr. Reynolds afterwards withdrew his opinion on these points.

"The question of the amendment of the law came before this Council again in 1884, when it was proposed to impose a limit of Rs. 10, below which partitions were not to be allowed to proceed. A question was then raised, for the first time, by the Hon'ble Hurbans Sahai, of the right of Government, under the terms of the Permanent Settlement, to impose any such limit. The Bill was withdrawn, partly because it aroused a strong feeling of opposition, and partly because it was thought that the relief sought to be given by it would, to some extent, be afforded by the provisions of the Tenancy Bill, which would, it was supposed, simplify the carrying out of partitions.

"I now come to the present Bill. It cannot be denied that the Act of 1876 has to some degree succeeded in attaining the objects which it was designed to effect, but experience has shown it to be defective in many respects; while new light has, since the passing of the Tenancy Act, been thrown on the evils attendant on partition proceedings which were before unknown. The object of the present Bill is to apply a remedy to these defects and guard against the continuance or recurrence of the evils referred to. The Board of Revenue, after consulting local officers, drew the attention of Government in 1890 to the inconvenience and expense to which proprietors were subjected by partition proceedings under the present law, and reported that though they had by executive orders and various expedients endeavoured to check delays and reduce expenditure, no substantial improvement could be expected without a change in the law. The Bill is the outcome of discussions that have since taken place. One of the principal changes proposed with a view to shorten proceedings and reduce expenses is to do away with what is called the "general arrangement" as a distinct stage. The retention of the general arrangement has only the effect of multiplying objections and appeals, thus delaying the proceedings.

"Another defect in the present law is that it allows objections and appeals at all stages which not only cause much delay, but swell the costs enormously. It is proposed to remedy this defect by concentrating at one stage objections and appeals which can be taken up at that stage without detriment to the parties, while the costs will thereby be much reduced. Another defect in the present law is that it provides no adequate procedure for carrying out measurements and ascertaining the amount of the existing rents or assets on which the partitions are to be based. The result is that amins dawdle over these measurements for years, fomenting disputes in the villages, thus increasing the expenses.

"It is proposed to apply a remedy to this latter defect by providing that if a previous survey has been made, or the parties themselves file measurement papers admitted to be correct, the Deputy Collector may, after testing their correctness, accept them as the basis of partition without a fresh survey, and that where a survey is necessary, it shall be made and a record of existing rents and rights prepared, under proper supervision and control at a moderate expense and with sufficient legal sanction. It is not proposed to empower the Deputy Collector to alter existing rents. The main object of the Bill is then to afford relief to the proprietors in these ways, but the opportunity has been taken to effect improvements in the law in other respects which will, it is hoped, be beneficial to their tenants also and to the general tax-payer.

"I cannot explain its objects and reasons without trespassing to an intolerable length on the time of the Council better than by reading, with the permission of His Honour the President, extracts from the Statement of Objects and Reasons. They run thus:—

'The primary and chief object of this Bill is to simplify, cheapen and shorten the procedure for effecting partitions of estates in Bengal. The present law for the partition of estates, which is contained in the Partition Act, VIII (B.C.) of 1876, has been found by experience to be defective, in that it allows excessive and unnecessary opportunities for making objections and delays at almost every stage of the proceedings. Parties who wish to obstruct the partition take advantage of these opportunities to such an extent that partition proceedings are protracted to an intolerable length, and are excessively expensive and harassing to the proprietor applicants, who, when entitled to partitions, should have the means of getting them effected within a reasonable limit of time and at a moderate expenditure. The protraction of partition proceedings is also a source of irritation, harassment, and injury to the tenants of estates under partition; for, though under the present law the tenants are not bound by anything entered in the partition papers, it has been found, as a fact, that partition proceedings have been abused for the purpose of effecting illegal and inequitable enhancements of rent. The Bill aims at applying a remedy to these evils—(1) by defining and limiting the stages of the proceedings at which objections and appeals may be made, without, at the same time, taking away or curtailing the right itself to make objections or urge appeals at the proper time; (2) by providing for the making of a survey and the preparation of a record of rights and existing rents unless a previous measurement has been made, or the proprietors themselves file measurement papers admitted to be correct, so that there may be an authoritative finding on the assets on which the partition is to be based, and that all parties concerned, including the tenants, may have an opportunity of knowing what is being recorded relating to them and of urging objections, if they have any.

'The delay, expense, and harassment caused by partition proceedings under the present law, and consequent necessity for amending the law, are illustrated by the following facts:—The average duration of these proceedings at present is not less than 3½ years, and there are some cases which were instituted more than 20 years ago (i.e., before the present Act was passed), but up to date are not completed. The average cost of partition proceedings under the present law is about 8 annas an acre, and in some districts the expenditure has amounted to from Re. 1 to Re. 1-7 per acre.

'The injury that is done to tenants under the present law is illustrated by the facts that some estates in Bihar in which a survey was made, a record of rights prepared, and authoritative rentals recorded under Chapter X of the Tenancy Act in 1886, came under partition a few years later; that rents were recorded by the Partition Deputy Collector in the partition proceedings according to the statements of the proprietors, behind the backs of the tenants, and that the rents so recorded were two to three times the true rents entered in the settlement record of 1886. What occurred in the estates referred to, where the facts were susceptible of ascertainment, is what is believed to occur also in other estates under partition where there are no means of knowing what the real rental is. It is true that the rents recorded in the partition proceedings did not in law bind the tenants, but it is known as a fact that the entry of exaggerated and fictitious rentals, in this way, in partition proceedings, behind the tenants, has in some cases been accepted by the tenants themselves out of court, as imposing on them liability to pay such fictitious rents, and in others, that the separate proprietors immediately after partition proceeded to enhance rents illegally. The result is that there is no more fertile source of arbitrary and illegal enhancements of rent in Bihar than petty partitions as now conducted. The Bill seeks to remedy this evil by providing for an authoritative record of existing rents and rights, save when the landlords file measurement papers admitted to be correct, and also by providing that the rents as stated by them in such measurement papers shall be explained to, and their correctness attested in presence of, the tenants.

'A secondary, but still very important, object of this Bill is to impose some limit on the endless divisibility of responsibility for land revenue to the State allowed under the present law.

'Under the law as it stands, the only restriction on the creation of petty estates is that contained in section 11 of Act VIII (B. C.) of 1876, which directs that no partition shall be carried out if the separate estate of any of the proprietors would be liable for an annual revenue of not more than one rupee, until the proprietor of that separate estate agrees to redeem the revenue assessed upon it. The result is that the multiplication of petty estates entered in the Collector's registers has in some districts gone on to such an extent that it is believed to be likely to become dangerous to the security of public revenue. In the Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga districts the number of separate estates borne on the Collector's revenue-roll increased from 5,186 in 1850-51 to 13,432 in 1871-72, and in 1892-93 was no less than 30,477, the increase thus being six-fold in 40 years; and this though these districts contain large zamindaries of great proprietors which are not subjected to partition. In these districts, too, arbitrary and illegal enhancements of rents have, by means of partitions, been effected to an excessive degree.

'This divisibility and great multiplication of estates is believed to be bad for the proprietors and bad for their tenants, besides being dangerous to the public revenue, and imposing an unnecessary amount of labour and expense on the administration, without any proportionate benefit to anybody.

'It is bad for the proprietors, because it tends to foster the creation and growth of an infinite number of petty pauper landlords, who not being themselves able to cultivate the lands of their microscopically small estates (since there are tenants already on the lands whom they cannot legally eject) are driven to screw up rents, and quarrel with their tenants and landlord neighbours, and thus bring discredit on their class. It, moreover, involves waste of time and labour from the proprietor's point of view, as the separate management of several petty estates must necessarily cause more trouble and expense than the joint management of the parent estate.

'The unrestricted multiplication of petty estates is obviously bad for the tenants; for, apart from the inevitable tendency of a peasant landlord to be a bad landlord, who from necessity must endeavour to illegally rack-rent or eject the tenants in occupation, it is also to be remembered that a tenant who, according to the terms of his original tenancy, had only to deal with one landlord or one representative of all the co-sharers, and to pay his rent at one place, keeping one set of accounts, may and does become, without his consent, bound, after a partition is made, to pay rent in several different places, to keep several different sets of accounts, and to deal with several different landlords, each and every one of whom may sue him separately for rent, or distrain his crops, or sue him for ejectment, or do separately any act adverse to the tenant's interests authorised by law, which before partition the proprietors must have all agreed upon (under section 188 of the Tenancy Act) before any action could be taken.

'It is clear for these reasons that the infinite partibility and multiplication of estates is injurious to the interests of the tenants.

'Lastly, these petty partitions impose on the administration an amount of labour in effecting them and subsequent expense altogether incommensurate with any advantage accruing from them. Multiplication of estates means multiplication of boundary disputes of disputes between landlord and tenant, more riots, more criminal cases, more civil suits, great multiplication of accounts and processes for collection of the land revenue, and greater multiplication of accounts and processes for collection of road cess and other public demands, and consequently multiplication of establishments which will for all time have to be paid by the general tax-payer, and not alone by applicant proprietors.

'For these reasons it is thought desirable in the interests of the proprietors, their tenants and the general public, that some restriction should be put on the partibility of estates to be borne as separate units in the Collector's revenue-rolls. The restriction proposed in section 10 of the Bill is, that partition shall be refused if the separate estate of any of the proprietors would be liable for an annual amount of land revenue not exceeding Rs. 100. The particular limit of Rs. 100 is put forward tentatively, and may be too high. Some of the facts above stated suggest the desirability of imposing an absolute prohibition on the subdivision of estates below a certain limit. But it is not thought necessary to go so far. The limit proposed only affects the separation of responsibility for payment of Government revenue, and does not affect the right of proprietors to dispose of the whole or any portion of their estates as they think fit, or their right to obtain separate possession of any portion thereof. It is expressly provided that any Civil Court which has made a decree for partition or for the separate possession of a share of an undivided estate paying revenue to Government may execute such decree, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as in the case of a revenue-free estate, but the joint and several liability of the entire estate is not thereby to be affected, unless such partition is made or separate possession given by the Collector under this Bill.

'An objection that may, with some apparent show of reason, be urged against the proposals of section 10 is that, if the power of partition is withdrawn from petty proprietors, they will be placed at the mercy of their more wealthy co-sharers and neighbours, but the force of it is nullified by the facts that small co-sharers are protected by the proviso to the same section, and that they can protect themselves otherwise by opening separate accounts or by applying for the appointment of a common manager under section 93 of the Tenancy Act. Whatever risk of hardship to petty co-sharers there may be under the Bill, if there be any, it is as nothing compared to the injury to proprietors and raiyats and to the general tax-payer that is being now, and in a greater degree in the future is likely to be, caused by the microscopic subdivision of estates.'

"The Bill is in the hands of Hon'ble Members, and statistics and papers will be circulated with it which, it is believed, will satisfy them of the correctness of the assertions of fact made in the extracts which have been read.

"Assuming the facts to be as stated, it will, I hope, be agreed that enough has been said to warrant me in asking for permission to have the Bill read in Council.

"As regards the Bill itself, I may explain that the question of amending the Partition law has been under discussion for the past five years, and the Bill is the outcome of those discussions.

"It was submitted by Sir Charles Elliott substantially in its present shape to the Government of India, and was approved by that Government. It may be, and no doubt is, susceptible of improvement. There is no desire to rush this Bill.

"On the contrary, the object of Government in now having it introduced in Council is to permit of its being circulated, and of inviting during the next four months the criticisms and opinions of Public Associations, private individuals, and Government officers.

"Such criticisms will be welcomed and carefully considered, and it is hoped, when the Bill finally comes before Council after such modifications by the Select Committee as opinions and criticisms may suggest, that it will be accepted by the Council as being beneficial to the proprietors themselves, their tenants and the general tax-payer."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE also applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business for the purpose of moving that the Bill be circulated for opinion.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE moved that the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjoined sine die.

Offg. Assistant Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Legislative Department.

RESULT OF THE EXAMINATION FOR ADMISSION TO THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE PROVINCIAL CIVIL SERVICE AND THE SUBORDINATE CIVIL SERVICE.

RESOLUTION—No. 71A—D.

APPOINTMENT.

Dated Darjeeling, the 20th April 1896.

READ—

The Resolution of the 11th May 1895, reviewing the result of the examination held in April of that year, and appointing candidates to be probationers in the Executive Branch of the Provincial and Subordinate Civil Service.

The Notification of the 6th August 1895, publishing rules for the examination of 1896 for admission to the Executive Branch of the Provincial and Subordinate Civil Service.

The Reports of the examiners at the examination held on the 23rd, 24th, 25th and 26th March 1896.

The seven Probationary Deputy Collectors and seventeen Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors appointed on the result of the examination held in April 1895 have all been absorbed into officiating or substantive pro tempore appointments. The policy of promoting deserving Sub-Deputy Collectors to officiate as Deputy Collectors has been adhered to. During the year 1893-94, 16, during 1894-95, 28, and during the past year, 1895-96, no less than 32 Sub-Deputy Collectors have received promotion to the grade of Officiating Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector.

2. In August last, it was notified in the same way as had been done in previous years that at an examination to be held in March 1896, seven candidates would be selected for Probationary Deputy Collectorships on a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 a month, and seven for Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectorships on a subsistence allowance of Rs. 30 a month respectively. It was announced that four probationary Deputy Collectorships would be given to the first four candidates on the list in order of merit, that three would be selected by the Lieutenant-Governor from amongst those who had obtained a minimum of one-third of the total marks, and that from the remainder of those qualified by obtaining one-third of the total marks, the Lieutenant-Governor would select seven more candidates as probationers for Sub-Deputy Collectorships.

3. The examination so notified was held on the 23rd, 24th, 25th and 26th of March 1896. No fewer than 165 competitors, or exactly the same number as last year, obtained permission to compete, and of these, 160 (all of whom except five were graduates) actually appeared and sent in papers. Of these 160 candidates, 128 took up Bengali as their vernacular, 26 took up Hindi or Hindustani, and 6 took up Uriya. The corresponding figures at the examination held in 1895 were 115, 36 and 9. It is a matter of regret that out of this large number of candidates there should have been only 20 Muhammadans, 6 Bihari Hindus, and 6 Uriyas. In 1895, the corresponding figures were 18, 11, and 9. The total number of candidates who obtained one-third marks was 131 against 108 in 1895.

4. It was stated in last year's Resolution that after considering the number of probable retirements and casualties and the number of vacancies likely to be occasioned by the deputation of officers on special duty, the number of vacancies during the year in the grade of Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector might be taken at 21. The actual number was 19. Consideration of the same probabilities for the ensuing year has led to the conclusion that the number of vacancies may be again taken at 21, and on this basis, therefore, the number of probationers will now be selected. Seven of the vacant Deputy Magistracies will be filled up by the appointment of candidates who are now selected to be Probationary Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors, and the remaining 14 appointments will be filled up by selection from among Sub-Deputy Collectors who are now in the service. Assuming that three ordinary vacancies will be created in the grade of Sub-Deputies during the year, this decision enables the Lieutenant-Governor to raise the number of officers to be appointed as Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors from among the candidates at the late examination from 7 to 17.

5. The following four gentlemen who stood first in order of merit are entitled to appointments as Probationary Deputy Collectors:—

	Number of marks.
Babu Hem Chandra Chatterjee, B.A.	534
,, Manasa Ranjan Sen, B.A.	521
,, Murali Dhar Ray Chaudhuri, M.A.	511
,, Satyendra Nath Das, M.A., B.L.	506

6. The following three candidates have been selected by the Lieutenant-Governor for appointment as Probationary Deputy Collectors after careful consideration of the number of marks obtained, the claims upon Government of members of the candidate's family, the interests of the different classes of the community, and the requirements of the public service:—

Akhouri Brahmadeva Narayan Sinha, B.A.
Maulvi Mahomed Eskandar Ali, B.A.
Mr. A. J. Ollenbach, B.A.

7. All these probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 per mensem, and if the report from the districts in which they are stationed is favourable, they will, after such period of probation as may seem advisable, be appointed to be Officiating Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. They will not ordinarily be vested with magisterial powers until they are so appointed. Separate orders will now be passed, posting all the officers above named to districts.

8 The following are the 17 candidates selected by the Lieutenant-Governor from among those who have obtained one-third marks to be Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors:—

Babu Surendra Nath Sarkar, M.A.
,, Ashutosh Pal, M.A., B.L.
,, Nilmoni Dey, B.A.
,, Rajmohan Gangopadhyay, B.A.
,, Jogesh Chunder Dutt, B.A.
,, Dasarathi Datta, M.A.
,, Satish Chandra Guha, B.L.
,, Charu Chandra Banerjee, B.A.
Babu Ramesh Chandra Sinha, B.A.
,, Sarat Chandra Chatterjee, B.A.
,, Mathura Nath Banerjee, B.A.
,, Bhavani Prasada, M.A.
,, Murari Misra, B.A.
Maulvi Mahammed Choinuddin, M A.
Mr. P. M. Robertson, B.A.
Maulvi Masudul Hosain, B.A.
,, Syed Tajammul Ali, B.A.

9. These probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 30 per mensem at present, and will, if they are satisfactorily reported on, be gradually absorbed in the fourth grade of Sub-Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. Separate orders will at once be passed posting them to districts.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

From—C. FISHER, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Burdwan,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

WITH reference to your deferred telegram, dated Darjeeling, 20th April 1896, I have the honour to report as follows.

2. Owing to the scanty rainfall of year 1895, the water of the tanks throughout this district was not replenished as in ordinary years. and there have unfortunately been no storms during the last two months, as is usually the case. The result is that the water in most of the tanks is much lower than in ordinary years, and in some cases the tanks have dried up altogether In fact I may say that the only tracts which are now enjoying a full supply of good water are those situate along the banks of the rivers and along the edge of the Eden Canal.

3. In certain villages the people have to get water from a distance of half a mile and more, but I have not had any complaints of water having to be brought more than 1 mile. I understand that much of the inconvenience that is being felt is due to the fact that the women are so conservative. It is the women who bring the water to the household, and they do not willingly forsake the tank that they have been in the habit of resorting to for water, and are averse to going a little further for better water. To-day I have had a complaint from some villagers who live near the Eden Canal, who ask me to have a cutting made to lead some of the canal water into their village tank, because their women folk do not care to go to the canal, which is a little further off. I have sent on this petition to the Honorary Assistant Engineer in charge of the Eden Canal, but I much doubt if he will comply with the villagers' request.

4. I am doing all I can to encourage zamindars and villagers to excavate tanks and wells. On the 2nd April I sent a circular to all Subdivisional Officers, in which I asked them to encourage all owners of tanks to take the opportunity of having them re-excavated, and also to exhort the villagers to dig wells where water was scarce. In the Sadar subdivision, I have myself addressed letters to thirteen of the principal land-owners, asking them to re-excavate their tanks and undertake the construction of wells.

5. The District Board had provided Rs. 3,000 in their budget this year for sanitary improvements. I have, however, in anticipation of the sanction of the District Board and of the Commissioner, transferred another Rs. 2,000 to this head, and I have distributed it in the manner shewn in the Statement A annexed. It will be seen that I have devoted most of the available sum to digging wells which will give more immediate relief. In locating the new wells, I have kept in mind the urgency of the demand for the supply of water in the various localities, while, at the same time, I have not allowed any wells to be constructed, except in the vicinity of District Board roads.

6. In addition to the new wells under construction, as shown in Statement A, I have also taken steps to have some of the old wells cleaned out and repaired. These are to be found in Statement B annexed.

7. A meeting of the District Board will be held on Monday next, and the question of devoting additional funds for well sinking will be discussed. I had already called for a weekly progress report of the work being done by the District Board, and I will submit these weekly till further orders.

8. I am encouraging people to take advances u der the Land Improvement Act, and there are a number of applications at present under enquiry; it is necessary in all cases to have enquiries made on the spot as to the value of the property pledged against the loans, and this causes considerable delay. I should be glad if Government would allow me one additional kanungo for two months to clear off the pending applications. We have asked for Rs. 8,000 under this Act this year, but it will probably be necessary to ask for an additional grant: I shall be able to say for certain when I have received more of the reports now pending with kanungoes.

9. In some cases I am supporting the police in preventing persons from baling water out of tanks for irrigation, as I consider it of more importance that drinking water should be secured than that the crop (mostly sugarcane) of two or three persons should be benefited at the expense of the health of a large number. I am also in some cases asking people not to fish in their tanks, as this disturbs the water so much that it is hardly fit for drinking.

10. The Manager of the Burdwan Raj has also got certain works in hand for the improvement of the water-supply of this district, and the progress made and the nature of the undertakings is shown in Statement C annexed.

No. 521, dated Birbhum, the 24th April 1896.

From—E. G. Drake-Brockman, Esq., Magistrate of Birbhum,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

With reference to your telegram of the 20th instant, calling for a full report on the condition of the water-supply of this district and the action taken by the District Board, I have the honour to state as follows.

2. The three sources of water-supply in this district are rivers, tanks and wells. At this time of the year the rivers and khals are usually dry, and in the present year exceptionally so. Water, however, is still to be obtained in some, and in others by digging a few feet in the sandy beds.

3. As regards wells, there are but few, and these mainly belong to the District Board or Suri Municipality. Though these are short of water, yet I have not heard of any being altogether dry so far.

4. The main source is, however, tanks. There is no village of importance in this district which is not provided with numerous tanks, but their condition is almost without exception deplorable, and complaints are being made that many of them are empty. I have seen some which have little or no water. This is partly due to the unusual drought, as the rain is the only means whereby these tanks are replenished, but greatly also to neglect in keeping them in repair. In some cases, by digging in the beds of these tanks, water has been obtained, but the only relief is a sufficient shower of rain.

5. I may here mention that ever since my arrival in this district, I have been looking in to the question of the drinking-water supply in the villages; and during my tours impressed upon the villagers the necessity of reserving at least one tank in each village for drinking-water. My advice seems to have been for the most part unheeded. In some cases, however, a tank has been selected here and there. I even made a selection with the villagers on the spot. The control of these I have tried to induce the owners to make over to the District Board under section 90 of the Local Self-Government Act, but in all except one or two instances I have failed, owing to the owners, or some of them, declining to do so. In one case the owner was a well-to-do zamindar, and in another one of the sharers declined even though requested by the munsiff and local gentry of the place. The reason for this is difficult to ascertain. It may be due to many circumstances, a fear lest the proprietorship in the tank will be lost, or mere selfishness, as in some cases the owners themselves will not be benefited, or from disputes as to the ownership. One proprietor, on the condition that bathing and irrigation would be allowed to continue, consented to the District Board re-excavating the tank Such conditions could not of course be accepted.

6. Both my predecessor and myself drew the attention of landlords and the agents to the state of their tanks, and recommended the taking of loans under the Land Improvement Act, but I believe only two applications for excavation of tanks have been received this year, and one had to be rejected because the applicant refused to give proper security, though he actually possessed it.

7. I have seen very few tanks being re-excavated, though this is a golden opportunity for such, and from the list of works of public utility executed by private persons in this districts, it can be seen how small is the benefit done in this direction. My experience is that self-help and public spirit are almost unknown qualities here. There is also a want of co-operation among villagers. In one village here I was asked if Government would erect a small bund a few feet long and 2 or 3 feet high in order to prevent the water of a tank being spoiled by the drainage from the surrounding fields. The village itself was quite well-to-do, but it never seemed to strike the inhabitants that a little exertion on their own part would be necessary. I, however, pointed this out to them.

8. As regards relieving the present distress, I have ordered here and there wells to be dug where it has been considered necessary and not likely to be found hereafter useless by reason of the proximity of tanks, the water of which is generally preferred. In some cases I have asked if the villagers are willing to come forward with help. In one village I noticed the necessity for a well both for men as well as for the cattle, which were brought in large numbers weekly to be sold. I applied to the zamindar for subscriptions, and beyond getting the reply that the people were too busily engaged with some puja ceremony to hold a meeting, I have heard nothing since. In the municipality here the Chairman is unable to obtain the small piece of land necessary for a well from the owner, though such a work will be a boon for the ward for which it is intended. I have, however, made over a plot near where a well will be of benefit.

9. In urgent cases I have ordered wells to be dug in anticipation of sanction, for it must be remembered that all expenditure on this score requires the sanction of the Commissioner to be obtained through the Superintending Engineer under rule 40(e), vide notification of 18th February 1892. This would cause delay.

10. I can think of no other means of giving relief. Here and there water may be carted as suggested, but at present no case where such is necessary has been brought to my notice. To dig tanks would, I consider, be waste of money, as there are tanks everywhere, and this measure would of course bring no relief when the want of water is due to the absence of rain.

11. I have directed all subordinate officers who go about on tour, and also the police, to report weekly to me the actual condition of the water-supply in any villages they visit, so that I may learn where the distress is exceptional, and take steps to relieve it as far as possible.

No. 518, dated Bankura, the 23rd April 1896.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram, dated the 20th instant, calling for a report on the condition of the district as regards water-supply and on the action taken by the District Board, and giving certain instructions in regard to the measures to be taken to improve the supply of water in the district.

2. In reply, I beg to report that the water-supply of the district is derived from rivers, wells and tanks. The rivers, the most important of which are the Damodar, the Darkessar, the Selai and the Cossye, are practically dry, but a fair supply of water is still obtained by digging in the river beds. There are few wells in the district. In the eastern part of the district it is said that in ordinary years the people do not care for well water, which is said to be less palatable to the taste than that of tanks and rivers. The absence of wells may perhaps also be explained by the hardness of the soil and to the fact that the ordinary sub-soil water level in the hot-weather is about 30 feet; and for a well to yield a permanent supply, it must be at least 40 feet deep. The water-supply of this district is derived mainly from tanks, of which there are a large number. Most of them are shallow and by this time are quite dry, but in almost every village—certainly in every village of any importance—there are still one or more tanks from which the villagers obtain their water for washing, drinking and domestic purposes, and unless the monsoon is unusually late, this supply, such as it is, should hold out till the rains break. The few villages which have no tanks of their own, get their water from neighbouring villages, and I am informed that the inhabitants of certain villages in Indas thana are going considerable distances in order to get their water from the Darkessar river. There can be no question that the water from tanks is muddy and polluted and will become more so during the course of the next two months, so the digging of well is in every way desirable.

3. Provision has been made in the year's District Board budget for the construction of twenty wells with masonry rings at a cost of Rs. 2,000. Ten of these are to be made in the Sadar subdivision, and the construction of nine has already begun. Instructions have issued for the immediate commencement of work on the ten wells sanctioned in the Vishnupur subdivision. The villages in which the wells are being made were selected from lists prepared by the two Local Boards and by the inspecting agency under the District Board.

4. Since the receipt of your telegram, the District Board have, at a meeting held on the 22nd instant, resolved to provide an additional sum of Rs. 2,000 during the current year to be spent partly on permanent wells and partly on temporary measures of relief. Funds for this expenditure will be available, as the unspent closing balance from past year has proved larger than was expected. As the evil is widespread and affects more or less almost every village in the district, comparatively speaking little can be done by the direct action of the District Board with its limited funds. There are, moreover, few large zamindars or tenure-holders sufficiently public-spirited to undertake any measures of relief. The chief hope lies in applications for land improvement and loans. Only five applications have been received since the 1st April 1896 in this office. Others have no doubt been submitted to the Subdivisional Officer of Vishnupur, but the figures are not now available.

On receipt of Government Circular No. 22L S.G., dated 2nd April, I issued orders to all chaukidari panchayats to make it known in their villages that facilities will be given for the grant of loans under the Land Improvement Act if sufficient security is given. I have not yet been informed what amount will be available for expenditure in this district. It is hard to estimate what amount will be required. In the year which has just closed, only Rs. 3,050 was advanced, but as this is an unusually dry year, it is to be expected that the advance will be greater, and may perhaps amount to Rs. 10,000 if funds are available.

5. The three municipalities of this district, Bankura, Vishnupur and Sonamukhi, are all well supplied with tanks. The Commissioners of the Bankura Municipality have already taken action to have certain of the tanks cleansed, and have lately instituted five prosecutions with this object. I have visited the Sonamukhi Municipality, and have written to the Commissioners to endeavour to preserve from pollution more of the tanks, which are all but one the property of private owners. The Subdivisional Officer of Vishnupur reports that the condition of the water-supply in Vishnupur in satisfactory.

6. Endeavours will moreover be made to arouse the local gentry to undertake some measures of relief, but I have little hope of any great measure of success. In a few instances, however, tanks are bring cleansed, but I know of no villages in which wells are being dug. A few applications have been received from panchayets or villagers requesting assistance in preserving their water-supply from pollution, and in such cases the assistance of the police and chaukidars has been willingly afforded, but there appears to be no widespread desire for any measures of this sort.

7. In conclusion, I have the honour to state that this letter has been delayed in order to enable me to obtain information from the members of the District Board, a meeting of whom was held yesterday.

No. 231G., dated Midnapore, the 22nd April 1896.

From—W. R. Bright, Esq., Collector of Midnapore,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

With reference to your telegram, dated 20th instant, I have the honour to report as follows:—

2. The condition of the district as regards water-supply.—It is sufficient in Tumluk. Want of good drinking-water is felt in Contai, where, however, the rainfall was practically normal. In the Sadar there is scarcity of water in the town, and the water-supply is low elsewhere. In Ghatal there is scarcity of water in thana Daspar.

3. The District Board, in their budget for this year, have put down Rs. 5,000 for water-supply. The budget has not been sanctioned, but application has been made to the Commissioner to sanction the expenditure of money on improving water-supply. The only application for additional grant received was from the Subdivisional Officer of Ghatal. He applied for a special grant of Rs. 5,000. A special meeting of the District Board was called for the 18th, when, however, a quorum was not present, and a further meeting has been called for the 30th. On receipt of the Subdivisional Officer's letter, I called for details, and I have received details of wells to be dug which are to cost under Rs. 1,000. This can be met from the grant already in the budget. As regards the town (Ghatal), the municipality are taking steps to supplement the water-supply by carting water from the river and distributing it gratis. As soon as their resources come to an end, I will take steps to call a public meeting or to obtain subscriptions.

4. I had made arrangements to call a public meeting, but the influential gentlemen of the town deprecated it on the ground that it would be of little or no use.

5. As a further measure of increasing the supply of water, I am arranging to allow the embankments thrown up in the Silye and other rivers to remain until the end of May, instead of having them cut, as is usual, in the present month.

6. Copy of your telegram will be sent to Subdivisional Officers, District Superintendent of Police, and District Board, and weekly reports will be submitted as desired.

No. 722, dated Hooghly, the 21st April 1896.

From—J. Lang, Esq., Magistrate of Hooghly,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

In reply to your deferred telegram, dated Darjeeling, 20th instant, and received to-day, enquiring as to the water-supply in this district and the action taken by the District Board to provide against any scarcity, I have the honour to report that most of the tanks to which the people of the Hooghly district look for their supply of drinking-water are now dried up or else contain a residue of liquid, which often appears pregnant with filth and noxious matter.

2. So far as I can ascertain, wells are extremely scarce, and where found are not popular. The people along the eastern boundary of the district have easy access to the water of the Hooghly river, and, preferring as they do river water to any other form of water, are not unwilling to walk considerable distances to obtain it. The water famine is therefore felt mostly in the Dhaniakhali and Pandua police jurisdictions of the Sadar subdivision, and generally throughout the Jehanabad subdivision.

3. For myself, I only took charge of this district during the current month, and having not yet held charge for three weeks, I have had little time to study its requirements; but in view of the drought, I took the first opportunity of calling a special meeting of the District Board at the shortest interval allowed by the Act.

4. The result of this meeting was that the sum of Rs. 7,500 was voted on account of water-supply, of which sum Rs. 7,000 is to be devoted to works of permanent utility, i.e., the sinking of good masonry wells, as opposed to the excavation or improvement of tanks, and the balance of Rs. 500 is to meet pressing temporary needs. The whole of this sum has been handed over to me as Chairman to spend at my discretion.

5. It is felt that drinking water is a necessary of life, and that it is of easy access to every villager, if only the residents will lay themselves out to obtain it. The present is a time when the people of this district at first were prepared to sit idle in their villages until the Sirkar came forward and paid them to look for water to save themselves. But I have taken every opportunity to point out to the people of the upper classes, and through the chaukidars on parade to the people of the lower classes, that they ought to trust to themselves in the present emergency and not look to the Sirkar, who, however anxious to assist all, can only help a few.

6. In the meantime there are many tenants and small proprietors of tanks who (each near his own home with the assistance of three or four friends) have struck good water 20 feet square by 2 feet deep at the bottom of their dried-up tanks at a purely nominal cost of from five to ten rupees.

The example once set is being generally followed. Every village has its tank; and there is rarely, if ever, occasion to go more than four feet below the bed to find water.

The cultivators are at present mostly unemployed, and it is because the members of the District Board felt that the people were in a position to help themselves that they were averse to spending their money in a manner which would encourage idleness and prove of merely temporary utility.

7. In the meantime I have collected information from the chaukidars on parade as to the requirements of every village (so far as the returns are to hand) in the district; this information I have before me. I have the applications from various villages for water-supply, and I have the police returns showing the villages affected by epidemices of disease. I find that I can pick out from among the most needy villages over twenty-five through whose lands our District Board roads pass, and so I have been able to select sites for good wells, which will prove, or should prove, of use to the surrounding villages in times of drought, and at all times to wayfarers along the road. At the same time the condition of the water and the maintenance of the wells will, from their very position, be easily and effectively looked after by the subordinates of the Board.

8. The sites for wells in the Jehanabad and the Sadar subdivisions having been already selected, the work of excavation has been entrusted to the District Engineer.

9. With regard to the balance of Rs. 500 to be spent in works of temporary relief, I have selected the villages where the residents being still unwilling to help themselves on the lines already explained, pecuniary assistance to the extent of about Rs. 10 in each case is all that will be required, whether it be for sinking kutcha wells, for digging pits in the beds of dried-up tanks.

10. It will be noticed that Norton's tube-wells are not being purchased for this district. Even if worked successfully, they are not popular; and, if I may quote my own experience, it is that of 20 sunk in different districts in alleged suitable soils, only one was in working order at the end of a year; and that one occupied three men using all their energies 15 minutes to squeeze out one pail of water! Given an experienced mechanic ready at hand, the experiment will often succeed, but let him go away, and failure will follow. The Municipality of Hooghly tried these tube-wells lately, but the experiment proved a failure, owing probably in this particular instance to the unsuitable character of the soil.

11. So much has been done by the District Board. Moreover, during the present month loans to the extent of Rs. 4,000 for the purpose of excavating tanks have already been sanctioned after due enquiry made by a gazetted officer and satisfactory security taken.

12. The telegram under reply suggests relief by cartage of water. From the particulars I have before me, giving, as they do for every village in the district, the distances to which the residents have to go for water, I am not at present inclined to adopt this form of relief, and I trust that the necessity for such a step will not arise. It is true that water is carted even now from great distances, but enquiry shows that generally the carts are travelling for rich native gentlemen, who, preferring river to stagnant water, employ carts to bring water not only in this, but in every year.

13. In closing this report, it may not be out of place to add that the cholera epidemic, exaggerated as it has been, has prevailed principally in the localities best supplied with water (vide annexed statement A), and I am not at present prepared to admit that the water famine has done any harm beyond causing the people to work for themselves at their own expense.

14. To sum up briefly, the water-supply in this district has run low, and to meet the emergency—

(a) the District Board has voted Rs. 7,000 for water-supply by means of masonry wells of permanent utility;

(b) rupees 500 to be spent in small sums to relieve present needs;

(c) rupees 4,000 has been advanced under the Land Improvements Act for the excavation and improvement of tanks;

(d) the Executive Engineer of the Northern Embankment Division has been, and is being, asked to supply water to the best of his ability from the Eden Canals to the villages in the vicinity; and

(e) lastly, but not least, the people are being continually exhorted to help themselves.

15. Full instructions have already issued to Subdivisional Officers to assist the Chairman of the District Board on the lines herein reported.

From—E. W. COLLIN, Esq., Magistrate and Chairman, District Board, 24-Parganas,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

WITH reference to your telegram of the 20th April 1896, regarding the water-supply of the district, I have the honour to submit the following report.

Before receipt of your telegram I had taken measures to obtain more complete information on the subject, which I hope to be able to submit in the next report. I have the honour now to submit this report with such information as is available.

2. Condition of the district as regard water-supply.—From information derived from reports and personal inspection, it appears that the greatest scarcity is felt in the north of the Baraset subdivision, and in the west of Basirhat subdivision. There is no special scarcity in the south of the district represented by the Diamond Harbour subdivision and the south of the Sadar subdivision. There is, however, a deficient supply in the centre of the Sadar subdivision.

3. Action taken by the District Board.—In the meeting of the District Board held on the 31st January 1896, it was resolved to spend a special allotment of Rs. 1,500 in digging wells in localities where they were specially required. These wells were to be provided with earthernware rings, and the cost was estimated at Rs. 30 each. In consequence of the difficulty of getting labour and the earthenware rings, the cost has come to about Rs 45. Twenty wells in all have been dug up to this time, that is, nine in the Sadar subdivision, 10 in the Baraset subdivision, and one in the Basirhat subdivision. In addition to these wells, arrangements have been made for digging three more wells in the Basirhat subdivision. Ten more wells are to be dug in the Baraset subdivision, and one in the Sadar subdivision.

4. Three Norton tube-wells have been sunk. Of the latter, one was driven 42 feet, and good a supply of water is obtained. The other two tube-wells have been driven 37 feet, but water has not yet been reached. Of the nine wells in the Sadar subdivision, seven are successful, and in two of them the water is unfit for use. Of the ten wells in the Baraset subdivision (which have been dug to depths of 25 to 30 feet), all but one are successful. The Basirhat well is not successful.

5. The progress in well-digging has been delayed by the difficulty of getting men trained to the work, and by the necessity of procuring earthen rings from Calcutta. I have also been waiting to see whether the wells are successful. I have inspected two wells south of Alipore. I found that the supply of water was good, but that people preferred to walk half a mile to a tank. The custom here is for the women to get the water for the family, and they are averse to draw it from wells. It is less likely that they will be able to manage pumps. On the other hand, I am informed that since my visit to the wells south of Alipore, the scarcity of water has increased, and the people are glad to use the wells. In both of the wells which I saw, there were 10 feet of water available.

6. A good tank, at a cost of Rs. 2,000, has been excavated in North Baraset. It was completed at the end of March, and has now four feet of good water in it.

7. I have recently issued a circular through the Police of the Barasat subdivision, to the effect that if the people of any locality are in urgent need of a well, the Board will contribute half the cost up to Rs. 20, but applications have not yet been received. I am informed the people prefer to dig deep holes in the beds of tanks where water can sometimes be obtained at a reasonable depth. This method of procuring water is being resorted to in the interior with fair success, and the cost is often very moderate. Such water-holes are, however, dangerous from a sanitary point of view, and they are not always successful. I will report further as to such excavations after a week.

8. It appears that in the north of the Baraset sub-division, the wealthier classes are carrying water in carts where a local supply is not available. There does not appear to be any necessity at present for the District Board to help in this direction.

9. In respect of municipalities, the Baraset Municipality has sunk nine wells with earthenware rings and one tube-well. The pump of the latter is out of order. They have also two good tanks.

10. In Government estates a well has been sunk in the Baraset sub-divisional compound, and a tank is being excavated. In the Port Canning Estate two tanks are being re-excavated, and one tank is being cleansed in Diamond Harbour.

11. I have noticed that in many localities tanks are being re-excavated, and I have called for particular information on this subject.

No. 1389J.G., dated Krishnagar, the 21st April 1896.

From—J. H. E. GARRETT, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Nadia,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of yesterday's date, calling for a report on the condition of the Nadia district as regards water-supply, and enquiring what action has been taken by the District Board. In reply thereto, I beg to report as under.

2. The rainfall in this district during 1895 was nearly 20 inches below the normal; and owing to this fact and the fact that there were no inundations, the tanks and khals upon which a large number of people depend for their water-supply were not replenished to the usual extent Further, with the exception of some two inches, which fell in November last, we have had practically no rain since September 1895, and this, coupled with the lowness of the water level in all the main rivers, has so reduced the level of the sub soil water that many wells which, under normal conditions, supply water throughout the year have run dry. For these reasons the people generally are undoubtedly experiencing difficulty and inconvenience in obtaining a sufficient supply of water for themselves, and more especially for their cattle. At the same time, I do not consider that the state of affairs at present is so grave as to give rise to any anxiety. There are five big rivers which still contain sufficient water for all villages within two or three miles of each of their banks, and there are a good many tanks and khals scattered over the district which have not yet run dry. I am receiving no reports of cattle disease, and I have no reason for believing that any cattle have so far died from want of water.

3. The District Board has arranged to sink 22 masonry wells throughout the district. These will all be completed by the middle of next month. The Board has further allotted Rs. 2,000, which is being distributed through the agency of the police for the construction of pot-wells in those villages in which the want of water is most severely felt. I have also instructed Subdivisional Officers, the Settlement Deputy Collector, the Sub-Deputy Collectors and the kanungos to specially enquire into the condition of the water-supply when they are in the mufassil, and to bring to my notice any instance in which serious difficulty is being felt: they have also been instructed to stimulate the villagers to dig kutcha wells themselves. Intimation has been sent through chaukidars to every village that applications for tuccavi loans for the excavation of new or re-excavation of old tanks will be favourably received, and zamindars have been informed that should they wish to make any tanks, and meet with any difficulty in obtaining the necessary land, the District Board will be willing to acquire it for them under the Land Acquisition Act. Under present circumstances I do not consider that any further steps are necessary.

4. A copy of your telegram has been sent to Subdivisional Officers for information and guidance, and a weekly report will be submitted to you until further orders. A copy of this and subsequent reports will be submitted to the Commissioner, as desired by you.

No. 57M., dated Berhampore, the 23rd April 1896.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of the 20th instant, regarding the condition of the water-supply in this district, and in reply to report as follows.

2. There has been practically no rain since October 1895, and as a natural consequence the water both in rivers and tanks is considerably lower than in the corresponding periods of previous years. That the scarcity, especially of drinking-water, is felt in villages at a distance from the chief rivers and tanks is undeniable, but I do not consider that there need be any apprehension of general distress on this account. The district is on the whole favourably circumstanced in this respect, and but few complaints have reached me from the Kandi and Jangipur subdivisions. The number of applications for wells and tanks received since the beginning of January last is only 18, of which one comes from the Kandi subdivision, three from Jangipur, and the remainder from the Sadar subdivision. These applications were enquired into at once by the District Engineer and his subordinates, and the necessary steps have been taken in places where it was considered immediate relief was required. Of the 18 applications, 13 were for the excavation of tanks and 5 only for the digging of wells. Reports regarding places where wells and tanks are required are also received regularly from Subdivisional Officers, the police, and the Sadar Deputy Collectors, whose duties taken them into the interior of the district.

3. The whole question of water-supply and the recent orders of Government thereon will be fully considered at the next meeting of the District Board, which is fixed for Monday the 27th instant. Fourteen masonry wells and four ordinary ones with backed earthen rings have recently been sunk by order of the Board in places where they are most wanted, and I have issued instructions for the sinking of 14 more pucka wells, work on which has already been commenced. I have also given orders for the digging of temporary kutcha wells in the dried-up beds of tanks and streams and other low-lying places in villages where the scarcity is the greatest and immediate relief is required. These kutcha wells can be prepared without difficulty at a cost of from Rs. 4 to Rs. 6 each, water as a rule being obtained at a depth of from 10 to 14 feet from the surface. This, in my opinion, is the most useful form of relief at a time like the present, as to re-excavate a tank or to sink a masonry well will occupy some weeks, whereas a kutcha well can be prepared in as many days. Orders have been issued to the overseers and sub-overseers of the District Board to start these works at once, in consultation with Subdivisional Officers at subdivisions, and the District Engineer at the Sadar, in places where they are most urgently needed. Efforts are being made to induce the villagers themselves to co-operate in the work, either by contributing a portion of the cost, or by supplying the necessary labour for the purpose.

4. A further report on the subject will be submitted to you after the question has been considered at the meeting of the District Board to be held on Monday next.

No. 798G., dated Jessore, the 24th April 1896.

From—The Magistrate of Jessore,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

WITH reference to your telegram dated the 20th instant, calling for report as regards water-supply of this district, I have the honour to state that the supply of water is much reduced, but that it is obtainable at short distances.

2. The District Board, in their meeting of the 30th ultimo, voted Rs. 500, that is to say, Rs. 100 for each of the subdivisions of this district, for sinking temporary wells in the bed of old rivers and dried up tanks, where there is want of water and where the people co-operate. Rupees one hundred has accordingly been placed in the hands of each of the four Subdivisional Officers, the work of the head-quarters being put into the hands of the District Engineer. The subjoined list No. 1 is a statement of wells already sunk in the head-quarters subdivision, and the list No. 2 is a statement of wells dug in the Jhenidah Subdivision. The work done in the other subdivisions will be reported to you in the progress reports which I propose to submit on every Monday.

3. Besides the above, I have, as Chairman of the District Board, ordered that a well be sunk on the side of each of the three principal roads of the district, viz., Jessore-Calcutta, Jessore-Jhenidah and Jessore-Keshabpore for the benefit of travellers.

4. Then temporary measures have been undertaken in addition to the ordinary waterworks which may be undertaken by the Board as regular water-supply of the district.

5. Copies of your telegram have been forwarded to the several Subdivisional Officers for guidance. In the head-quasters subdivision, I have directed the Excise Officer and the Deputy Magistrate, who may happen to go out, to stimulate and direct any local measures of relief which may be undertaken by the people.

No. 139J., dated Boalia, the 21st April 1896.

From—N. K. Bose, Esq., Magistrate of Rajshahi,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

With reference to your telegraphic order dated the 20th April 1896, I have the honour to submit as follows.

2. Condition of the district as regards Water-supply.—No serious want of drinking-water has yet been reported from anywhere, excepting the Barind, which lies in the north-west of the district bordering on the districts of Malda and Dinajpur, and which consists of a stiff red clay with an undulating surface. The Barind, however, is sparsely populated, and there are tanks enough to supply water to the people. Some of these tanks, however, require re-excavation.

3. Action taken by the District Board.—The District Board has this year sunk two wells—one at Naogaon (the subdivisional head-quarters) and another at Madarigrum, about ten miles north of Nator. An excellent private well at Maskata dighi, seven miles east of Boalia, was found by me the other day almost dry, the demand for the water being great. Orders were at once passed to deepen the well, and the District Engineer with commendable energy has deepened it by 6 feet. There is now about 8 feet of water in the well, and the supply of water is sufficient.

4. Action contemplated by the District Board.—As Magistrate of the district, I am taking steps to ascertain the number of tanks and other sources of water-supply in every village. The panchayets of the villages are being asked to report through the chaukidars the number of serviceable and unserviceable tanks in the villages, and when this is ascertained, the Board will be in a position to decide as to what villages demand their immediate attention as regards water-supply.

5. It is also contemplated to appeal to zamindars and other well-to-do persons to create a water-supply fund. There are many persons who are quite willing to contribute something towards the excavation of a tank, but are unable to bear the whole expense. I am assured that a large sum could be raised if the zamindars and other well-to-do people are properly approached.

6. I am asking the District Board to increase the budget allotment for water-supply from Rs. 2,000 to Rs. 5,000. I also propose to move the District Board to introduce the scheme which I started in Noakhali of forming village Sanitary Boards, with the object of keeping particular tanks clean for drinking purposes with the funds at its disposal. The Board should, I think, devote its attention in the first instance to the maintenance of existing tanks or restoration of old tanks.

7. Orders have been passed on the District Engineer to commence the work of sinking two wells—one at Baneswar and another at Kanpara.

8. The District Board do not intend to make any experiment with tube-wells. It was tried once, but it failed. In the Barind, where the soil is clayey, and in the marshy lands, tube-wells do not answer. In deara lands they may succeed, but in such places there is not much scarcity of water.

9. As Collector of the district, I have already granted a loan of Rs. 200 under the Land Improvements Act for the excavation of a tank for agricultural purposes. I have given as much publicity as is possible of the wishes of Government in this matter.

No. 662J., dated Jalpaiguri, the 22nd April 1896.

From—W. MAXWELL, Esq., Offg. Deputy Commissioner of Jalpaiguri,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

WITH reference to your telegram of the 20th instant, I have the honour to report as follows.

2. This district has many rivers, and from these a large proportion of the people obtain their water-supply. All tea-gardens provide water in abundance for their employés.

3. Government has constructed 28 wells—mostly of Raniganj pipes, within the háts of the Mainaguri, Falakata, Bhalka, and Alipur tahsils.

4. The District Board has not made any wells during the present year or during any past year.

5. Omitting tea-garden employés, residents in Government bazars, and villagers who live close to rivers, the mass of the people mainly depend for their water-supply on wells sunk by themselves.

6. As the soil of the district is of a sandy character, little difficulty is experienced in sinking such wells, and water is obtained at from 10 to 20 feet from the surface, even at present. Every village has such wells. I have questioned a large number of people from every portion of the district on this subject. They say that they have to sink their wells deeper this year than usual on account of the drought, and that they go on deepening the wells as the water dries up. By so doing water is always obtained, though not in large quantities at a time. The people depend upon themselves in this matter. No complaint has been made to me or to the District Board by any one regarding the want of water.

7. I took the following measures immediately on receipt of your telegram:—

(1) A copy of the telegram was sent to the Subdivisional Officer of Alipur Duars to report at once, and again after a week, and I also asked him to do as follows:—"To direct all thana officers to enquire from chaukidars on hajiri days whether there is a want of water in villages, and to report.

(2) He will himself enquire and direct the tahsildar to visit some villages for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is a scanty water-supply.

(3) He will also do what he can to stimulate the people to dig wells and to encourage the jotedars to assist them."

(4) The District Superintendent of Police, Jalpaiguri, was requested to do as follows:—"To inform all thana officers to enquire from the chaukidars on hajiri days whether there is any dearth of water in any villages. Report should be submitted by thana officers at once. Thana officers are also to report what they themselves know on the subject.

(In thanas Boda and Titalya this is most important.)"

(5) Letters have been addressed to the Manager, Cooch Behar State, the Manager of Bykantapur estate, and leading jotedars in this district, requesting them to inform me if there is any want of water in their villages; and if there is, requesting them to assist the people in making wells and to report to this office.

(6) Orders have been sent to the Hát Inspector of Mynaguri and Ferry Inspector, Overseers, sub-overseers, and other District Board subordinates, requesting them to report whether they have noticed any want of water in any villages.

(7) The tahsildars of Mynaguri, Falakata, and Alipur, and the naib-tahsildar of Bhalka have been requested to report on the subject within four days.

(8) Letters have been addressed to all Honorary Magistrates, requesting them to assist any villagers who suffer from want of water in digging wells.

8. I have instructed all officers to give this subject their special attention while on tour, and to report to me at once if they find that wells are needed in any village, and the District Board will do all in its power to assist the people in making wells.

9. This afternoon I went about six miles along the Barubari road, which runs south-west from Jalpaiguri, and personally examined 16 wells in the villages near the road. Eleven of these wells had between 2 and 4 feet of water in them, two contained water which the villagers never use, and the remaining three had only a few inches of water in them, as much had been taken away during the day by the villagers. The water percolates rapidly into these wells, and during the night about 18 inches of water collect in them.

These wells are all kutcha, and can be made at the cost of about four rupees each. Water is found in the locality I visited at a depth of about 10 feet from the surface.

10. Thus from the information received from all classes of people, and from what I have myself seen, I am at present of opinion that, though people are stinted in the quantity of water which they can get, yet a little effort on their own part, which they appear to put forth, has prevented them from feeling the drought acutely up till now.

The measures taken will bring to notice any cases of hardship from want of water.

No. 902J.—XXXIX-28, dated Rangpur, the 21st April 1896.

From—J. H. TEMPLE, ESQ., B.A., C.S., Magistrate-Collector of Rangpur,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

WITH reference to your telegram from Darjeeling received to-day, on the subject of the anticipated short supply of drinking-water in this district, I have the honour to state that the matter has received my attention, and the recent Government circulars have been noted. Up to date no complaints have been made to me, or to the police, or to the District Board for want of water. Undoubtedly at several places inconvenience is being felt, but the water-supply of the district is almost entirely derived either from the flowing rivers, such as the Teesta, Ghagat, and Brahmaputra, but chiefly from wells; tanks comparatively are very little used. It appears that there is no difficulty in obtaining water from wells except in one or two tracts, where there is a clay substratum. Common earthen ringwells can be made for about Rs. 6 in nearly every part of the district, except the northern portions of the subdivision of Kurigram, where bamboos are substituted for rings. The District Engineer informs me that when a well runs dry, it is the practice to sink another deeper well in some convenient piece of adjoining low-lying land, and the cultivators themselves adopt this practice freely. I do not myself think that it will be necessary to adopt any measures for the cartage of drinking-water from available sources to more distant villages, at all events not until the difficulty gets more serious than at present. The District Board last year sank 20 tube-wells, and have indented for 30 more, which will be sunk in different localities, where there is the greatest need for drinking-water as soon as possible. The orders contained in the telegram have been carried out, and a further report will follow.

No. 101J., dated Bogra, the 21st April 1896.

From—H. D. DEM CAREY, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Bogra,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

WITH reference to your telegram received to-day, I have the honour to report as follows.

2. The soil of Bogra is divided into two main classes—

(i) East of the Karuttea river, about one-third of the district, bounded, west by the Karuttea and east by the Brahmaputra rivers, and intersected also from north to south by the Bengalee. All these rivers flow throughout the year, and as soon as the Brahmaputra rises high, endless streams intersect this portion.

Owing to the sandy nature of the soil, it is difficult and expensive to dig wells, and wells do not last unless of solid masonry.

(ii) West of the Karuttea the soil is a firm clay, in which a simple hole dug for a few rupees will last as a good well for several years. Water is found at no great depth. Two streams, in which water flows all the year, run from north to south through this portion—one near the western boundary and one about midway.

3. Rupees 1,264, unspent in last year, has been reallotted for wells this year; another Rs. 1,000 was provided for in the budget. Nearly all this has been spent, and I have just provided an extra sum of Rs. 1,500 for more wells

4. East of the Karuttea a masonry well has been sunk at Mokamtola, and I have also ordered five tube-wells to be set in a few places where some scarcity is felt.

Considering the certainty of water from all streams within two months, I have not thought the scarcity justifies the heavy expense of more masonry wells in this portion of the district.

5. West of the Karuttea, the following wells—

Masonry well at Khetlal.	Masonry well at Jianagar.
Ditto at Dupchanchea.	Ditto at Dargahat.
Ditto at Panchbibi.	Ditto at Baniadighi.
Ditto at Durgapur.	Ditto at Buriganj.

6. I have taken steps to encourage zamindars to sink wells, and to have any instance of a village suffering from special scarcity of water brought to my notice at once. I do not think there is any fear of serious scarcity of water in this district.

No. 167J., dated Pabna, the 23rd April 1896.

From—J H. LEA, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Pabna,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

WITH reference to your telegram, dated 21st instant, I have the honour to report that in this district the supply of drinking-water is daily diminishing, and many villagers are put to great straits to obtain water of any kind. Numerous rivers run through the district, and people living near or on the banks of these are of course well provided with water; but between these rivers are large tracts of country where the usual sources of water-supply are bheels and khals and tanks, and the greater number of these have completely dried up. From personal inspection I find that water is always available at river level, and if the villagers would only club together and sink ring-wells or even large holes, they would have no difficulty in getting a supply of water.

I find, however, that they are too apathetic to do anything of this kind, and they are not helped in any way by their zamindars. I do not apprehend that this scarcity will last for more than a few weeks. The Ganges and Jamuna have already commenced to rise, and dried up khals and bheels will soon be under water again. The Local Boards are in charge of water-supply in this district, but they have as yet done nothing at all. I have, therefore, taken up the matter as Chairman of the District Board, and have deputed two overseers to do special work. They will visit the district where the scarcity is greatest, and at the end of each week send in reports of what can be done, and funds will at once be placed at their disp sal. The District Engineer is also engaged in enquiring into the scarcity. The kind of work we propose doing is to sink ring-wells in some places, and excavate kutcha holes in the beds of tanks in others. The Subdivisional Officer of Sirajganj has been instructed to give every assistance to the work in his subdivision.

No. 160R., dated Bankipur, the 22nd April 1896.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of a telegram, dated the 20th current, directing me to report fully by letter the condition of the district as regards water-supply and the action taken by the District Board in connection therewith.

2. I have sent copies of the telegram to Subdivisional Officers, and directed them to submit weekly reports to reach me on Mondays at the same time as the crop report.

3. At the same time, I do not in the least apprehend any scarcity of water in this district. I have heard nothing of any impending failure, and with the country side well supplied with wells, I do not see any reason to anticipate difficulty.

4. The Commissioner has already, in communicating Government order, Circular No. 22L.S.-G. of the 2nd current, on the subject of the supply of drinking-water, issued the necessary instruction for the District Board. We have been asked to prepare a scheme for bettering the water supply. I have called for proposals from the Local Board for the future, as well as for a list of the wells already maintained by them, and these will be considered at the next meeting of the District Board. I did not consider it necessary to call a special meeting in the absence of any anticipated scarcity. It has been found impossible to get the residents of this district to take loans from Government under the Land Improvement Act, 1883. During my tour one man spoke to me verbally about a loan, but he has not since come forward.

5. In my programme of relief works submitted under clause 5, chapter II, Part I of the Famine Code, our proposals are confined to the sinking of wells, reclaiming old tanks and excavation of old channels. Of the major works proposed, two are for the construction of tanks. In my opinion we have an ample programme for the area liable to famine. There is no such programme for the rest of the district. I shall await the result of the enquiries being made by the Subdivisional Officers to report further next week.

No. 1170, dated Gaya, the 21st April 1896.

From—H. SAVAGE, Esq., Magistrate of Gaya,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

IN reply to your telegram of yesterday's date received to-day, on the subject of water-supply, I have the honour to repoct that I have, during the past month, made many enquiries on the subject, and find that the district is this year as yet practically no worse off for water than it has been in the previous years. Wells are numerous, and there are as yet no signs that they will dry up before the rains to any serious extent.

2. The only complaints that have reached me are:—

(a) In Gaya town, as is usual every year, some wells have run dry, and, as usual, to meet the demand for water in the old town, the Gayawals have dug a kund (pit) in the bed of the Phalgu. In addition to this, in order to be on the safe side, the municipality is about to dig three other pits at different places to supply both the old and new town. I may note that water can be got in any quantity by digging a hole a foot or two deep anywhere in the bed of the river.

(b) From Aurangabad came a complaint that a kutcha well had fallen in. The District Board ordered it to be re-excavated at once.

(c) At the Bisua mela near Gaya, the old wells did not give a sufficient supply, but two new wells were dug and sufficient water was obtained.

(d) At Rafiganj mela the wells, though newly cleared out, have run dry each day about midday, but other times have given sufficient water. I do not know whether this occurred in other years, but most probably it did.

3. To meet, as far as possible, any difficulty which may arise, I am asking the District Superintendent of Police to instruct all thana officers to question the village chaukidars on parade days, and, in case any complaint of scarcity of water is made, to report direct to me if the village be in the Sadar Subdivision, or to the Subdivisional Officer if it be in an outlying subidvision, so that I, or the Subdivisional Officer, may take steps to supplement the existing water-supply as speedily as possible.

4. I am addressing the Subdivisional Officers on the subject, and will ask them to give special attention to it.

5. As for funds, I think the District Board have provided all that will be necessary. There is, in the current year's budget, an allotment of Rs. 3,000 for new wells, and Rs. 4,000 for repairing existing wells, and I do not foresee that the expenditure of any larger amount will be called for.

No. 1068, dated Chapra, the 22nd April 1896.

From—H. Wheeler, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Saran,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

With reference to your telegram of the 20th instant, on the subject of the water-supply of this district, I have the honour to report as follows.

2. Having just joined the district, I have little personal knowledge of the facts, but I understand verbally from Mr. Slack and from Mr. Knyvett, the District Superintendent, who has camped over the district, that so far there have been no complaints of scarcity of water, and that, generally speaking, the water-supply is good. That the circumstances of this district as regards water-supply were not this year, generally speaking, exceptional, would be inferred from the rainfall during the last year of 44·47 inches, the average of the previous five years being only 46·10, a difference of less than 2 inches only.

3. The District Board allotment this year for the purposes of water-supply amounts to Rs. 3,500. Government Circular No. 22L.S.-G., dated 2nd instant, will be laid before the Board at their next meeting on the 25th instant, and the result communicated in the next weekly report.

4. Reports have been called for from the police as to the existence of any tracts in which scarcity is to be apprehended, and similar enquiries are also being made from Subdivisional Officers.

No. 699, dated Muzaffarpur, the 22nd April 1896.

From—F. R. Roe, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Muzaffarpur,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

In accordance with your telegram of the 20th instant, I have the honour to report that I have made personal enquiries from all officials likely to be acquainted with the condition of the water-supply in their neighbourhood and from Managers of many factories, and am of opinion that there is no apprehension of any failure of water in this district sufficiently serious to be termed a water famine.

2. There has, however, been in many places a deficiency of rainfall, and there is a sufficient scarcity of water to make cholera a very dangerous enemy, and the measures I have taken have been directed chiefly to purifying as far as possible the water-supply available.

3. To this end all the wells in the municipalities of Muzaffarpur, Lalgunge, Hajipur, and Sitamarhi have been cleaned out and purified with lime or permanganate of potash. The District Board have allotted Rs. 320 for the cleaning of the wells on their list, and this work is being carried out. In addition to this, I have issued a notice under section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code to the effect that, whereas immediate action is necessary for the prevention of cholera, zamindars, panchayets, and headmen will immediately purify their wells by dewatering them, cleaning the wells, and when the well has filled by adding fresh lime to the water.

4. In view of the possibility of a serious failure later on in the water-supply, the Commissioner of the Division has authorised the District Board, when convinced that there is necessity for doing so, to undertake works for the supply of water, irrespective of budget provision, up to a limit of Rs. 10,000. I am therefore issuing the annexed circular to Subdivisional Officers, Police officers, Opium officers, Managers of factories, and members of District Board, and have sent a copy of your telegram to the Subdivisional Officers, with instructions to report weekly as to the condition of the water-supply, thana by thana, and will report weekly, as ordered, the information collected.

Dated Muzaffarpur, the 22nd April 1896.

From—F. R. Roe, Esq., Chairman, District Board, Muzaffarpur, To—

The Commissioner of the Division has authorized the District Board, when convinced that there is necessity for doing so, to undertake works for the supply of water, irrespective of budget provision, up to a limit of Rs. 10,000, and has also informed me that the allotment to this district for agricultural loans may be expected to be Rs. 8,000, of which a large amount may be distributed for the improvement of the water-supply of men engaged and beasts employed on agriculture. It is difficult for me to say when the existing sources of water-supply are likely to run dry or where sickness may be expected, and I would ask you to help me in the matter by informing me of any cases which may come to your notice of impending failure of water, and by sending me, when requested, your own opinion as to the merits of any individual case which may be brought to my notice by other means, and of informing me in either case whether the supply may best be improved by wells, tanks, or tube-wells.

No. 833G., dated Darbhanga, the 21st April 1896.

From—R. W. Carlyle, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Darbhanga,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I have the honour to state, with reference to your telegram of the 20th instant, that the question of water-supply in the district was discussed at a District Board meeting on the 15th April, and the members seemed all to be of opinion that there was no reason to expect any trouble as far as the quantity of the water-supply is concerned. I am authorized to spend on my own authority up to Rs. 2,000 in purifying wells, tanks, &c., where necessary. I am not in a position to say the members are wrong, as I only joined the district very lately, but I will make enquiries all over the district through the police and the Subdivisional Officers. I will also make enquiries from big zamindars and indigo-planters.

No. 776J., dated Bhagalpur, the 22nd April 1896.

From—H. J. McIntosh, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Bhagalpur,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

In reply to your telegram of the 20th instant, received yesterday, I have the honour to report that although this is an exceptionally dry year, no complaint has yet reached me from any part of the district of serious insufficiency of water-supply. In the last weekly crop and weather report, all the Subdivisional Officers note that the water-supply is sufficient.

2. During last year the District Board sank eight tube-wells in the northern part of the district, and this year arrangements have been made for sinking five more, the sites of which have been selected. A proposal to construct a pucca well in South Bhagalpur is at present before the District Board. The Government circulars noted in the margin will be placed before the meeting of the District Board to be held next week; and should the necessity arise, I have little doubt that ample provision will be made for constructing more wells without delay.

No 22L S -G , dated 2nd April 1896, and No 23L S -G , dated the 11th April 1896

3. Instructions are being issued to Subdivisional Officers and Police officers to report at once any serious deficiency of water-supply in their jurisdictions.

No. 154G., dated Purnea, the 21st April 1896.

From—J. H. BERNARD, Esq , Collector of Purnea,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of yesterday's date, calling on me to submit forthwith a report on the condition of this district as regards water-supply and the action taken by the District Board.

2. The circular of Government recently received has been circulated to members of the District Board, and will be considered at its meeting at the beginning of next month. The subject was discussed informally at its meeting on the 5th instant, and I found that no members were afraid of there being any scarcity in the supply of drinking-water in this district. No complaint of scarcity of water for men or animals has been received up to date, and I do not anticipate that there will be any such scarcity.

3. Water is particularly easily obtainable in this district. In Purnea a small ring well can be made for Rs. 5, and in the mufassil for a smaller sum. The water is near the surface. There are many rivers, lagoons, and water-courses. The river Kosi, which feeds most of them, is rapidly rising, and we fear flood rather than drought, as every village has several small wells.

4. The above remarks are based on my own observations made chiefly on my cold-weather tour. Further weekly report will be submitted as directed, and I will enquire of my Subdivisional Officers what is the state of things in their jurisdictions.

No. 263R., dated Dumka, the 21st April 1896.

From—R. CARSTAIRS, Esq , Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Parganas,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

IN reply to your telegram received last night, calling for a report on the state of this district as regards water-supply and the action taken by me to afford relief, I have the honour to submit a report from such materials as I have at hand.

2. The weather and crop report formerly submitted for publication in the Gazette having, by order of Government, been discontinued for this district, was not submitted by the Subdivisional Officers. In order, however, to keep myself informed of the state of the district during this anxious season, I have had a weekly report submitted by officers. The latest was received yesterday, and the substance as regards water-supply is that there is want of drinking-water in places, but the want does not seem to have reached that extent that it has reached in some parts of the country. The surface supply of drinking water from bundhs and tanks has been reduced by much water having been withdrawn for irrigation. Probably the parts of the district where there is most distress from want of water are the hill villages, where the hills have been denuded of forest, and consequently the springs dry up far earlier than in former days.

3. With reference to Government Circular No. 22L.S.-G., dated the 2nd instant, and received with Commissioner's No. 10L. of the 7th instant, extracts from it are being sent to the subdivisions, in order that a wide publicity may be given to the intentions of Government. No action has yet been taken with regard to the allotment of Road Fund money for the digging of tanks and wells, further than to provide Rs. 800 for digging eight wells at roadside bungalows. The wells are of great use to the public, both residents and travellers, and will be taken in hand at once.

4. I have just received Board's order which disposes of one part of my No. 163R. of the 16th instant, in which I asked for permission to anticipate the budget sanction for works in the Government Estate. The other part of my proposal, asking for permission to spend money in the improvement and, when necessary, the deepening of wells in Government property, has not yet been replied to, and I shall be glad to hear what orders are passed. A dry season like the present should be utilised for improving and digging wells, and Government should set the example on its own property.

5. I am not in favour of allotting Road Fund money to the digging of small wells or of surface tanks and bundhs. Every pice of our scanty Road Fund is urgently wanted for the improvement and maintenance of communications. Our whole Road Fund does not amount to Rs. 10 per square mile of the district area, and I am being importuned on every side to spend money, which I cannot provide from my funds on work which is not only useful, but almost necessary.

6. I would also point out that the digging of wells in a rocky country like this is rather a precarious undertaking. For instance, the Public Works Department undertook in the year 1892 to dig a well in the subdivisional compound at Pakour. The compound was honeycombed with shafts, which were in succession abandoned on account of meeting with rock. The well is at present incomplete, no spring having as yet been touched. The present estimated cost of this well is Rs. 1,851.

7. This is not the only case in which we have found difficulty, and in view of that difficulty, to enable us to ascertain, without sinking a shaft, whether we could get water or not, I proposed in my No. 341P.W., dated the 5th March 1894, to buy a boring machine belonging to Mr. Atkinson, the contractor, which was then for sale. This proposal was not sanctioned, and we have accordingly been unable to get this help in our work.

8. At Rajmahal, we tried sinking a tube-well in the distillery compound, and this and two other tube-wells which were also sunk in that neighbourhood failed from whatever cause. With the advice of Mr. Clöete, Superintending Engineer, who, in consequence of the death of my District Engineer, kindly made the enquiry himself, we are endeavouring to provide water-supply for the subdivisional residence, Jail and Distillery at Rajmahal, at present entirely deprived of all supply except river water, brought from a distance of half a mile.

9. At Sahebgunge, where the retreat of the river made it necessary to secure a local supply, nearly thirty wells have been dug by the municipality, to which Government has given aid from the Estates Improvement Fund.

10. As regards tanks, the experience of this undulating district is all in favour of bundhs, rather than tanks, by which, availing ourselves of the natural hollows and slopes, we are enabled to store water at less expense than by means of tanks. This means of water storage is in common use all over the district. Larger bundhs are made by zamindars, and smaller by village headmen and raiyats. In some parts of the district also, daurs or water channels leading from flowing streams are made, chiefly by landlords. An interesting work of this kind has recently been constructed at Falberia on the borders of the Rajmahal and Pakour Subdivision in the Government Estate Damin-i-Koh, where Government constructed a masonry weir to divert a portion of the water of a perennial stream, and the raiyats, at their own expense, cut a distributory, leading this water on to a long ridge. It is expected to protect some 12 villages.

11. Year by year we have been adding to the number of wells and water-stores and distributories in the Damin Estate, and I see no reason for making any special effort there this year. Unless there is famine, we find great difficulty in getting the local raiyats to turn out and work even for payment, and I have no information of the need of relief works this year.

The neediest classes have gone off as emigrants, or in search of employment in other districts, and I can find no signs of famine or even of distress except for want of water. This want is felt as yet chiefly in the shape of want of fodder and water for the cattle.

12. As regards giving grants-in-aid to local people for digging wells, or making or repairing reservoirs, this must be done either by way of loan or by way of gift. Loans we find people very slow to take on the conditions the Government find it necessary to lay down. I do not myself see that the conditions can be much relaxed if we are to ensure the money being used for the purpose for which it is lent and punctually repaid.

13. As regards gifts, I think they are sure to do more harm than good. They discourage private enterprise, and the chances are that the money is wasted, and the work on which it is spent not maintained. I think where it is possible to dig a well with labour which would cost a few rupees only, that will be done by the villagers for their own sake without waiting for help from Government. In Dumka itself, where the zamindar, Mr. Grant, offered to pay half the cost of digging wells if the bazar people would pay the other half (the estimated cost was about Rs. 1,000), his offer was not accepted, chiefly I believe because of caste difficulties. My own idea is that wells of this trifling description paid for by Government would not be as successful in providing water as wells dug by the villagers, though they would probably cost more.

14. Irrigation reservoirs on a small scale spring up on all sides, and seem to be specially provoked by such a dry season as that we have been passing through. We could not pay for the construction or repairs, or even for a small part of these in more than a limited number of cases; but the effect of our doing so at all would probably be to check the work now going on and reduce it by a great deal more than the limited encouragement given by us would increase it.

15. It is to be remembered that this district has not been demoralized, as I see a public speaker says most of Bengal has been, by the imposition of the road-cess. My memory of the road-cess payer is that he has a most extravagant idea of the amount he pays and a microscopic one of the amount received for it, and, consequently, having in his mind a standing grievance against Government, frequently cuts off his nose to spite his face. In this district, whether from that or from other reasons, there is a much stronger spirit of self-help and compacity to balance payment and benefit received, and I do not wish to pauperise the people by teaching them to look for doles from Government.

CHOLERA IN CALCUTTA.

THE following is published for general information.

H. H. RISLEY,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The 28th April 1896.

No. 498, dated Calcutta, the 22nd April 1896.

From—H. C. WILLIAMS, ESQ., Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 1493Med., dated 10th April 1896, requesting me to report, for the information of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, what steps are being taken by the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta to prevent or check the spread of cholera in the city and to provide medical aid for persons attacked by the disease.

2. In reply, I beg to forward herewith a copy of the report submitted by the Officiating Health Officer, dated 20th April 1896, on the subject, and to add that at the special meeting of the Commissioners to be held tomorrow, a proposition will be brought forward to authorize the Municipal Commissioners, under section 334 of Act II. (B.C.) of 1888, to immediately dewater every tank, the water of which is used by the residents of any locality which they have reason to think has been contaminated by infected articles of cholera patients.

CHAIRMAN—

With reference to Government letter No. 1493Medical, dated the 10th instant, I have to report that the following steps have been and are being taken to check or prevent the spread of cholera in Calcutta, and to provide medical aid for persons affected with the disease:—

1. Every case that is reported or otherwise comes to knowledge is enquired into by one of the Medical Inspectors of the Health Department, and remedial measures are promptly taken. For the early detection of cases the Medical Inspectors carry on house-to-house inspection and enquiry. For this purpose six temporary Inspectors have been added to the permanent staff of seven Medical Inspectors.

2. Persons affected with cholera, who are found to be without proper accommodation or without friends to attend to them, are removed to hospital.

3. Every house affected is thoroughly cleansed and disinfected with such disinfectants as Jey's Purifier, Pinophenol, sulphurous acid gas (sulphur fumes), corrosive sublimate solution, and carbolic powder; and such disinfection includes that of latrines, urinals, and drains as well as of the premises generally.

4. All infected articles are usually destroyed by fire. Occasionally when articles are of value, or when their owners are too poor to be able to afford losing them, they are disinfected by superheated steam under pressure in the Steam Disinfector (Lyon's patent) of the Corporation stationed at Entally.

5. Shops for the sale of articles of food and drink (such as grocer's shops, confectioner's shops, etc), in which cholera has taken place, are closed for a certain number of days, after all infected articles likely to communicate the disease have been destroyed or disinfected.

6. All the sewers of affected localities in the town proper are flushed and disinfected as early as possible, and all kutcha or pucca open drains in such localities in the unsewered areas and in bustis are also promptly cleansed and disinfected.

7. The use of every tank which has become contaminated or is suspected to have become contaminated with the discharges or infected articles of cholera patients is prohibited, and guards are placed over it to prevent people from using its water until the outbreak in the neighbourhood is at an end and bacteriological examination of its water shows its freedom from comma bacilli.

8. Every endeavour is made to actively carry on anticholeraic inoculation on Haffkin's system in affected localities as well as in unaffected places on persons who can be persuaded to submit to the operation.

9. Instructions for the prevention of cholera and directions for the prevention of its spread when it has taken place in a house have been distributed to the residents in the form of handbills, and copies of them have been posted at prominent places in different parts of the town; and they have also been published in some of the local newspapers. The use of filtered water for all domestic purposes has been specially enjoined.

10. In consequence of systematic bacteriological examination showing the presence of comma bacilli in the unfiltered water supplied to the town, as well as in the river-water at many of the bathing ghats, notices have been posted near the public bathing platforms and at other conspicuous places, prohibiting the use of the river-water and the unfiltered water-supply for any purpose except bathing.

11. The Medical Inspectors of the Corporation attend and treat patients who require their assistance and who cannot pay for doctor's attendance.

12. Simple medicines have been supplied to the police thanas, post-offices, and birth and death registration offices for distribution to persons requiring or applying for them; and the Police Commissioner and the Postmaster-General, Calcutta, have been requested to give instructions to their subordinates to give as early as possible intimation of every cholera case they may come to hear of to the Municipal Medical Inspector or at the nearest birth and death registration office.

13. It has been notified by beat of drum throughout Calcutta that persons affected with cholera or diarrhœa may obtain medicine on application to constables or at the police thanas, post-offices, or birth and death registration offices, as well as on application to the Medical Inspectors of the Health Department.

R. SEN,

Offg. Health Officer.

The 20th April 1896.

WEATHER AND CROP REPORT.

For the week ending the 27th April, 1896.

Burdwan.—Rainfall nil. Weather hot. Rain wanted for drinking purposes in places and for ploughing everywhere. Fodder sufficient. Condition of cattle good. Common rice selling as follows:—

	Srs.
Sadar	14 to 18	per rupee.
Kalna	13 to 14
Katwa	14
Raniganj	16½

Midnapore.—Rainfall nil. Weather hot. Rain is very badly wanted. Scarcity of good drinking-water is felt in the Sadar, in parts of Ghatal, and in thanas Contai, Bahiri, Basudebpur, and Khedgeree. Fodder is not sufficient in Sadar and Chandrakona. Water insufficient in Ramjibunpur. Cattle-disease reported from the Sadar and Tamluk subdivisions. Common rice selling as follows:—

	Srs.
Sadar	18	per rupee.
Contai	22 to 24
Tamluk	15
Ghatal	14 to 16

24-Parganas.—Rainfall nil, but wanted very badly. Tanks and wells have nearly been dried up. Weather very hot and dry with comparatively cooler mornings and evenings. No crops on the ground at present. Fodder and water insufficient in places. Condition of cattle good. Common rice sells at—

	Srs.	c.
Sadar	12 to 14	0	per rupee.
Barasat	12	0
Basirhat	12	5
Diamond Harbour	15	8

Murshidabad.—No rain. Weather hot. Boro (spring rice) withering for want of rain. State of indigo and mulberry not good. Fodder sufficient. Common rice sells at 15 seers per rupee.

Khulna.—Rainfall at Khulna ·16, Bagerhat ·42. Weather hot. Cultivation of aus and aman paddy going on. Harvesting of boro (spring rice) begun; prospects not good. Scarcity of drinking-water is felt principally in Satkhira. Fodder sufficient. No cattle-disease. Common rice sells at—

	Srs.	c.
Sadar	11 to 16	0	per rupee.

Dinajpur.—Rainfall ·04. Mornings and evenings cool; days hot and cloudy. Rain is much wanted for bhadoi paddy and jute. Common rice selling from 15 to 17 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease. Fodder and water available.

Rangpur.—Aus and jute still being sown. Weeding operations commenced. The rainfall of to-day (27th) 1·99 inches has been beneficial to the standing crops. Common rice selling at 12 to 15 seers per rupee. Fodder sufficient. Drinking-water is not scarce in this district except in some parts of the Kurigram subdivision.

Pabna.—Rainfall ·14. Weather hot and cloudy. Some rain has fallen and improved prospects. Scarcity of drinking-water continues. Fodder available.

Dacca.—Rainfall 1·48. Weather for part of week hot, but latter part cool. Recent rain has done good to the standing crops. Fodder available. No cattle-disease. Price of common rice 12 seers per rupee.

Chittagong.—Rainfall ·09. Weather unusually dry. More rain wanted for cultivation of aus and for crops on the ground. Water and fodder sufficient. Rice selling at 14 seers per rupee.

Patna.—No rain. Threshing and winnowing of rabi and weighment of opium continue. Banga cotton is being harvested. Millet and sugarcane doing well. Condition of cattle fair except in Bihar, where deaths from small-pox are reported. Fodder sufficient except in the same subdivision, where only dry fodder is available. Water insufficient in places in Barh and Bihar. Rice selling at 20 seers per rupee.

Gaya.—Practically no rain. Agricultural operations in progress. Price of common rice at Sadar 15½ seers, against an average of 14½ seers per rupee.

Champaran.—No rain. It is urgently wanted. Preparation for bhadoi and rice crops has begun. Price of common rice at Sadar unchanged at 17½ seers, against normal 14½ seers per rupee. Fodder and water sufficient.

Darbhanga.—East wind prevailing. Rain much wanted for crops already sown, and also for bhadoi cultivation. Fodder and water for cattle available. Prices stationary.

Bhagalpur.—Easterly wind prevailed. There was a slight shower of rain on the 26th at Sadar. Rain badly wanted, but drinking-water generally sufficient. Fodder scarce. Sowing of paddy in progress. Harvesting of rabi crops nearly over; outturn estimated to be less than 8 annas.

Purnea.—No rain. Sowing of jute and bhadoi and aghani paddy going on. Rain much wanted for these sowings. Cattle-disease reported from Amour and Raniganj thanas. Fodder getting scarce in Araria subdivision. Water-supply sufficient. Common rice selling at 17 to 20 seers per rupee.

Cuttack.—Rainfall nil. Weather hot. Rain very badly wanted. Dalua (spring rice) being harvested. Condition of cattle good. Common rice sells as follows:—

				Srs.	c.
Cuttack	...	...	...	23	0	per rupee.
Jajpur	...	...	...	31	4
Kendrapara	...	...	...	29	0

Hazaribagh.—No rain. It is wanted for cultivation. Mahua crop harvested. Sufficient water-supply generally throughout the district. Rice sells at 12 to 15 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—Rain fell in Eastern and parts of Northern and Central Bengal during the week benefitting the crops in the ground and helping the preparation of lands for the sowing of rice and jute crops. Elsewhere there was practically no rain, and agricultural operations are at a standstill. Spring rice is being harvested, but it has suffered from the absence of rain. Cattle are generally in good condition except in some parts of Midnapore, Purnea, and Patna. Scarcity of drinking-water continues to be reported from places in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. The price of rice has risen as compared with last year in many districts principally in those of Eastern Bengal and Chota Nagpur.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation —Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean is the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question station in the districts sending in return divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 25th of April 1896.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 28th April 1896.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 25TH OF APRIL 1896.

ORDINARY hot season conditions have prevailed over the province throughout the week, and the abnormal condition of excess temperature, which has lately prevailed for several weeks, has to a great extent disappeared during the week under review. On Sunday, the 19th, or the first day of the week, the pressure conditions were a little irregular, for the barometer was relatively low over the Bay, and thus the strong southerly winds which usually flow in over the head of the Bay in April were to a considerable extent absent. Pressure had risen very rapidly on the morning of the 18th, the increase at some stations equalling an eighth of an inch; but, notwithstanding the rapid rise, pressure was still in slight defect at many stations. Temperature had fallen very rapidly on this day over the western half of the province, but the fall had not extended to the southern and eastern stations. Pressure again rose moderately to briskly on the 19th, and the relative low pressure over the Bay practically disappeared, but winds still remained northerly at many stations in South Bengal. A further small fall of temperature occurred on this day, and the fall extended over the whole province. On the 21st the fall of pressure continued, and it became more rapid, but pressure was still in moderate excess, and the distribution was a little irregular, as pressure was comparatively low off the coast of the Circars, and the usual southerly winds were again to a great extent absent. As little moisture was thus passing into the province again, weather continued fine, and no rain was reported. On the 22nd a slow fall of pressure commenced, and the lowest pressures were transferred to the North-West Provinces. Winds were slowly becoming more southerly, while also temperature was rising. On the 23rd a distinct barometric depression existed over part of North-Western India, and winds over Bengal became generally south-easterly, and with these moist winds flowing in over the province, local storms with rain began to occur in the eastern and northern districts, and on the morning of this day some few stations reported rain. On the 24th pressure was again falling, though it was still in excess, but moist south-easterly winds prevailed over a large part of the province, and hence again rather numerous local storms with rain occurred in the eastern and southern districts. Among other places Naraingunj reported a violent hailstorm at half-past five on the evening of the 24th, which lasted fifteen minutes, and which is said to have done some damage. On the 25th pressure had commenced to rise at all except some of the south-western stations, and pressure was in excess by amounts ranging up to about an eighth of an inch in the north of the province. Winds usually remained south-easterly, and again a few local storms with rain occurred at the northern and eastern stations. Hence for the second-half of the week conditions were a little disturbed.

Pressure.—The general average pressure for the week has been above the normal by considerable amounts, the excess usually ranging from 0·06″ to 0·010″.

Temperature.—There has been a very distinct fall of temperature during the week, and the average mean temperature for the week for the whole province has been 0·5° below the normal. The defect has, however, been mainly confined to Chota Nagpur and Bihar, for slight excess temperatures have still prevailed in South-West and East Bengal and Orissa.

HENRY. T. HYDE,
Secy. to the Board of Examiners for Pleadership and Mukhtarship.

CIVIL ENGINEERING COLLEGE, SIBPUR.

SESSION 1896-97.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Engineer Department should apply to the Principal before the 15th May 1896. The session begins on Monday, the 1st June 1896. Candidates must furnish proof that they have passed one of the following tests:—

(1) The F.A. examination of the Calcutta University, or a similar standard of any Indian University recognised by the Calcutta University. The candidate's age must be under 21 years.

(2) The B.A. examination in the B. Course. The candidate's age must be under 23 years. (These students are admitted direct into the 2nd-year class.)

The number to be admitted each year is limited to 40. The position in the University examinations and the age of candidates will be taken into consideration when selection is made, and such selection will be made by the Principal.

Ten scholarships will be awarded to students entering the Engineer Department, not being already holders of junior or senior scholarships.

Every applicant before admission to the College will be examined by the College Surgeon as to his physical strength, fitness for manual labour, and eyesight.

Further particulars will be supplied on application to the Principal.

EDUCATIONAL PROSPECTUS.

THE Calcutta Medical College Session, 1896-97, will commence on the 15th June next. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal between the hours of 11 A.M and 4 P.M. on or before 1st June.

Students are expected to enter formally and commence attendance at the College upon the date named.

2. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student who has not previously passed the First Arts examination of the Calcutta or an Indian University, or a preliminary Arts examination of the United Kingdom recognized by the British General Medical Council.

3. All matriculated students of the College shall pay Rs. 15 on entrance, Rs. 35 for the summer session on the 1st June, and Rs. 35 for the winter session on 1st November of each year. Rupees 6 extra will be required from each student for each course of dissections. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

Muhammadan students are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance and half-fee, i.e., Rs. 17-8 per session. The remaining half-fees are charged to the Mohsin Fund.

4. No free presentations will be awarded at the beginning of the session, but the fees shall be refunded to the ten students who pass highest in all subjects at the end of their first year of study.

5. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professor of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following :—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject in one year ...	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice	60

6. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a medical school in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or, in the case of a free student the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

7. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College who wishes to attend any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in paragraph 5. If he has passed the Entrance Examination of the University, he shall receive certificates of attendance at lectures. If he has not passed the Entrance examination, he shall receive no class certificates.

8. At the end of their first year, students will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Chemistry, and Botany. Those who gain not less than 20 per cent. in two subjects, and not less than 15 per cent. in a third, will be eligible for promotion to the second-year class. Those who fail to gain the aforesaid percentage of marks will not be eligible for promotion, but will go through the first-year class again.

9. Students of the second-year will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and Materia Medica. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. in two subjects and 15 per cent. in a third will be entitled to go up in the following March or April for the Preliminary Scientific Examination of the Calcutta University, the subjects of which are Chemistry and Botany. Those who (after passing the College test) fail at the University Examination will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year class, at the end of which the former will have to present themselves, as at present, for the combined Preliminary Scientific and 1st L.M.S. (or 1st M.B.) Examination.

10. Those students who fail at the College Test Examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific Examination, but will be encouraged to do so in order to get that stage over ; but whether they pass or fail at the University Examination, they will be relegated for a further year to the second-year class, provided that those who pass the University Examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

11. Students of the third year will present themselves for the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. Examination of the Calcutta University. Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year class.

12. Students of the first, second, or third-year class who fail a second time, at the same stage, to gain promotion to the next higher class, will be removed from the College, and will not be entitled to readmission.

13. Students of the fourth-year class will be required to pass a College test examination in Surgery, Medicine, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. of the marks in three subjects and 15 per cent. in a fourth will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail will be relegated to the fourth-year class for a further year. The examination in Surgery and Medicine will be both theoretical and clinical ; but those students who can obtain from the Visiting Surgeon or Physician, to whose wards they have been attached, a certificate that they have really profited by their instruction in either subject, will be excused the clinical examination in that subject.

14. Students who fail at the 2nd L.M.S. or 2nd M.B. Examination will have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the regulations of the University.

15. The Principal will determine the maximum number that may be admitted to the first-year class. Students who have failed at the test examination of the first year will have a prior claim to readmission over new students.

16. Students readmitted to a class after failure at the test examination will be required to pay the full fees for the session. Those, however, who, after failing either at the Preliminary Scientific Examination or at the final examination, have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they failed, shall be required to pay for such lectures a fee of Rs. 40 for one subject, Rs. 60 for two, and Rs. 70 for three. Exceptions to this latter rule may be made in special cases by the Director of Public Instruction on the recommendation of the Principal.

17. College prizes and certificates of honour are open for competition to matriculated students of the College, military medical pupil, and female certificate classes. College scholarships (vide paragraph 9) are awarded only to matriculated students of the College.

18. Junior scholarships of Rs. 8 per mensem and free tuition for one year are annually awarded to ten students of the second year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the first year.

Scholarships of the same value are awarded to ten students at the commencement of their third year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their second year, provided they have passed either the Preliminary Scientific L. M. S. or M. B. examination.

Ten senior scholarships of Rs. 12 per mensem and free tuition are awarded annually to students at the commencement of their fourth year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their third year, provided they have passed either the 1st L. M. S. or 1st M. B. examination. These scholarships are tenable for two years, provided the holder passes creditably the Test and Honour examinations at the end of his fourth year. In the event of any scholarship being forfeited under this condition, it may be awarded for one year to any student of the fifth year who has fulfilled the conditions and is not the holder of any scholarship. These scholarships shall not be awarded to students who have gained the Durga Charan Laha scholarship of Rs. 30 per mensem or any other scholarship.

Students who from any cause fail to pass their University examinations at their first chance are not eligible for any of these scholarships, either junior or senior.

19. The Goodeve scholarship of Rs. 12 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded to a matriculated student of the fifth year, on the result of the midwifery test examination of the fourth year.

The F. C. Chatterjee scholarship of Rs. 17 per mensem, tenable for a year, is annually awarded to the best matriculated student of Native Indian extraction, and whose conduct is certified to be good, in histology at the end of the fourth year. The examination takes place in June each year.

The Abdul Gunny scholarship of Rs. 26 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded at the end of the fourth year to the best matriculated student in all subjects at the class examinations of the first to fourth year, inclusive. The award is made in May.

The Duke of Edinburgh's prize is awarded to the best in surgery among the matriculated students at the end of the fourth and fifth years. The examination takes place in December or January.

The Bhola Nath Bose's prize of Rs. 40 is awarded to the fourth-year matriculated student who proves himself to be the most successful at bedside diagnosis of disease, in surgery and medicine in alternate years. The award is made in January.

A gold medal and certificates of honour are awarded to the best students in each subject at the Test and Honour examinations.

The Goodeve and Macnamara silver medals are awarded to the best of the first-year native students in anatomy and chemistry respectively, on the result of the Test and Honour examinations.

A prize in Clinical Medicine is awarded annually to the best clinical clerk of the fourth and fifth-year matriculated students. This examination takes place in February.

A prize in Clinical Surgery is awarded annually to the best clinical dresser of the fourth and fifth-year matriculated students. This examination will be held in February.

The Rivers Thompson silver medal is annually awarded to the best Muhammadan student who passes the final L. M. S. or M. B. Examination of the Calcutta University.

The Lady Rivers Thompson prize of Rs. 50 is awarded to the lady-student who obtains the highest number of marks at the final examination.

No student shall be allowed to compete for a prize when attending a course in excess of the number prescribed in the College curriculum.

20. College scholars who receive less than Rs. 20 per mensem are not required to pay Rs. 35 per session. All other scholars shall pay fees as matriculated students. These may pay their fees in advance, or have their scholarship money deducted till the full amount is received.

21. Any student holding a Medical College scholarship (paragraphs 9 and 10) will be permitted to draw the stipend of that scholarship at any recognized medical school in the United Kingdom, provided he furnishes from the head of such school a certificate of good conduct and diligence. These College classes are recognized by all the medical schools in the United Kingdom.

22. The class assistants to the Professors of Pathology and Comparative Anatomy will each receive a salary of Rs. 10 monthly.

30. Rules for the conduct of periodical examinations.

(1) Test examinations at the end of the—

1st year.

(a) Military pupils who obtain less than 10 per cent. of marks in one subject to be "warned" and informed that failure in the same subject at the end of the second year will entail liability to removal from College.

(b) Pupils who fail as above in two subjects will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness and will be re-examined two weeks before the commencement of the next session. Failure then in obtaining 15 per cent. of marks in either of the subjects will entail liability to removal.

(c) Pupils who fail to get 10 per cent. as above in three subjects will be removed from the College as being unlikely to succeed eventually.

2nd year.

(a) Military pupils who obtain less than 20 per cent. of marks in one subject will, if practicable, attend lectures on this subject, and be re-examined at the end of the next session. Failure again in the same subject will render pupils liable to removal.

(b) Pupils who fail in two subjects will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness, and will, if practicable, attend lectures on these subjects, and be re-examined at the end of the next session. Failure in either subject will entail liability to removal.

(c) Pupils who fail to attain the standard in three subjects will be removed from the College.

(3) Pass and Test examinations at the end of the—

3rd year.

(a) Pupils who fail to obtain 20 per cent. of marks in either or both of the final subjects for the third year (viz., Hygiene and Pathology) will lose 200 conduct marks, and be re-examined at the end of the next session.

(b) Pupils who do not obtain 10 per cent. of marks in any of the test examinations (the other subjects) will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness for each subject in which he so fails.

4th year.

(a) Pupils who obtain less than 20 per cent. of marks in all subjects of their final examination will be liable to removal from the College. Such pupils will, however, be allowed to remain for a further period (to be fixed by the Principal in each case) in the College to continue their studies at their own expense.

31. FEMALE CERTIFICATE CLASS.

Lady-students must be over 17 years of age before commencing their studies.

They must have passed the Entrance examination of the Calcutta University or an examination officially recognized by that University as equivalent to the Entrance examination. (The certificate of matriculation of the Melbourne University will be accepted.)

New students are expected, at latest, to enter formally and commence attendance at the College when the session opens on 15th June.

The duration of the course will be four years.

Tuition will be free.

32. Students, preferably native ladies, may reside in the Sornomoye Hostel. Applications for residence to be made to the Lady Superintendent of the Hostel, or to the Secretary to the Countess of Dufferin Branch Committee.

33. The following is the curriculum:—

1st year.

Anatomy.
Materia Medica.
Dissections.
Chemistry (30 elementary lectures).
Compounding (six months).
Test examinations in Anatomy, Materia Medica, and Chemistry.

2nd year.

Anatomy.
Physiology (elementary).
Materia Medica.
Chemistry (full course).
Dissections.
Attendance at six post-mortem examinations.
Hospital attendance (including outdoor departments) —twelve months.
Pass examinations in Anatomy, Materia Medica, and Chemistry.

3rd year.

Medicine and Clinical Medicine.
Surgery and Clinical Surgery.
Medical Jurisprudence (demonstrations).
Midwifery (with attendance at three labour cases).
Pathology (with attendance at six post-mortems).
Physiology.
Hospital attendance (of which three months in the Ophthalmic wards).
Pass examinations in Pathology, Physiology, and Medical Jurisprudence.

4th year.

Medicine and Clinical Medicine.
Surgery and Clinical Surgery.
Midwifery (including six labour cases).
Hospital practice (of which six months in the Medical and Surgical wards, minus 15 attendances at the Dental Dispensary; and six months exclusively in the Midwifery wards, when the students are to take regular tours of duty, night and day, assisting the regular work of the hospital).
Dentistry (optional).
Pass examinations in Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery.

Students who are successful are entitled to receive the certificate of the College qualifying them to practise Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery. A fee of Rs. 10 is charged for each certificate.

34. The following rules will be observed in regulating advancement from class to class:—

(1) Test examination at the end of the first year.—If a student obtains less than 10 per cent. of the marks in any two out of three subjects of examination, she shall not be allowed to continue in the College.

(2) Pass examinations at the end of the second and third years.—In order to pass, a student must gain 33 per cent. in each subject of examination. If a student fails in any two of the three subjects, or, failing in one subject only, if she gains less than 25 per cent. in that subject, she shall be put back for one year. If she fails in one subject only, gaining 25 per cent. or more in that subject, she shall be promoted to the next class, but will be required to submit to re-examination in that subject, in addition to the examination in the regular subjects, at the end of the following year. She will be permitted to attend lectures on the subject in which she has failed. Failure on re-examination will carry the same penalty as original failure.

(3) Pass examination at the end of the fourth year.—The same rules as apply to the previous pass examinations, with the exception that if a student, failing in one subject only, gains 25 per cent. in that subject, she will be referred back to her studies for a period of six months, at the expiration of which she will be entitled to re-examination after furnishing proof of having attended hospital practice during that period.

35. Female students who have not passed the Entrance or its equivalents will be admitted into the Eden Hospital to learn midwifery. These will receive Rs. 20 per mensem. After a year's tuition and bedside practice, if found proficient, they will obtain a certificate qualifying them to practise midwifery. The fee for each certificate is Rs. 5.

36. Female students who have not passed the Entrance or its equivalents, but who read and write Bengali, can be admitted in the Eden Hospital as pupil dais. Of these, eight will receive Rs. 6 per mensem and the rest will be taught free. After 12 months' tuition and bedside practice, if found proficient, they will obtain a certificate qualifying them to practise midwifery.

37. All certificates are to be registered in the Principal's office.

Simla, the 1st May 1896.

No. 801.—The following letter from Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, published in the second Supplement to the London Gazette, dated the 16th February 1896, is republished for general information:

Whitehall, February 15th, 1896.

The following letter from the Queen has been received by the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department:

Osborne, February 14th, 1896.

I have, alas! once more to thank My loyal subjects for their warm sympathy in a fresh grievous affliction which has befallen Me and My beloved Daughter, Princess Beatrice, Princess Henry of Battenberg.

This new sorrow is overwhelming, and to me is a double one, for I lose a dearly loved and helpful Son, whose presence was like a bright sunbeam in My Home, and My dear Daughter loses a noble devoted Husband to whom she was united by the closest affection.

To witness the blighted happiness of the Daughter who has never left Me and has comforted and helped Me, is hard to bear. But the feeling of universal sympathy so touchingly shown by all classes of My subjects has deeply moved My Child and Myself, and has helped and soothed us greatly. I wish from My heart to thank My People for this, as well as for the appreciation manifested of the dear and gallant Prince who laid down his life in the service of his adopted Country.

My beloved Child is an example to all, in her courage, resignation, and submission to the will of God.

VICTORIA, R.I.

No. 802.—The following amendment in the rules regarding the submission of petitions to the Government of India, promulgated with Home Department Notification No. 1812, dated the 11th October 1889, as amended by the Notifications marginally noted, is published for general information.

No. 1790, dated 30th October 1891.

No. 349.—The services of Mr. W. H. Lee, of the Indian Civil Service, Officiating District and Sessions Judge, Birbhum, are placed at the disposal of the Chief Commissioner of Assam.

JUDICIAL.

The 30th April 1896.

No. 610.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of Regulation IX of 1816, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to declare that the following shall be the local limits within which the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall in the district of Backergunge perform the duties and exercise the powers and authority vested in him by the said Regulation, namely:

On the north, starting from the Baleswar river, the Sundarbans boundary runs along the north boundary of the estate of Kalaran Chandipur, as far as the Kocha river, then along the eastern bank of the Kocha and Baleswar rivers to the point where the Bara Machua khal enters the Baleswar river, then the Sundarbans northern boundary follows that khal and proceeds first in an easterly and then in a south-easterly direction along the southern boundary of the estate of Tushkhali to a point where the estates of Tushkhali, Tikikhata and Debnathpur meet. The Sundarbans boundary then runs in a southerly direction along the Dhundua and Saplenja nadi down to a point where the latter meets the Kakcheera khal; here it turns to the east and following the course of the Kakcheera khal proceeds along the southern boundaries of the permanently-settled estates of Hultoora and Ramna Bamna till it reaches a point where the Kakcheera khal enters the Bishkhali river. The boundary line then runs due east along the Bishkhali river and crossing its junction with the Khak Dhone again proceeds in the same direction till it reaches a point where the Khak Dhone meets the Burgonah khal. Here the boundary line turns to the south and follows that khal down to its junction with the Burishwar river, where it takes first a north-easterly and then a northerly direction along that river up to its junction with the Beghai and Ailah rivers at the southernmost point of the Kootharchur. The boundary then runs north-west along the Ailah river, up to its junction with the Khak Dhone. Thence leaving the river it runs first north-west and then east, and taking in the Tarabunia, Jowar Bhoyang, and Kakrabundia Chaks, runs northwards up the Beghai river for a short distance, and then continues east along the northern side of the estates of Bara Beghai, Haji Khali and Chaltabunia to a point where the Gorye and Kukoora khals meet. The eastern boundary of the Sundarbans then commences and goes due south and follows the Kukoora Dhone till this latter joins the Sonaram Das khal; then the boundary taking a bend to the north, follows the Kooleer Chur khal and turns again south from where this khal meets the Badura khal, and then goes along the Patuakhali Dhone to where it (the Patuakhali Dhone) enters the Agunmukhi river or Rabnabad channel. Then going along the northern bank of the Agunmukhi river, the boundary takes in the Rabnabad islands and adjacent chars, and then turning south runs along the eastern shores of the Chota Basdiya or Kuralia and Rangabali islands to the Bay of Bengal.

(b) When a loan is raised in the open market under the condition that a Sinking Fund is to be formed for its repayment, the payments to the Sinking Fund as they fall due shall be made to the Collector of the district, who shall hold the funds in trust for the redemption of the principal of the loan. On receipt of the money the Collector as Trustee shall lodge it in the Treasury for credit to a Personal Ledger Account to be opened in his name, and as soon as a sufficient balance is available, he shall invest the same in Government securities for retention in the custody of the Comptroller-General under the rules in Chapter II of the Civil Account Code. When any loans or debentures fall due, the Trustee shall realise the whole or a sufficient portion of the securities held in his name, and apply the sale-proceeds thereof, so far as they will extend, to satisfy such loans or debentures. The interest accruing on the investments shall be added to the balance of the trust account, but with the consent of the Trustee the same may be taken in part satisfaction of the next instalment payable to the Sinking Fund.

(c) The transactions of the Trust Account shall be recorded in a cash-book in Form No. I of the "Account rules for the guidance of Administrators of Trust Funds," issued with Finance Circular No. 2, dated 23rd February 1886, which shall be kept by the Trustee. As soon as possible after the 31st March in each year, the Trustee shall forward to the Chairman of the Municipality an abstract of the account in Form No. III of the Trust Fund rules, and obtain from him a written acknowledgment of the correctness of the account. The Trustee shall bring to the notice of Government any default in payment to the Sinking Fund which is not immediately remedied.

Bhagalpur, the 20th April 1896. H. J. McINTOSH, Offg. Collector.

Notice under Rule 19, Part I, Section 2.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lease of the land specified in the schedule hereunto annexed, and of which the plan is open to inspection at the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, has been applied for by Bhoot Nath Bose and another, and will be sold at 12 o'clock noon on the 3rd August 1896, Monday, the 20th Sraban 1303 B.S, at the Sundarbans Commissioner's Office at Alipur, unless meantime the sale is stopped or postponed in consequence of claims or objections under Act XXIII of 1863 (to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands), or owing to any other cause.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general terms annexed to the rules for the sale of the leases of the waste lands in the Sundarbans of the 24-Parganas, Khulna, and Backergunge, dated the 12th November 1879:—

Conditions.

That the land shall be subject to all existing rights-of-way and water and other easements.

That the right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of a towpath not less than 25 feet in width on each side of every such stream and channel.

That no charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land. But for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied at such rate and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by Government.

That the Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals on the land, together with such rights-of-way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals. It also retains its proprietary right in the land, and only confers on the lessee an occupancy right, which shall be hereditary and transferable.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876:—

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India. By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 3-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G.; Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year; but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

CHINA SEA—Formosa and Pescadores island.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 149 of 1896) of the existence of the undermentioned shoals:—

1. A rock, on which the Japanese vessel-of-war Kohei struck, situated about 2 miles south eastward of Tsiang island, Pescadores islands, or approximately in lat. 23° 20¼′ N., long. 119° 33¾′ E.

On the Admiralty chart, "(2) P.D." has been placed in the above position.

2. The Japanese steam-vessel Matsuyama Maru reports having touched on a shoal, with a depth of 2½ fathoms on it, sand bottom, lying southward of Wanckan shoals, Formosa, in lat. 23° 23½′ N., long. 120° 0′ E.

On the Admiralty chart, "(2½) P.D." has been placed in this position.

3. A shoal, with a depth of 2 fathoms on it, but possibly there is less water, lies about 2½ miles, N.W. ¾ W. (N. 53° W.), from Gull point, northward of port Koksi; or approximately in lat. 23° 8′ N., long. 120° 0¼′ E.

A depth of 5½ fathoms was found about 4 cables south-westward of the 2 fathoms, towards which the depths decreased gradually.

WATER-SUPPLY.

The following reports on the scarcity of water are published for general information.

H. H. RISLEY.
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 6th May 1896.

No. 569, dated Bankura, the 29th April 1896.

From—N. BONHAM-CARTER, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Bankura,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

IN continuation of my letter No. 518, dated 23rd instant, I have the honour to submit my full weekly report on the condition of water-supply of this district for the week ending 29th April.

2. Since my last report a Special Sub-Committee have been organized by the District Board to consider, in consultation with the District Engineer and the Subdivisional Officer of Vishnupur, what prompt measures can be taken to remove scantiness of water.

3. On the proposal of the Special Sub-Committee, the District Engineer has been given an advance of Rs. 400 in order to sink temporary wells to meet the immediate wants in parts where the want of good water is keenly felt. Further, on the recommendation of the Sub-Committee, the sinking of 16 masonry wells, viz., 9 in the Sadar and 7 in the subdivision of Vishnupur, has been sanctioned, the cost being met out of the additional grant of Rs. 2,000, which, as reported in my letter No. 518, dated 23rd instant, has been allotted by the Board in their last meeting. With the object of starting the 7 wells in the subdivision, Rs. 500 have been placed to the credit of the Chairman of the Local Board for expenditure on requisition made by the Subdivisional Officer.

4. No reports have yet been received as to the progress made in the works. I have, however, directed the District Engineer to submit progress reports for the Sadar, and the Subdivisional Overseer for the Vishnupur, subdivision to the Sub-Committee for submission to me.

5. The scarcity of water has not, so far as I have been able to ascertain, reached a critical stage in any part of this district. There was a slight shower of rain on the 28th, but hardly sufficient to afford any general relief.

No. 789, dated Hooghly, the 30th April 1896.

From—J. LANG, Esq., Officiating Magistrate of Hooghly,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

IN continuation of my letter No. 722 on the water famine in this district, dated 21st instant, I have the honour to report that during the past week, conditions have remained practically the same.

2. Slight showers of rain were experienced on 25th and 26th, but were of no great consequence. On the evening of 28th rain fell heavily to the eastern portion of the district for about half an hour, and an inch of rain has been reported at head-quarters.

This has been sufficient to lay the dust and clear the atmosphere of much that is prejudicial to health. But otherwise the people are no better off than before.

3. The Executive Engineer, Northern Drainage and Embankment Division, reports that there is no water in the Damodar Canal, and so the Saraswati and other rivers, which supply drinking-water to the riparian villages in this district, and which are fed from the canal, are equally dried up.

4. In the sadar subdivision the work of well excavation proposed less than a fortnight ago is already well under way. The Subdivisional Officer of Serampore has succeeded by his energy in visiting the majority of the sites I suggested, and hopes to begin the work at once. He reports:—"Everywhere I found people digging holes, and no encouragement is needed for this work."

5. The Subdivisional Officer of Jahanabad, where water is much needed, reports a non possumus to the proposal to excavate large masonry wells. Neither bricks nor expert labour is available in these back blocks, and so I am allowing ring wells to be sunk in larger numbers, but at a lesser cost. The Subdivisional Officer is loud in declaiming on the apathy of the people, and his reports would show that they are less inclined to help themselves than the people on this side of the district. Many of the tank proprietors are taking advantage of the season to clean and excavate their tanks.

6. In some instances I have had occasion to issue peremptory notice under the Criminal Procedure Code forbidding dhobis and fishermen from following their calling during the present drought at the risk of endangering human life. Many of these notices were issued at the request of the local residents, and others on the representation of the police.

7. I am glad to be able to report that cholera in the district has very considerably abated, and of cattle disease there is none.

No. 1519J.G., dated Krishnagar, the 30th April 1896.

From—J. H. E. GARRETT, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Nadia,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

IN continuation of my No. 1389J.G., dated 21st instant, on the subject of the water-supply in this district, I have the honour to state that the reports which I have since received from the Subdivisional Officers and thana officers throughout the district, have fully confirmed my opinion that the state of affairs is not so grave as to give rise to any anxiety.

2. In the Sadar subdivision there are about 90 villages the water-supply of which is more than one mile off, but in all of these kutcha wells have already been dug, and the villagers themselves are in no difficulty for water. No cattle have died from want of water.

3. In the Ranaghat subdivision there are only some 20 villages the water-supply of which is more than one mile off: the villagers are digging kutcha wells at their own expense, and no serious difficulty is being experienced. No cattle have died from want of water.

4. The reports from the Meherpur subdivision are somewhat incomplete, but, so far as I can judge, no serious difficulty is being felt. One cow is reported to have died from want of water, but I should doubt the accuracy of this report.

5. In the Kushtia subdivision no cattle have died from want of water, and in four out of five thanas, villagers are freely sinking kutcha wells. In Daulatpur thana it is reported that the people are not taking any steps to help themselves. I am issuing special instructions to the thana officer to himself visit the worst villages and get the villagers to dig wells in his presence. I am also deputing the Sub-Deputy Collector of Kushtia for this work.

6. During the last four days we have had more than 2½ inches of rain in the Sadar subdivision, and this has been a great relief. I have not as yet received definite reports on the rainfall in the subdivisions, but I believe that the whole district has received a fair amount of rain.

7. The people generally are being freely encouraged to apply for taccavi loans to enable them to excavate tanks. I have received lists of all the silted-up tanks in the district, and I am issuing notices on the owners, suggesting that they should re-excavate them.

No. 72M., dated Berhampur, the 29th April 1896.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

In continuation of my letter No. 57M., dated the 23rd April 1896, on the subject of the supply of drinking-water in this district, I have the honour to forward herewith a copy of a Resolution passed by the District Board at a meeting held on the 27th instant. It will be seen that the Resolution substantially bears out the opinion expressed in my letter above referred to, viz., that there is no reason to apprehend any distress on account of the want of drinking-water, at least so far as this district is concerned. Where complaints of the want of drinking-water are found to be well grounded, cutcha or ordinary wells with baked rings are being sink, and a considerable number of these have already been completed. In some instances where applications for immediate relief have been received, it has transpired on enquiry that the villagers do not want wells, but what they ask for is the excavation of tanks which will be useful for purposes other than the supply of drinking-water. In fact the great majority of the applications are for tanks, and very few for wells, which shows that it is not immediate relief that is required. In two or three instances orders have been issued to commence work on the re-excavation of small tanks, the zamindars or the villagers having agreed to bear half the cost, but in the majority of cases work on tanks will have to be postponed until after the rainy season.

2. From what I have said above it will be seen that there is very little need for the immediate expenditure of District Board money on water-supply. Moreover, good rain has fallen in parts of the district since my last letter was written. What is really required is rather a systematic endeavour to improve the supply of drinking-water throughout the district by excavating and reserving tanks and wells for this purpose in places where they are most needed. This, however, cannot be done in a hurry, and time will be required for selecting sites and inducing zamindars and the villagers to co-operate in the work. This is the policy advocated by the District Board, and efforts will now be made to carry it out.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Meeting of the District Board of Murshidabad held on the 27th April 1896.

3. The Government circular No. 22L.S.-G., dated the 2nd April 1896, regarding improvement of the water-supply, together with the subsequent letters and telegrams received from the Government and the Commissioner of the Division on the subject, was read to the meeting. It was resolved that the sum of Rs. 4,000 already provided in the District Fund Budget estimates for 1896-97 be raised to Rs. 6,000. Of the extra sum of Rs. 2,000 thus provided for, Rs. 1,500 will be met from the closing balance of the budget estimates, and the remaining Rs 500 from the donation received from Babu Mukunda Lal Barman.

A general discussion then followed as to the condition of the supply of drinking-water in the district, and the best means of expending District Board money therein. It was agreed that so far as this district is concerned, although there is undoubtedly a scarcity of good drinking-water in places removed from rivers and tanks, the scarcity is not such as to give rise to any apprehension of general distress on this account. A number of pucca wells are at present in course of construction at the expense of the District Board, but it was agreed that the season was too far advanced to start the construction now of new pucca wells or the excavation of tanks on any extensive scale. There are works which must be postponed until the rainy season is over. In the meanwhile enquiries should be made as to the villages in which a permanent improvement of the supply of drinking-water is desirable, with a view to the construction of pucca wells or the excavation of tanks in those places. Endeavours should also be made in the interval to induce zamindars and villagers to co-operate in the work, either by contributing a portion of the cost or by supplying labour for the purpose. For the present the money should be spent in sinking cutcha wells or ordinary wells with baked earthen rings in the dried-up beds of tanks and rivers in villages where the want of drinking-water is specially felt and immediate relief is needed, in deepening and cleaning wells where this required, and in deepening or re-excavating small tanks on which the work can be completed before the rainy season commences.

No. 837G., dated Jessore, the 28th April 1896.

From—F. S. Hamilton, Esq., Magistrate of Jessore,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

In continuation of this office No. 798G., dated the 24th instant, I have the honour to submit the following report about the progress of water-supply in this district.

2. In the Sadar subdivision temporary wells in 20 villages were sanctioned, on the recommendation of the District Superintendent of Police, during the week which has just expired.

3. In the Narail subdivision seventeen tanks have been excavated or re-excavated by private individuals. The Subdivisional Officer expects more tanks to be excavated or re-excavated by private agency. Twelve temporary wells have been dug with the District Board's aid in that subdivision under the supervision of the Subdivisional Officer. Besides these, sixty-five temporary wells have been dug by private individuals. The Subdivisional Officer reports that he does not expect water scarcity in his subdivision, but that want of good drinking-water is felt by the people living away from the riverside in the midst of bhils.

4. In the Bongaon subdivision twenty temporary wells have been dug with the aid of the District Board by the Board's Overseer under the supervision of the Subdivisional Officer. Two new tanks have been excavated by private individuals in this subdivision, and the Subdivisional Officer is making attempts to induce zamindars and other people to follow suit.

5. In the Jhenidah subdivision six wells have been dug with the aid given by the Board since my first report, so that in all twenty-four wells have been dug in that subdivision. Besides that a tank is being excavated at a village called Bejaypur in this subdivision by the District Board.

6. In subdivision Magura twenty-one temporary wells have been dug by the Board's Overseer under the supervision of the Subdivisional Officer. A tank at a village called Bonagram is being excavated by the Board at considerable expense.

7. Except in the case of Narail, the Subdivisional Officers' reports do not show exhaustively what progress is being made by people themselves in removing the want of water. I have, in view of the recent rainfall, directed that help should only be given where the villagers are willing to contribute labour themselves.

8. As regards the town of Jessore, the Commissioners have reserved three tanks for drinking purposes and thrown open one tank for bathing. They have resolved to dig a few holes in the dry bed of the river Bhairab for supply of water for other purposes and to sink 4 wells in different parts of the town for supply of good drinking-water, and have ordered 4 Norton's tube wells for the same purpose.

No. 1020, dated Khulna, the 24th April 1896.

From—F. N. Fischer, Esq., Magistrate of Khulna,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

With reference to your telegram of the 20th instant, calling for a report as to the condition of the district as regards water-supply and as to what action has been taken, I have the honour to state that scarcity of drinking-water is felt principally in the Satkhira subdivision and also in the Bagerhat and Sadar subdivisions, though in a less degree. Copies of Government circular No. 24Medl. of the 11th instant have been sent to the Subdivisional Officers, requesting them to carry out the instructions contained therein as early as possible.

2. I have further directed them and the Deputy Magistrates at Sadar to convene all the collecting members of the panchayets in the areas suffering from scarcity of water, and to convey to them the contents of the Government circular with a view to making them as widely known as possible.

3. I have also asked these officers to instruct the panchayats to use their influence to induce the people to help themselves, and to explain to them clearly that the District Board is not able to supply water to everybody, the want being universal, in order that this fact may become generally known throughout the district.

4. As villagers are not likely to undertake digging operations for themselves, I have already directed the Subdivisional Officers to organize self-help among the villagers in the manner indicated in the circular and following the Commissioner's suggestion. A beginning will be made in some selected villages under the personal supervision of the Subdivisional Officers and an officer specially deputed in the Sadar subdivision. I also propose to enlist the services of individual members of the District and Local Boards for this purpose.

5. I have further requested the Subdivisional Officers to come up quickly to the Collector with proposals for granting land-improvement loans.

6. The District and Local Boards have been urged by me to convene special meetings for the purpose of considering this important question with a view to stimulating self-help and organizing digging arrangements by the individual questions of the members. A list is also under preparation of all the principal villages containing tanks capable of improvement and re-excavation, in order that the District Board may take as many of them as practicable in hand each year.

No. 590J., dated Dinajpur, the 28th April 1896.

From—B. K. Mullick, Esq, Magistrate of Dinajpur,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your telegram dated 20th instant, requesting me to report the condition of the district in respect of water-supply, and the steps taken by the District Board to supply good drinking-water for the people.

2. In reply, I beg to state that, after consulting the Subdivisional Officer and other local officers, I am satisfied that there is no scarcity of water this year. In the north the Subdivisional Officer of Thakurgaon reports that the district is plentifully supplied with wells and that there is no scarcity of water. The soil is light and sandy and the wells are easily dug.

3. In the Sadar subdivision the country is well supplied with tanks. The soil is hard clay, and wells are difficult to dig. The District Board have, however, for the last few years been steadily supplying pucca masonry wells wherever the want of good drinking water was felt. At the present moment it is constructing five wells in the south of the district at a cost of nearly Rs. 5,000.

4. Speaking generally, I cannot say that the drought with which we have been visited has had any effect on the subsoil moisture of the land. As a matter of fact the spring water level (8 to 10 feet) is higher this year than usual. I can find no explanation for this curious fact, but it is borne out by the withered appearance of grass and shrubs whose roots lie on the surface, while the big trees which penetrate deeper are beautifully green and fresh.

5. The rivers are low, but this district does not depend upon them for its water-supply.

No. 730J., dated Jalpaiguri, the 29th April 1896.

From—W. MAXWELL, Esq., Offg. Deputy Commissioner, Jalpaiguri,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

IN continuation of my letter No. 662J., dated 22nd instant, I have the honour to state that during the last three days there has been a rainfall of between 3 and 4 inches here. This has filled the wells and removed all danger of the people suffering from want of water.

2. The reports which I have received and further personal enquiries made by me in the mufassil have confirmed my previous report that wells are easily made, water is found at no great depth, and the people were not feeling the drought acutely.

3. Notices were issued that money would be lent under the Agricultural Loans Act, but no application has been made for such loan.

4. No complaint has been made about want of water by villagers to the District Board. The District Board was ready to assist the people, but no application was made for assistance.

5. The jotedars of Falakata at a meeting held on the 8th March last resolved to spend Rs. 1,600 on making wells.

6. The people of this district are self-reliant, and besides water is easily procurable.

7. There need be no further apprehension of the supply of drinking-water running short in this district.

8. Meanwhile I shall have enquiries made as to suitable places for wells to be sunk by the District Board.

No. $\frac{907J}{XXXIX-28}$, dated Rangpur, the 28th April 1896.

From—J. H. TEMPLE, Esq., Officiating Magistrate of Rangpur,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

IN continuation of this office No. 902J., dated 21st April 1896, I have the honour to state that reports as to the scarcity of drinking water have since been received from the District Engineer and from the Subdivisional Officers of Nilphamari and Kurigram, but not from the Subdivisional Officer of Gaibanda. The Subdivisional Officer of Nilphamari states that "ring-wells are generally used by the inhabitants of this subdivision, and the supply of water is sufficient. It is very easy to dig a well here, as the soil is alluvial and a good supply of pure water is always available; almost every householder has a well or two in his house." The Subdivisional Officer of Kurigram reports that "scarcity of water is felt more or less at this season in normal years, but in the present year it is more acute on account of the exceptional dryness and want of rain," but thinks that nothing need at present be done, as storms and rain are shortly expected. A copy of the whole report of the District Engineer is submitted. Yesterday morning at Rangpur there was a rainfall of 1·99 inches. The weather is cloudy, and more rain is expected. I agree with the opinion of the District Engineer that "there is no scarcity of water in the district, though there is some little difficulty in getting good drinking water at places and some difficulty of water at places for cattle." No complaint of scarcity of water or application for assistance appears to have been received by any Government official or officer of the District Board, and unless the season proves to be still further abnormal, I do not anticipate any serious scarcity of drinking water.

No. 55, dated Rangpur, the 27th April 1896.

From—The District Engineer, Rangpur,
To—The Magistrate of Rangpur.

I HAVE the honour to state that since I last reported to you verbally at your house on the supply of drinking water in the district, no reports from the Overseers, nor complaints from the people about its scarcity have been received, although I have ordered and deputed subordinates to make enquiries about it. In fact, as I last reported, there is no scarcity of water in the district, though there is some little difficulty in getting good drinking water at places and some difficulty of water at places for cattle. Except at a few spots where the substratum is either badly pervious clay or very soft loam, water of good quality can be had in abundance everywhere by digging a few feet of ground, and every ablebodied man in a rural bustee knows and does his own well himself; still, however, the District Board is not idle now in alleviating the difficulty wherever there has been a little. In anticipation of sanction of detailed estimates by the Commissioner, work in dredging, deepening, and repairing has been begun in 12 old masonry wells in 12 rural villages in which water, having gone down, the wells are not supplying water sufficient for the demand.

Construction of a new masonry well 4 feet diameter has been taken in hand at Gunaigach in thana Ulipur. The people use the water of an old tank in which now there is very little water, and that also in filthy state.

Another new masonry well 6 feet diameter is approaching to completion in taluk Chhatna, in thana Dimla.

And lastly a batch of men is driving down tube-wells in villages in which some little difficulty of water had been known.

More in my next report which will follow shortly. There has been a good shower of rain this morning, and I believe there has been some water now in holes, hollows and channels for use of cattle. One or two more showers like this will do immense good in alleviating the water difficulty, if there had been a little anywhere.

No. 1514, dated Arrah, the 24th April 1896.

From—W. Egerton, Esq., Offg. District Magistrate, Shahabad.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Dept., Darjeeling.

With reference to Government Circular No. 22L.S.-G., dated the 2nd April 1896, and your telegram of the 20th instant on the subject of water-supply, I have the honour to report as follows.

1. There is no present apprehension of scarcity of water in this district, and no complaints have reached me as yet. The only tracts likely to be affected to some extent are parts of the Sasaram and Bhabua subdivisions, which are not commanded by the Sone Canal system. Tanks are not the sources of drinking water-supply in this district.

2. A large portion of the district is traversed by the Sone Canal system, the water of which is freely used for drinking purposes by the people, and the District Board has been from time to time improving the water-supply in the rural tracts by the cleansing of the existing tanks and wells and by the sinking of new wells along the sides of roads as well as in villages.

3. The District Board has allotted Rs. 3,000 for water-supply in the district during 1896-97, and estimates are being prepared for the construction of roadside wells by the District Engineer, which will absorb about Rs. 1,500 out of this. The Divisional Commissioner in his No. 152G.—Cir., dated 3rd April 1896, paragraph 6, has authorised the District Board to undertake works for the supply of water irrespective of budget provision up to a limit of Rs. 10,000; and in order to enable the District Board to take immediate action, if necessary, the Subdivisional Officers and the District Superintendent of Police have been instructed to report the name of any village where the present water-supply is deficient, or likely to become so. A meeting of the District Board has been called to consider the question, and in the meantime it is hoped that reports from subdivisions will be received. In addition to this I have written demi-officially to all Subdivisional Officers with regard to carrying out closely the instructions of Government contained in Government Circular No. 22L.S.-G., dated 2nd April 1896, and the instructions given by the Sanitary Commissioner as to the use of permanganate of potassium for disinfection of wells in his No. 452, dated 29th November 1895. Instructions have also been given to the Chairmen of the Dumraon and Jagdispur Municipalities on this subject, and indents for permanganate of potassium have been made both by the District Board and the Municipalities. The Subdivisional Officers and leading zamindars of the district have also been instructed to encourage well digging, where necessary, by private individuals.

The District Board fully recognises its liability to assist Government in combating such calamities, and, while watching the course of events closely, is willing to afford adequate relief as necessity arises.

4. Notices will be widely published in the district that loans will be readily given under the rules in force to individuals or to bodies of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally under the Land Improvement Loans Act for the construction of wells, tanks and other works for the storage, supply or distribution of water for the use of men and cattle employed in agriculture. Instructions to Subdivisional Officers on this subject have already issued.

5. The results of the enquiries which I have made from persons who know the district well and its requirements as to water-supply are reassuring.

As regards the town the water-works give a large supply of pure filtered water, and there is no indication of the supply being likely to run short—a calamity which could only occur in the event of the Sone river becoming unusually dry and sand banks forming in its bed.

As regards the district I agree with the District Engineer in thinking that the only places where failure of water-supply is possible are the non-irrigated tracts in the Sasaram and Bhabua subdivisions as above stated. As soon as I receive the reports from these subdivisions I shall know what action, if any, is required in these tracts. In the meantime the present scheme of the District Board for cleansing and repairing wells will be continued.

From—The Magistrate of Champaran,
To—The Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Financial Dept., Darjeeling.

With reference to your telegram dated the 20th instant, calling for a report regarding action taken by the District Board to meet anticipated scarcity of drinking-water, I have the honour to report that the District Engineer has been instructed to push on the work of cleaning out and repairing roadside wells, for which there is a provision of Rs. 2,500 in the budget for the current year, and to report if there is scope for more work of this kind or for sinking additional roadside wells. Inquiries were also instituted to ascertain whether there is any real scarcity of drinking-water in the villages, but so far no such scarcity has been reported, and from all I hear no distress on this account need be anticipated in this district. There was good rain here at the close of the rainy season such as was not got elsewhere, and the District Engineer informs me that the water level is only about 12 feet below the surface. Here and there some kutcha village wells and pools, used to supply water for cattle, are said to be drying up, but I have not heard of any village in which no source of water-supply is available. There are, of course, wells that the people want cleaned out, but this is the case every year, and they have been accustomed to arrange this for themselves. The people who suffer most are travellers; but, as has already been stated, the improvement of the water-supply along roads is being attended to.

2. With reference to the latter part of your telegram, I may inform you that the Subdivisional Officer of Bettiah had already been employed by me in rendering assistance in this matter.

No. 228G., dated Purnea, the 28th April 1896

From—J. H. Bernard, Esq., Collector of Purnea,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

In continuation of my letter No. 154G., dated 21st instant, I have the honour to submit my first weekly report as directed.

2. I learn from my Subdivisional Officers that there is not the slightest cause for anxiety as to the water-supply in this district. The Subdivisional Officer of Araria reports that "every household of ordinary means" has a ring-well of its own.

3. No complaints of scarcity of water have up to date been received.

No. 368 G., Camp Bakool Hát, the 22nd April 1896.

From—J. C. Price, Esq., Magistrate of Malda,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I have the honour to report in reply to your telegram of the 20th instant that the condition of the district in respect of water-supply has not become so accentuated that any action of the District Board is at all necessary, at any rate for the present. Not a single report of complaint of scarcity of water has as yet reached me, though I am touring at present in camp in the highest lands of the district, and the police have everywhere been warned to give me the earliest information of any apprehended scarcity of water. When the emergency arises, I will be prepared to act, if it is necessary, as Chairman, District Board, without the express sanction of my District Board, who, I must admit, have always been ready to sanction any action taken by me in anticipation of their confirmation. I will not, however, if it is at all necessary, trust to any other but local labour and local expedients. If the emergency arises (it has not arisen yet), I will dig the cheap wells used in times of drought in the country. I mean those excavated to a depth of 40 or 50 feet according to exigency, with sides encased in circular rings of pottery prepared by the country potters. Such wells will cost not more than Rs. 10 to Rs. 15; whereas Norton's tube-wells will cost four times as much. The wells will only be for temporary use; the people will not use them permanently, but will revert to the use of tanks as soon as the water-famine comes to an end. The excavation of tanks is a matter that bristles with difficulties: the owners will not make them over to the District Board for deepening and improvement; but wherever a tank can be re-excavated to redound to the public benefit, the Board will take the necessary steps. The re-excavation of tanks, however, will not prove of much profit this year, but it will in the next. What is necessarily engaging my earnest attention now is the anticipated water-famine of the present season. I may add that the subsoil water is not falling lower—rather rising. The rivers are slowly rising, apparently from the melting of the snows on the hills, and the subsoil water is found nearer the surface than it was last month. The re-excavation of the tanks in the English Bazar Municipality has proved this clearly.

2. To give you some idea of the features of the district, and to show you why a water-famine is not to be readily apprehended here, I will state here that there are five rivers which either bound or intersect the district; these are the Ganges on the west and south-west, with its numerous depressions (dobas in the vernacular), the Kalindri, the Mahananda, the Tangan, and the Purnabhaba on the eastern borders. More than half of the district is supplied with good potable water from these rivers. The barind or high lands between them or to the east of the Purnabhaba is honeycombed with the remains of old and disused tanks, dug in the time of a former dynasty: it may be Hindu, it may be Muhammadan. These old tanks are now being called into requisition; there is not a village which has not several of them. One or two in each village contain fairly good water. I am now using the water, and am fairly competent to speak on the subject. It is not clean; is muddy and discoloured; but when boiled and allowed to stand for a certain number of hours, it is quite good enough for drinking, and of course can be used without any harm accruing in the bath. On the whole the district is better off than most others in the matter of potable water; but if necessary, I shall be prepared to dig wells wherever wanted.

No. 344R., dated Dumka, the 27th April 1896.

From—R. Carstairs, Esq., Deputy Commissioner, Southal Parganas,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

In continuation of No. 263R. of 21st instant, I have the honour to report that prospects have, if anything, improved. There has been rain in parts of the district, and more is hoped for.

2. The Supervisor in charge is at present at Rajmahal, endeavouring to arrange for relief of the water-famine there, and I have authorised the digging out of a tank in that place.

Three wells are being taken in hand on the roadside from Dumka to Rampur Hát.

Money has been sanctioned from the ward's estate for repairs of reservoirs, and the same thing is being done in the Government estate of Damin-i-koh.

I have reason to believe that a good deal of work in the way of water-reservoirs is being done by private persons. One intelligent landlord, Babu Ram Charan Singh, ghatwal of Bamongwan in the Deoghur subdivision, who happened to be at Dumka on business, informed me that he has five bandhs in hand, which are estimated to cost about Rs. 2,000 in all. I have no reason to believe that he is the only one doing this, as I only heard of his work by accident.

3. I am still enquiring as to certain further proposals for water-works in the Government estates, and, if suitable works can be fixed on, will see them taken up.

4. From the reports of officers, I find that the people are in many places working to improve their supply of drinking-water. On the Godda side they do not, the Subdivisional Officer reports, care enough about wells to dig them, though they do not mind doing it if paid for the work. The reports leave on my mind a general impression that for the sake of fodder and ploughing, and of the mango crop, rain would be very welcome. It would also improve the drinking-water-supply both for cattle and for men: that, although short, is not yet so very short as to cause disease or urgent distress.

INSPECTION REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER ON THE CUTTACK MUNICIPALITY.

No. 1926M., the 5th May 1896.—The following report is published for general information, with the remark that the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Municipal Commissioners of Cuttack will be able to adopt a scheme for a filtered water-supply, and improve their system of drainage in the manner suggested by the Sanitary Commissioner.

H. H. RISLEY,

INSPECTION REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER ON THE CUTTACK MUNICIPALITY.

Status of the Municipality.—This is the largest and most important town in the Orissa Division, of which it is also the head-quarters. The area is 5 square miles, and the population 47,186, of whom 5,976 are rate-payers. The income of the Municipality during the last official year 1894-95 was Rs. 47,850, including an opening balance of Rs. 363, and the expenditure amounted to Rs. 39,690. The birth-rate during the year 1895 was returned at 23·94, and the death-rate at 26·95. The Civil Surgeon for some years now has been Chairman of the Municipality. Babu Ram Sankar Ray, a local pleader, is the Vice-Chairman.

2. Recommendation at the last Sanitary Inspection.—The last thorough sanitary inspection of the town was made in January 1887 by the then Sanitary Commissioner, Dr. Lidderdale, who wrote a long and useful note for the information and guidance of the Municipal Commissioners. The Municipality was also, I am informed, inspected by my predecessor, Dr. Gregg, in 1890, but I cannot find any record of his inspection either in the Sanitary Commissioner's office in Calcutta, or in the Municipal office at Cuttack. I can, therefore, only compare the condition of the town, as described by Dr. Lidderdale in 1887, with the state in which I found it on the 10th and 11th March 1896. Dr. Lidderdale said that the conservancy arrangements were, on the whole, very defective, and suggested the following improvements:—

(b) A fixed hour for the deposit of household refuse on the roadside.
(c) Removal of the piles of rubbish accumulations at the backs of houses, which was one of the most prominent insanitary features of the town.
(d) Wheel-barrows for the removal of sweepings from narrow lanes.
(e) Barrel carts for the removal of fluid house refuse from the most crowded localities.
(f) Prohibition of the collection within house premises of cowdung, and stricter control over private cattle-sheds situated within compounds.
(g) Removal of the pig-styes beyond municipal limits.

(h) More public latrines, and the substitution of masonry and Horbury's iron latrines, in place of the kutcha structures in use.

(i) Regular tarring of the walls, gumlas, and drains of the public latrines.

(k) Introduction of Part IX of the Municipal Act relating to the cleansing of private latrines by Municipal agency.

(l) Disposal of the night-soil in prescribed trenching grounds, and nowhere else.

(m) Management of trenching grounds according to the following method, viz., burial of the night-soil in trenches one foot deep, one foot wide, and a foot apart, and cultivation of the ground, with such crops as jute, indigo, rice, sugarcane, mustard, linseed, and English vegetables.

(n) Improvement of the slaughter-house by the provision of cross bars and pulleys for slinging heavy carcasses.

(p) Deeper burial of Muhammadan dead bodies, the chupper being at least 4 feet below the surface of the ground.

(q) Improvement of the water-supply by the reservation of tanks for drinking, and the removal of vegetation from the banks of the tanks.

(r) More public wells, and the experimental sinking of tube wells.

(s) Gradual conversion of the kutcha roadside drains into pucka shallow saucer-shaped ones, and the connection of house drains with the municipal channels, in order to provide an easy and good method of removing sullage water, which it is otherwise almost impossible to dispose of effectually.

(t) Prohibition of drain encroachments.

(v) Filling up of insanitary hollows with street sweepings.

3. Action taken on previous recommendation.—All these recommendations have been carried out with the exception of (h), (j), (m), (o), (q) and (s). In these cases, however, non-compliance has not been due to negligence or indifference on the part of the Municipal Commissioners, but to practical difficulty experienced in giving effect to the recommendations.

4. Public latrine.—In the matter of item (h), for instance, I find that the Municipality recognising the desirability of substituting Horbury's iron latrines for the kutcha mat structures in use, took steps to provide a few of the former, but finding the cost (Rs. 350 for a six-seated latrine, exclusive of freight) prohibitive, were obliged to give up the idea, and built two masonry latrines instead. The question of providing iron latrines was, however, revived the other day, on the appearance in the Calcutta Gazette of my inspection report on the town of Narainganj, which was published for general information by order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor. In that report I recommended mufassal municipalities of limited means to purchase a cheap sanitary iron latrine, which Mr. Donaldson, Superintendent of the Presidency Jail, has recently patented, and more recently modified in accordance with certain suggestions made by me, which, while they have in no way detracted from the utility of the latrine, have had the effect of cheapening the cost to Rs. 160 for six seats. This, it will be noticed, is less than half the price of Horbury's latrine. The Cuttack Municipality seeing my description of Donaldson's latrine in the Gazette, at once held a meeting to consider whether they should not purchase a few of them, and on my arrival in Cuttack I was met with an official communication from the Vice-Chairman of the Municipality informing me that it had been decided to purchase two of Donaldson's sanitary public latrines for experimental use in Cuttack. This is very satisfactory, as showing a real desire on the part of the local authorities to comply with practical suggestions. I feel sure that Donaldson's latrine, of which I attach a plan, if properly looked after, will be much appreciated by the people, and I hope the next time I inspect Cuttack, to see a number of them established in place of the 25 primitive kutcha, roofless, and obviously objectionable tatty latrines at present in use. I inspected the two masonry latrines, which have been constructed since Dr. Lidderdale's inspection, but cannot say that I was even tolerably satisfied with them. Being built of material which is porous, they soon get saturated with impurities, and are then almost impossible to keep clean and free from smell. I hope the Municipality will construct no more of these.

5. Standard plan for private latrines.—The next suggestion on Dr. Lidderdale's list which has not been complied with is (j). I do not understand why a standard plan of private latrine has not been prescribed. It is obviously desirable, and is a very simple matter. The present system of allowing the people to build latrines according to their varied fancies, which, for the most part, results in insanitary unsightly structures, difficult to clean out, is very undesirable, and should be prohibited. There should be two standard patterns of private latrines—one of a very cheap and simple design for the poorer classes, the other a more elaborate pattern for the better classes, who can afford, and would prefer to have, a better structure. When the standard patterns have been prescribed, the people should not be allowed to build private latrines of any other design, unless they can satisfy the Municipality that the structure they proposed to erect is better than the municipal pattern.

6. Trenching grounds.—With regard to the trenching of night-soil (item m), very little appears to have been done to improve the disgusting practice of deep pit disposal on the rive sands, which Dr. Lidderdale condemned, until Dr. Vaughan, the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner of the Western Bengal Circle, investigated the matter in February 1895 in consequence of complaints made to the Sanitary Department on the subject. He vividly pointed out the serious evils likely to result from the pitting system in the beds of rivers, which were the sources of the drinking water-supply of a considerable proportion of the inhabitants of the town; and the Municipality, then seeing the force of the argument, discontinued the practice and took up a piece of suitable land situated on the outskirts of the town, where, in addition to the Manisty garden ground, trenching is now carried on, though not as satisfactorily as I should like to see it done. I explained to Mr. Taylor, the Conservancy Inspector, who was with me, that the area reserved for trenching should be fenced in as strongly as possible, that the shallow or superficial system should be introduced, in accordance with the instructions given in my report on the Narainganj town, which has already been referred to in this note, and that a systematic effort should be made to cultivate the trenching ground, with the object of making it pay. In other Provinces most of the trenching grounds pay the cost of the entire conservancy establishment, and some of the best managed towns make a handsome profit from this source and the sale of street sweepings. In Amritsar, for instance, they made Rs. 40,000 last year, in Sialkote Rs. 10,000, and in Lahore Rs. 5,000. There is no reason why a profit should not, in the same manner, be made in Cuttack The difficulty, I was told, "is the extraordinarily strong prejudice of the people of Orissa against anything grown on trenching grounds." On investigating the matter, however, I discovered that the "extraordinarily strong prejudice" had reference only to vegetables, and to them only when sold at the trenching ground. The Uriya, I find, has no objection to buy trenching ground vegetables in the municipal or private markets: he only objects to purchase them at the trenching ground! I see no difficulty in taking the produce to the markets for sale. But there are other things besides vegetables that could easily and more profitably be grown on the trenching grounds, such as raggi, kotty, urid, linseed and Indian-corn (which, I believe, always, find a ready sale in the bazars), and especially tobacco, which I feel sure the Municipality would find a very remunerative crop. The tobacco I saw growing in and around Cuttack is not to be compared with the crops I have seen on trenching grounds elsewhere, and the Uriya, who, I believe, is an inveterate smoker, would soon discover the difference in favour of the latter. I have also seen very fine crops of Indian-corn growing on trenching grounds. If, however, this is ordinarily sold so cheaply in the open market that it is not worth the while of the Municipality to cultivate it as a source of profit, it might be grown as fodder for the conservancy bullocks, and thus a saving could be effected in their keep. The point I wish to emphasize is, that the trenching grounds should be turned to useful and profitable account, instead of being allowed to be fallow and lie waste, as at present. It will probably be up-hill work at first, but that should not discourage the Municipality in persevering in their efforts to convince the people of the great advantage of night-soil as a manure. My experience is that, in India, as in other countries, the strongest prejudice breaks down before the alluring influence of pecuniary advantage. Once convince the raiyat, agriculturist, or consumer that the produce of trenching grounds is of greater financial value than that of ordinary land, and the rest will be easy. The Manisty garden trenching ground of 5 acres, surrounded as it is by a protection wall, is an ideal place for experimental cropping, especially as there is water for irrigation purposes at hand. This ground should be partitioned out, and several kinds of crops should be grown on it, as object lessons to the people. I hope the Municipality will give these suggestions their early attention, and that I will have the pleasure, when I next visit Cuttack, of holding the trenching grounds up as a model to other municipalities. Mr. Taylor, the Conservancy Inspector, understands now what should be done, and I have no doubt will do his best to do it. I trust the Municipal Commissioners will give him every encouragement in the experiment. He complained of the destruction caused by the large number of rats that seem to infest the Manisty trenching ground, and asked me to suggest a means of exterminating them. The ordinary way, I believe, of killing rats is by a rat-trap, or by the employment of rat poison. These methods, however, are not only rather expensive, but often impracticable in large areas. I would, therefore, suggest the following simple and inexpensive plan being tried. Fill ordinary ghurrahs half full of water, and place them in the vicinity of the rat holes, providing each ghurrah with a ladder—a simple piece of wood three inches broad will do—so that the rats may be able to walk up it. They are thirsty animals and their nature being inquisitive, they will soon be attracted to the ghurrah. Curiosity will induce the rat to walk up the ladder, thirst will tempt him to reach down to the water, which should be just out of his reach, when losing his balance he will fall in and be drowned. His comrades will follow his example, especially when they hear him struggling inside and imagine he is having a good time, and the result will be speedy extermination of these pests. The plan is well worth trying, and I shall be glad if Mr. Taylor will see to it personally and report the result.

7. Interment in private burial-grounds.—The next of Dr. Lidderdale's recommendations which has not been carried out, is "the absolute prohibition of the burial of corpses in private burial-grounds" (item e). This has, however, been put a stop to as much as possible. It cannot, it appears, be absolutely prohibited because some families—a very few I was assured—have "a hereditary right" to bury their dead in their private ground. If the number of these families is infinitesimal, I can see no objection to the proper observance of the right which it is said they possess. But if this right is exercised to any considerable extent, I must join with Dr. Lidderdale in demanding its prohibition in the sanitary interests of the general community of the town. The point is one on which the Chairman of the Municipality should come to a decision, in communication with the Magistrate of the district, whose attention will be invited to the above remarks.

8. Water-supply.—Improvement of the water-supply (item q) is next on the list. The Municipality say they have not carried out Dr. Lidderdale's suggestions in this respect, because tanks are not used for drinking purposes, the people principally taking their water-supply from wells and the rivers Mahanadi and Kathjori, which flow past three sides of the town. More public wells have, however, been sunk in accordance with Dr. Lidderdale's advice, and the experiment of tube wells has also been tried, but these "were found not to answer, because the drive point could not pierce the hardness of the soil, which a few feet below the surface is laterite." I am not satisfied that the experiment received a proper trial, and rather suspect that there was some mismanagement in the operation of sinking the tube; but I do not wish to press the point, as there are other ways in which the water-supply of Cuttack may be improved. In November last, when the question came under consideration, the Municipality sent samples from the following sources, which

1. Kathjori river.
2. Gangamandi tank.
3. Peytonsahi tank.
4. Collectorate compound well.
5. Well in front of the Treasury.
6. Well in Chowdhury Bazar.

It appears from the tabular results of the analysis, which the Vice-Chairman showed me, that of the six samples, only the waters of the Kathjori river and the Peytonsahi tank (samples 1 and 3) are potable; the former more so than the latter. The Gangamandi tank (sample 2) is unfit for use, on account of an excessive quantity of albuminoid ammonia, chlorides and total solids, which indicate recent organic contamination. The Collectorate compound well water (sample 4 would be good if it were not for the nitrates and total solids being rather high, indicating old organic contamination. The water of the well in front of the Treasury (sample 5) is very suspicious, while that of the well in Chowdhury Bazar (sample 6) is completely unfit for human consumption. It will thus be seen that, with the exception of the Kathjori river, the water-supply of Cuttack is unwholesome. The practical question is, what can be done to improve it? If the wells were periodically disinfected and purified with permanganate of potassium, or alum, or quicklime, a very considerable improvement in the quality of the water would be the result. This, however, would only benefit a small section of the community. Those who take their water from the Mahanadi have a good and practically inexhaustible supply. Those who resort to the Kathjori are equally well off with regard to quality, though not as to quantity, because that river becomes a very limited supply after the rainy season, and is nearly dry during the hot months of April, May, and June, when a good and ample water-supply is most needed. Last year, for instance, the people were put to much inconvenience and want in this respect. It was necessary for their relief either that the shutter in the Naraj weir should be opened to allow more water to flow in, or that the shallow channel of the river should be deepened. The former course the canal authorities declined to accede to, as they said it would reduce the volume of water in the Mahanadi, and thus interfere with canal navigation and irrigation The Municipality had, therefore, to fall back upon the latter course, and applied to the Magistrate for help in preventing the water, in the first instance, from being polluted, but he could not give it, as the river was not within municipal limits. Application has since been made to the Government of Bengal to include the river within the municipal boundary. But this is not enough. Application should also be made through the Magistrate of the district to Government in the Public Works Department, Irrigation Branch, to whom a copy of this paragraph will be forwarded, to authorize the local canal authorities to allow the people in seasons of drought, a limited discharge of water through the Naraj anicut, the Municipality, if necessary, paying for the privilege.

These suggestions are made only on the understanding that it is a financial impossibility for the Municipality to carry out the filtered water-supply scheme, which the Sanitary Board have drawn up for them. That of course would be the most satisfactory solution of the difficulty, and considering the enormous advantages to be gained from a filtered water-supply, the Municipality should, before spending money in carrying out palliative suggestions, such as those made in this report, strain every effort to raise the 2½ lakhs which, I understand, are required for a filtered water-supply.

9. Drainage.—I now come to the last of Dr. Lidderdale's uncomplied-with suggestion, viz., the gradual conversion of the kutcha roadside drains into pucka shallow saucer-shaped ones, and the connection of house drains with the municipal channels, as being the most satisfactory way of disposing of sullage water, which is a source of anxiety to the authorities and a nuisance to the people. The Municipal Commissioners argue that the nature of the soil being sandy, kutcha drains are found to act very well, and that there is therefore no necessity to go to the expense of making them pucka. This is a fallacious argument and cannot be accepted. A sandy soil is porous, and what happens is that the drainage, including sullage water, and some liquid sewage, which undoubtedly finds its way into the drains, is not carried away, as is popularly supposed, but for the most, or at any rate, for a considerable part, sinks into the soil and is merely hidden from sight. There it is, and one of its injurious effects is an inevitable pollution of the tank and well water-supply by means of percolation. This is clearly indicated in the results of the water analysis dealt with in paragraph 8, which shows traces of old, as well as new, organic contamination. I am not going to recommend the Municipal Commissioners to provide a scientific drainage scheme, for the simple reason that I know they have not got, and cannot raise, the large sum of money that is necessary for the purpose, especially as there is a filtered water-supply and other pressing improvements to be thought of first; but what they can do, and what should certainly be done, is, as suggested by Dr. Lidderdale nine years ago, viz., a gradual conversion of the kutcha roadside drains into pucka shallow saucer-shaped ones, and the connection of side and house drains with those channels, in order that sullage water may be effectually removed by this means. This is a most important matter. As regards a suitable outfall, I am not in a position to advise, but doubtless the professional members of the Municipal Committee, or of the District Board, will be able to say how this can be arranged for. If not, the Sanitary Board will advise on being furnished with a map of the town with the necessary levels marked on it.

10. Vaccination.—Vaccination was just beginning to make headway when Dr. Lidderdale inspected Cuttack in 1887. It has since made considerable progress, and is now almost entirely performed direct from the calf. The people naturally prefer this system to the old arm-to-arm method, which was a source of annoyance to parents and guardians, and cruelty to the young vaccinifers. I am indebted to the Civil Surgeon, Dr. Meadows, for enabling me to inspect as many as 741 cases, which he had collected at very short notice. Of these, I found one to have been successfully vaccinated in 6 points, 372 in 4 points, 199 in 3 points, 119 in 2 points, and 44 in 2 points. Six cases were failures, and those which have less than 4 successful marks can scarcely be regarded as altogether protected against small-pox. The most remarkable feature in connection with this inspection was the very large number, about 80 per cent., of unvaccinated parents and guardians of the children examined who bore on their persons the disfiguring pit mark of an attack of small-pox. It says much for the growing belief in vaccination that these people should be eager, as they gave me the impression of being, to have their children thoroughly protected by the prophylactic of vaccination against the scourge of the disease which, from bitter personal experience, they have learnt to dread. Dr. Meadows tells me that there is not the slightest difficulty in getting people vaccinated in Cuttack. At first, from all accounts, they looked upon it as an inconvenient fad of the Sirkar's, but they have now come to see and realize the benefit which it confers, and not only submit to it without demur, but, as I have said, show an eagerness to be protected, which is eloquent testimony of the good work which the Vaccination Department is doing in a quiet way.

11. Credit for the improvements made.—I have very little more to say. It has already been remarked that there has been a great improvement in the sanitary condition of the town since Dr. Lidderdale's inspection in 1887. This is particularly noticeable in the conservancy system, the condition of the roads, the systematic reclaiming of insanitary hollows with road sweepings, the prohibition of insanitary practices, and the active prosecution of offenders against municipal rules and regulations. The credit for all this I learnt from both the European and native residents is principally due to the energy of the late Civil Surgeon and Chairman, Dr. Zorab, and to the thorough and conscientious manner in which the Conservancy Inspector, Mr. Taylor, does his work. Dr. Meadows, the new Civil Surgeon, seems to have taken up the Chairmanship of the Municipality with the same interest as his predecessor displayed, and I have no doubt that he will be able, with the aid of the Vice-Chairman, Babu Ram Sankar Ray, who is a young and energetic man, to effect further improvements during his tenure of office.

12. Objectionable arrangements under which articles of diet are sold, and insanitary condition along the water-line of the Kathjori river.—In addition to the several matters discussed in the preceding paragraphs, there are two things to which, in conclusion, I wish to invite the special attention of the Municipality. One is the insanitary and objectionable conditions under which articles of diet are sold, in what is called the Municipal Market. Most of the so-called stalls, nothing more than the bare ground, are located on the roadside! It is, I was told, proposed to erect a proper market. The sooner this is done, the better. The other matter is the fouling, by the practice of promiscuous defœcation, of the sands on the Puri side of the Kathjori river near the water's edge. The municipality, on trying to put a stop to this serious evil, found that they had no jurisdiction on the other side of the river, their control extending only to the water's edge—a varying line on the Cuttack side of the stream. The result of this absurd arrangement is, that the Cuttack people, and the large number of cartmen who encamp on the dry river bed, go over to the other side of the river by the carriage way, which has been constructed across it and commit nuisances by the water's edge, thus defiling the stream with impunity. I do not exaggerate when I say that there is scarcely a square yard of undefiled ground on the Puri district side of the stream within a hundred yards on both sides of the carriage track which crosses it. It is needless to remark that, besides creating an unpleasant smell, this practice is a danger to the people who draw their supplies of drinking water from the Kathjori river. For sanitary purposes therefore, if for no other reason, it is very desirable that the Cuttack Municipality should have control over the entire bed of the Kathjori river; application should, accordingly, be made at once to Government, through the proper channel of communication, to extend the boundary of the Cuttack Municipality up to the southern bank of the Kathjori.

Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 15th March 1896.

WEATHER AND CROP REPORT.

For the week ending the 4th May 1896.

Burdwan.—Rainfall at Sadar ·18. Weather hot. Heavy rain in parts of Kalna and Katwa has done much good. There is promise of more rain. Fodder sufficient. Prices stationary.

Midnapore.—Rainfall at Sadar ·08, Tamluk ·02, Ghatal ·37. Weather fairly hot, attended with occasional clouds and very strong winds. Rain is very badly wanted. Indigo reported to be withering. Scarcity of good drinking-water is felt in parts of Sadar, Ghatal, Daspur, Contai, Bahiri, and Basudebpur. Fodder is not sufficient in Sadar, Chandrakona and Ramjibanpur. Cattle-disease reported from several thanas. Common rice selling as follows:—

	Srs.

Dinajpur.—Average rainfall ·49. Weather cool and stormy. More rain wanted for bhadoi paddy and jute. Common rice sells from 15 to 16 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease. Fodder and water available

Rangpur.—Average rainfall 1·94. Weeding operations going on. Prospects seem good. Common rice selling from 12 to 15 seers per rupee. Fodder sufficient. Drinking-water not scarce.

Pabna.—Rainfall 3·36. Weather cool and cloudy. Rain has fallen generally and greatly benefited the crops, and removed the scarcity of water. Prospects favourable. Fodder available. Rice selling from 12 to 16 seers per rupee.

Dacca.—Rainfall 4·16. Weather cloudy and rainy with high wind. Prospects of jute and rice fair, but in Narayanganj considerably damaged by hailstones. Fodder available. No cattle-disease. Price of common rice 12 seers per rupee.

Chittagong.—Rainfall.6·74. Weather cloudy at times with strong winds. Rain has improved agricultural prospects. Sporadic cattle-disease reported. Water and fodder sufficient. Rice sells at 14 seers per rupee.

Patna.—No rain. Threshing and winnowing of rabi and weighment of opium completed. Cotton is being harvested. Millet and sugarcane are fair except in places where water is scarce. Small-pox among cattle in Bihar. Fodder sufficient except green fodder in Bihar. Water insufficient in places in Barh and Bihar. Common rice selling at 20 seers per rupee.

Gaya.—No rain. Sugarcane and cheena doing well. Price of common rice at Sadar 15 seers, against an average of 14¼ seers per rupee.

Champaran.—Weather unsettled, but no rain, though much wanted. Agricultural preparations continue, and rice being sown in places. Price of common rice at Sadar 17¼ seers, against normal 14¼ seers per rupee. Fodder and water sufficient.

Darbhanga.—Rainfall ·04. Weather occasionally cloudy. More rain still wanted for standing crops and for preparation of lands for bhadoi crops. Fodder sufficient. Common rice selling at 18 seers per rupee.

Bhagalpur.—No rain. Weather cloudy and cool at Sadar. East wind prevailing Indigo and sugarcane doing fairly well. Water-supply sufficient. Cattle-disease abating. Fodder scarce.

Purnea.—Rainfall at Sadar ·39. Sowing of jute and bhadoi and aghani rice proceeds. Rain still wanted. Some cattle-disease in thana Raniganj. Fodder scarce. Common rice sells from 17 to 20 seers per rupee.

Cuttack.—Rainfall ·41. Weather hot and cloudy. Harvesting of dalua (spring rice) nearly over. More rain badly wanted. Condition of cattle generally good. Fodder sufficient Common rice sells at—

				Srs.	c.
Cuttack	...	...	...	21	11	per rupee.
Jajpur	...	...	...	31	1
Kendrapara	...	...	...	28	0

Hazaribagh.—No rain. It is wanted for cultivation. Rice sells from 12 to 14 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—There was general rain in Bengal Proper during the week, the falls being heavy in the eastern districts and some of the northern districts. The rain has improved the agricultural prospects generally, and the cultivation of rice and jute crops is now going on. More rain is still badly wanted in parts of South-West Bengal, and in Bihar, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa which have had practically no rain. Spring rice is being harvested, but it has suffered for want of rain. Prospects of indigo in Midnapore and Murshidabad are said to be poor. In Bihar sugarcane and millets are doing fairly well. There is cattle-disease in Midnapore, Khulna, Patna, and Purnea. The heavy rain has removed the scarcity of water to some extent, but it is still felt in parts of Midnapore, 24-Parganas, and Khulna. The price of common rice is generally steady.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

o, overcast; g gloomy; d drizzling rain; t, thunder; ≤ lightning; w strong wind; l lightning reflection.

Rupees 6 extra will be required from each student for each course of dissections. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

Muhammadan students are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance and half-fee, i.e., Rs. 17-8 per session. The remaining half-fees are charged to the Mohsin Fund.

4. No free presentations will be awarded at the beginning of the session, but the fees shall be refunded to the ten students who pass highest in all subjects at the end of their first year of study.

5. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professor of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following :—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject in one year ...	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice	60

6. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a medical school in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or, in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

7. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College who wishes to attend any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in paragraph 5. If he has passed the Entrance examination of the University, he shall receive certificates of attendance at lectures. If he has not passed the Entrance examination, he shall receive no class certificates.

8. At the end of their first year, students will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Chemistry, and Botany. Those who gain not less than 20 per cent. in two subjects, and not less than 15 per cent. in a third, will be eligible for promotion to the second-year class. Those who fail to gain the aforesaid percentage of marks, will not be eligible for promotion, but will go through the first-year class again.

9. Students of the second-year will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and Materia Medica. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. in two subjects and 15 per cent. in a third will be entitled to go up in the following March or April for the Preliminary Scientific Examination of the Calcutta University, the subjects of which are Chemistry and Botany. Those who (after passing the College test) fail at the University examination will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year class, at the end of which, the former will have to present themselves, as at present, for the combined Preliminary Scientific and 1st L.M.S. (or 1st M.B.) examination.

10. Those students who fail at the College test examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific examination, but will be encouraged to do so in order to get that stage over ; but whether they pass or fail at the University examination, they will be relegated for a further year to the second-year class, provided that those who pass the University examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

11. Students of the third year will present themselves for the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination of the Calcutta University. Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year class.

12. Students of the first, second, or third-year class who fail a second time, at the same stage, to gain promotion to the next higher class, will be removed from the College, and will not be entitled to readmission.

13. Students of the fourth-year class will be required to pass a College test examination in Surgery, Medicine, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. of the marks in three subjects and 15 per cent. in a fourth, will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail, will be relegated to the fourth-year class for a further year. The examination in Surgery and Medicine will be both theoretical and clinical ; but those students who can obtain from the Visiting Surgeon or Physician, to whose wards they have been attached, a certificate that they have really profited by their instruction in either subject, will be excused the clinical examination in that subject.

14. Students who fail at the 2nd L.M.S. or 2nd M.B. examination will have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the regulations of the University.

15. The Principal will determine the maximum number that may be admitted to the first-year class. Students who have failed at the test examination of the first year will have a prior claim to readmission over new students.

16. Students readmitted to a class after failure at the test examination will be required to pay the full fees for the session. Those, however, who, after failing either at the Preliminary Scientific examination or at the final examination, have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they failed, shall be required to pay for such lectures, a fee of Rs. 40 for one subject, Rs. 60 for two, and Rs. 70 for three Exceptions to this latter rule may be made in special cases by the Director of Public Instruction on the recommendation of the Principal.

17. College prizes and certificates of honour are open for competition to matriculated students of the College, military medical pupils, and female certificate classes. College scholarships (vide paragraph 18) are awarded only to matriculated students of the College.

18. Junior scholarships of Rs. 8 per mensem and free tuition for one year are annually awarded to ten students of the second year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the first year.

Scholarships of the same value are awarded to ten students at the commencement of their third year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their second year, provided they have passed either the Preliminary Scientific L. M. S. or M. B. examination.

Ten senior scholarships of Rs. 12 per mensem and free tuition are awarded annually to students at the commencement of their fourth year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their third year, provided they have passed either the 1st L. M. S. or 1st M. B. examination. These scholarships are tenable for two years, provided the holder passes creditably the Test and Honour examinations at the end of his fourth year. In the event of any scholarship being forfeited under this condition, it may be awarded for one year to any student of the fifth year who has fulfilled the conditions and is not the holder of any scholarship These scholarships shall not be awarded to students who have gained the Durga Charan Laha scholarship of Rs. 30 per mensem or any other scholarship.

Students who from any cause fail to pass their University examinations at their first chance are not eligible for any of these scholarships, either junior or senior.

19. The Goodeve scholarship of Rs. 12 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded to a matriculated student of the fifth year, on the result of the Midwifery test examination of the fourth year.

The F. C. Chatterjee scholarship of Rs. 15 per mensem, tenable for a year, is annually awarded to the best matriculated student of Native Indian extraction, and whose conduct is certified to be good, in histology at the end of the fourth year. The examination takes place in June each year.

The Abdul Gunny scholarship of Rs. 22 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded at the end of the fourth year to the best matriculated student in all subjects at the class examinations of the first to fourth year, inclusive. The award is made in May.

The Duke of Edinburgh's prize is awarded to the best in Surgery among the matriculated students at the end of the fourth and fifth years. The examination takes place in December or January.

The Bhola Nath Bose's prize of Rs. 40 is awarded to the fourth-year matriculated student who proves himself to be the most successful at bedside diagnosis of disease, in Surgery and Medicine in alternate years. The award is made in January.

A gold medal and certificates of honour are awarded to the best students in each subject at the Test and Honour examinations.

The Goodeve and Macnamara silver medals are awarded to the best of the first-year native students in Anatomy and Chemistry respectively, on the result of the Test and Honour examinations.

A prize in Clinical Medicine is awarded annually to the best clinical clerk of the fourth and fifth year matriculated students. This examination takes place in February.

A prize in Clinical Surgery is awarded annually to the best clinical dresser of the fourth and fifth year matriculated students. This examination will be held in February.

The Rivers Thompson silver medal is annually awarded to the best Muhammadan student who passes the final L M. S. or M. B. examination of the Calcutta University.

The Lady Rivers Thompson prize of Rs. 50 is awarded to the lady-student who obtains the highest number of marks at the final examination.

No student shall be allowed to compete for a prize when attending a course in excess of the number prescribed in the College curriculum.

20. College scholars, who receive less than Rs. 20 per mensem, are not required to pay Rs. 30 per session. All other scholars shall pay fees as matriculated students. These may pay their fees in advance, or have their scholarship money deducted till the full amount is received.

21. Any student holding a Medical College scholarship (paragraphs 9 and 10) will be permitted to draw the stipend of that scholarship at any recognized medical school in the United Kingdom, provided he furnishes from the head of such school a certificate of good conduct and diligence. These College classes are recognized by all the medical schools in the United Kingdom.

22 The class assistants to the Professors of Pathology and Comparative Anatomy will each receive a salary of Rs. 10 monthly.

(1) Test examinations at the end of the—

1st year.

(a) Military pupils who obtain less than 10 per cent. of marks in one subject to be "warned" and informed that failure in the same subject at the end of the second year will entail liability to removal from College.

(b) Pupils who fail as above in two subjects will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness and will be re-examined two weeks before the commencement of the next session. Failure then in obtaining 15 per cent. of marks in either of the subjects will entail liability to removal.

(c) Pupils who fail to get 10 per cent. as above in three subjects will be removed from the College as being unlikely to succeed eventually.

(2) Pass examinations at the end of the—

2nd year.

(a) Military pupils who obtain less than 20 per cent. of marks in one subject will, if practicable, attend lectures on this subject, and be re-examined at the end of the next session. Failure again in the same subject will render pupils liable to removal.

(b) Pupils who fail in two subjects will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness, and will, if practicable, attend lectures on these subjects, and be re-examined at the end of the next session. Failure in either subject will entail liability to removal.

(c) Pupils who fail to attain the standard in three subjects will be removed from the College.

(3) Pass and Test examinations at the end of the—

3rd year.

(a) Pupils who fail to obtain 20 per cent. of marks in either or both of the final subjects for the third year (viz., Hygiene and Pathology) will lose 200 conduct marks, and be re-examined at the end of the next session.

(b) Pupils who do not obtain 10 per cent. of marks in any of the test examinations (the other subjects) will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness for each subject in which he so fails.

(4) Pass examinations at the end of the—

4th year.

(a) Pupils who obtain less than 20 per cent. of marks in all subjects of their final examination will be liable to removal from the College. Such pupils will, however, be allowed to remain for a further period (to be fixed by the Principal in each case, in the College to continue their studies at their own expense.

31. FEMALE CERTIFICATE CLASS.

Lady students must be over 17 years of age before commencing their studies.

They must have passed the Entrance examination of the Calcutta University or an examination officially recognized by that University as equivalent to the Entrance examination. (The certificate of matriculation of the Melbourne University will be accepted.)

New students are expected, at latest, to enter formally and commence attendance at the College when the session opens on 15th June.

The duration of the course will be four years.

Tuition will be free.

32. Students, preferably native ladies, may reside in the Sornomoye Hostel. Applications for residence to be made to the Lady Superintendent of the Hostel, or to the Secretary to the Countess of Dufferin Branch Committee.

Pass examinations in Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery.

Students who are successful are entitled to receive the certificate of the College qualifying them to practise Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery. A fee of Rs. 10 is charged for each certificate.

34. The following rules will be observed in regulating advancement from class to class:—

(1) Test examination at the end of the first year.—If a student obtains less than 10 per cent. of the marks in any two out of three subjects of examination, she shall not be allowed to continue in the College.

(2) Pass examinations at the end of the second and third years—In order to pass, a student must gain 33 per cent. in each subject of examination. If a student fails in any two of the three subjects, or, failing in one subject only, if she gains less than 25 per cent. in that subject, she shall be put back for one year. If she fails in one subject only, gaining 25 per cent. or more in that subject, she shall be promoted to the next class, but will be required to submit to re-examination in that subject, in addition to the examination in the regular subjects, at the end of the following year. She will be permitted to attend lectures on the subject in which she has failed. Failure on re-examination will carry the same penalty as original failure.

(3) Pass examination at the end of the fourth year.—The same rules as apply to the previous pass examinations, with the exception that if a student, failing in one subject only, gains 25 per cent. in that subject, she will be referred back to her studies for a period of six months, at the expiration of which, she will be entitled to re-examination, after furnishing proof of having attended hospital practice during that period.

35. Female students who have not passed the Entrance or its equivalents, will be admitted into the Eden Hospital to learn midwifery. These will receive Rs. 20 per mensem. After a year's tuition and bedside practice, if found proficient, they will obtain a certificate qualifying them to practise midwifery. The fee for each certificate is Rs. 5.

36. Female students who have not passed the Entrance or its equivalents, but who read and write Bengali, can be admitted in the Eden Hospital as pupil dais. Of these, eight will receive Rs. 6 per mensem and the rest will be taught free. After 12 months' tuition and bedside practice, if found proficient, they will obtain a certificate qualifying them to practise midwifery.

37. All certificates are to be registered in the Principal's office.

Notice under Rule 19, Part I, Section 2.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lease of the land specified in the schedule hereunto annexed, and of which the plan is open to inspection at the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, has been applied for by Bhoot Nath Bose and another, and will be sold at 12 o'clock noon on the 3rd August 1896, Monday, the 20th Sraban 1303 B.S, at the Sundarbans Commissioner's Office at Alipur, unless meantime the sale is stopped or postponed in consequence of claims or objections under Act XXIII of 1863 (to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands), or owing to any other cause.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general terms annexed to the rules for the sale of the leases of the waste lands in the Sundarbans of the 24-Parganas, Khulna, and Backergunge, dated the 12th November 1879:—

Conditions.

That the land shall be subject to all existing rights-of-way and water and other easements.

That the right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of a towpath not less than 25 feet in width on each side of every such stream and channel.

That no charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land. But for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied at such rate and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by Government.

That the Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals on the land, together with such rights-of-way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals. It also retains its proprietary right in the land, and only confers on the lessee an occupancy right, which shall be hereditary and transferable.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Rajshahi, will be put up to sale at the Rajshahi Collectorate on the 26th June 1896, corresponding with 13th Asher 1303 (B.S.)

The purchaser will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchaser to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Bankura, will be put up to sale on the 26th June 1896, at 12 noon, corresponding with 13th Jaistha 1803 B.S.

The purchaser will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the right conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchaser to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issueof advertisement, as in the case of original sale:—

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

All the wanting parts of the INDIAN LAW REPORTS (complete series) having now been reprinted, the complete Reports from 1876 to 1893 may be purchased for all the years, or for any particular year, on application to the Officer in charge of the Bengal Secretariat Book Depot.

The subscription, Rs. 22-8 per annum, should be remitted in advance to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat.

Notice.

IT is hereby notified, for general information, that subscription to the complete series of the Indian Law Reports should be registered during the first three months of each calendar year. Subscribers are therefore requested to send in their subscriptions of the complete series before the 31st March in each year. Those who register their names after that date will understand that copies will be supplied only if available.

THE following Weather Reports of the Bengal Meteorological Department, issued by orders of the Government of Bengal can be supplied to the public at the prices annexed:

1*st*.—Bay of Bengal Daily Report, giving meteorological observations taken at 28 stations on or near the coast of the Bay, with a chart and summary. This is published in connection with the Bay of Bengal Storm Signal Service. The report giving 8 A.M. observations of the day is distributed by peon in Calcutta soon after 11 A.M. Price to subscribers in Calcutta Rs. 2 per mensem.

2*nd*.—Bengal Daily Report, containing observations taken at 48 meteorological stations in Bengal and Assam, and transmitted to Calcutta by weather telegrams, with a brief summary of the weather in Bengal during the preceding 24 hours. The report giving the 8 A.M. observations of each day is printed in time for the evening mail, and is distributed to subscribers in Calcutta the same evening. This report for the present is only published during the south-west monsoon, i.e., from about May 15th to November 15th, or thereabouts. Price Rs. 2-8 per mensem including postage.

3*rd*.—A Weekly and Monthly Statement of Meteorological Observations taken at 49 observing stations, and of rainfall recorded at 276 subdivisional and other stations, together with summaries of the more important features of the meteorology of the past week or month of the province, and of the distribution of the rainfall and its variation from the normal. Price of the Weekly Report, including postage, Rs. 6 per annum, payable in advance, and of the Monthly Summary Rs. 2 per annum, payable in advance.

Subscriptions payable to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal, 5, Russell Street, Calcutta, for the Bay of Bengal Daily Report, and to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat, for the other reports.

ALEX. PEDLER,
Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the terms for the purchase of publications from the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt except for Government offices or offices under the control of Government Officers are strictly cash, and on no other terms will any publication be supplied, or advertisement, notice, &c., inserted in either of the Gazettes.

In the case of insolvency notices, cash must be sent with such notices when forwarded by Mofussil courts or offices, and for those forwarded by the Official Assignee cash must be paid on presentation of memorandum of cost by the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat.

Remittances in postage stamps should be accompanied by an addition of one anna in the rupee on account of discount.

☞ Applications for Acts of the Bengal Legislative Council required on the public service should be addressed to the REGISTRAR, Office of the Legislative Department, Government of Bengal.
